Attorney General Flays Wallace

Clark Declares 'Lies' Are Being Told In Europe

Calls For Passage Of Greek-Turk Loan

WASHINGTON, April 15—(AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark, in a cabinet-level rejoinder to Henry Wallace, denounced as a "lie" tonight any assertion that this country "is committed to ruthless imperialism and war with the Soviet Union."

Without mentioning Wallace by name but leaving no doubt where his words were directed, the Attorney General said the American People must not be swayed by "the cheap, blundering assault now being made" against President Truman's policy of aiding Greece and Turkey against Communism.

"One who tells the people of Europe that the United States is committed to ruthless imperialism—and war with the Soviet Union—tells a lie," Clark said in the advance text of a speech released at the Justice Department.

Makes Jefferson Day Speech

The speech was prepared for delivery to Democrats at a Jefferson Day dinner in Philadelphia. Clark conferred with President Truman yesterday, leading to speculation that his address might be the official administration reply to Wallace.

However, Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters that so far as he knows, Clark did not submit the speech to the President. Clark called urgently for passage now by Congress of the $400,000,000 aid program President Truman has asked to help Greece and Turkey.

That, he said, will let the world know that America is as determined in her purposes as were the Concord patriots who fired the shot "heard round the world" at the start of the war for independence.

That also, he said, will answer those "who would attempt to exploit the respect paid to the high office they formerly occupied."

"Our position is crystal clear," he said. "Such exploitation is not only bad taste, it is bad Americanism."

The advance text did not contain Wallace's name, but there was no mistaking Clark's target.

Wallace stirred up a controversy that still is at white heat by telling a Manchester, Eng., audience last Saturday that the Greek-Turkish program embarks the United States on "ruthless imperialism" and points the country toward war with Russia.

The White House attitude, as relayed by Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross, is that Wallace is touring Europe as a private citizen, speaking only for himself.

Want Wallace Censured

Clark's rebuke, strong as it was for an ex-fellow cabinet member, was not hotter than some others which have sounded in Congress. There is some Capitol Hill talk about a move to have Congress censure Wallace.

The Senate continued its debate, with Senator Lucas (D-Ill) complaining:

"I think every Senator has his mind made up, yet here we go on, day after day, and delay the vote on one of the most important decisions ever to come before Congress."

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), presiding, said "the time pressure on us cannot be ignored" and that further delay surely would mean "deterioration" of the situation abroad.

Senator Taylor (D-Idaho), an opponent of the program, blocked an attempt by Lucas to set a 1 p. m. EST voting time tomorrow on the pending business. This is an amendment by Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) to eliminate provision for even limited military assistance.

"It's a Falsehood"

Clark said of the "ruthless imperialism" cry raised by Wallace:

"It is a most cruel falsehood," Clark said, "because it reveals an utter lack of understanding or appreciation of the American way of life."

"As in Jefferson's time, however, this is no time for hysteria. It is a time for clear thinking.

Schwellenbach Says He Will Fight Phone Company, Union

Senate Committee Tones Labor Bill Down, Wraps It Up

Formal Approval Is Expected Thursday

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—The Senate Labor Committee today again toned down its general labor bill regulating strikes and unions and wrapped it up to await expected formal committee approval probably Thursday.

A coalition of Democrats and Republicans once more over-rode Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) and by a 7 to 6 vote ripped from the bill a provision limiting industrywide bargaining. But Taft succeded by a one-vote majority in keeping the legislation in one piece. The minority sought to split it into three bills.

Debate Expected Monday

Taft said the bill may be called up for Senate debate Monday and that efforts will be made to reinstate the eliminated sections by amendment then.

Although softened in marked degree, the measure is a broad departure from present federal labor practices. The house opened debate on another omnibus labor bill stronger in many particulars but similar in others.

Rep. Leo Allen (R-Ill) chairman of the House Rules Committee, told his colleagues in a speech that the house measure "is a bill of rights for the laboring man, to protect him from exploitation by employers and from encrochments on his individual rights by labor unions."

Allen said the bill, product of many weeks of work by the House Labor Committee, fulfills a Republican Party pledge to meet the problem of industrial strife.

A Democratic minority on the House Labor Committtee called it "a union busting" measure. It was approved by a bipartisan majority.

GOP Has Votes

A number of Democrats conceded the Repubilcans had plenty of votes to pass it overwhelmingly. Approval by Friday is expected. Main Democratic strategy is expected to be devoted to an attempt to substitute a bill carrying out President Truman's proposal for a commission to study the whole labor field and propose new laws.

Republican leaders are claiming more than a 2 to 1 majority, which would be sufficient to overthrow a Presidential veto.

In the main, the House Bill would ban many kinds of strikes; provide a formula to combat those effecting national welfare; prohibit most cases of industrywide bargaining; outlaw the closed shop in which only union members can be hired, and restrict many union practices.

Germans Toss Grenade At Group Of Soldiers

FRANKFORT, Germany, Wednesday, April 16 (AP)—U. S. Army and German police early today started one of the biggest manhunts in the Frankfort area since the end of the war in search of attackers who tossed a hand grenade among a group of American soldiers just before midnight.

Road blocks were set up in a lonely wooded area near the Rhein-Main airbase as police sought the occupants of what was believed to be a German automobile.

When the grenade landed on the highway where the soldiers apparently were seeking to hitch-hike a ride, the Americans "hit the dust," a military police officer said. They escaped injury.

Naval Fire Reported

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—The Navy received word tonight that fire had broken out at the ordnance investgiation laboratory in nearby Maryland, on the Potomac River below Washington.

Strike Settlement Formula Rejected

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach promised a "fight" tonight after both sides had rejected his formula for peace in the nationwide telephone strike.

He gave no inkling of any intention to seize the industry, but scored both sides and called for public pressure on company and union to settle.

Schwellenbach said in a radio (ABC) broadcast that the two parties forgot that they are "in a public utility industry." He criticized them sharply for rejecting "a fair proposal" and called for pressure from the public to persuade them to take it.

Says He Will Fight

"I do not propose to accept this rejection without putting up a fight for my proposal," he said, and appealing directly to the public, he added:

"Whether or not I succeed in that fight is going to depend upon you.

"I made the proposal on behalf of the American people and I am asking you who want telephone service, and who pay the telephone bills, to demand of each side that they accept the proposal which I made."

Schwellenbach said both sides had resorted "to legalistic tactics in the rejection of my proposal."

The striking National Federation of Telephone Workers turned the Secretary's proposal down outright and demanded a general pay raise as a basis for any settlement. The Bell System Companies proposed 13 modifications of his plan including regional instead of national arbitration and protection for the company against retroactive pay raise for which they could not raise rates.

Referring to the public utility nature of the telephone industry Schwellenbach said:

"The health and the safety and the welfare of the people of the United States depends upon the constant maintenance of that industry.

"Overlook Facts"

"The constant argument of the representatives of the company was that they were subject to regulation by state commission. They overlook the fact that the reason they are regulated is that they have a monopoly and that no competition can bring down the prices which they charge. The company has insisted that its position be maintained in order that it might be able to increase the cost of telephone service to the people of the United States.

"The leaders of the labor union, completely overlook the fact that because they are working for a public utility which must be maintained constantly, they unlike the workers in many industries, are not subject to a two-or-three months layoff."

300 New Maryland Laws Are Expected

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 15—(AP)—When Governor Lane finishes work tomorrow, it is expected that Maryland will have approximately 300 new laws.

The Governor will start signing bills passed by the House which have been examined by himself, the Attorney General and his assistants, as well as by the Secretary of State.

Assistant to the Governor Louis J. O'Donnell disclosed today the governor might still want a hearing on some of the measures before signing or vetoing them.

He said about a dozen measures had been withdrawn from the pile of 701 bills remaining to be acted on. These will be the subject of further consultation and possibly of hearings.

The Chief Executive has signed 316 acts and vetoed one, the latter a minor measure prohibiting certain Wicomico County officials from practicing law.

The governor will start putting his signature to the measures at 10 a. m. tomorrow. Whether he will reach the 300 mark is questionable. It is not likely he will get beyond that.

According to custom, the titles of the measures are read and the governor and officials of both Houses and the General Assembly then sign the acts.

Coal Production Up To 90 Per Cent

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—The Coal Mines Administration estimated soft coal production at 90.4 per cent of normal today.

The agency said 4,226 mines east of the Mississippi, employing 327,290 men, will produce 2,142,443 tons of coal during the day.

The estimate of idle mines west of the Mississippi was 316, employing 38,579 men, and resulting in a day's loss of 228,638 tons.

The agency said that an average of six per cent of the mines are idle every day for one cause or another.

Truman Asks Ban On Arms Shipment To Troublemakers

Seeks Revision Neutrality Act

WASHINGTON, April 15—(AP)—President Truman asked Congress today for revision of the Neutrality Act to empower the government to ban arms shipments destined for any international "troublemaker."

He said in a special message that the government must be free to act "in accordance with our position in the United Nations" and to adapt the export of American weapons to "changes in the international situation."

Expires June 30

In effect, he was asking continuance of authority the government already has. Power to permit or deny arms exports is contained in the 1940 Export Control Act, which is due to expire June 30.

Mr. Truman proposed that Section 12 of the Neutrality Act, be rewritten to incorporate the expiring authority and also to set up a "more flexible and efficient" administration by the existing National Munitions Control Board.

Unless the neutrality is revised, the President said, the Secretary of State will again as before 1940 be required to "treat aggressor and aggrieved, peacemaker and troublemaker equally" by granting all requests for arms exports except where such shipments would violate a treaty.

This principle of impartiality was written by Congress into the Neutrality Act during the heated pre-Pearl Harbor controversy over means of keeping the United States out of war. The act was rewritten in 1935, 1937 and 1939.

"Not Consistent"

"Such a provision of law is no longer consistent with this country's commitments and requirements," Mr. Truman said.

"We have committed ourselves to international co-operation through the United Nations. If this participation is to be fully effective this government must have control over traffic in weapons which will permit us to act in accordance with our position in the United Nations and will be adaptable to changes in the international situation."

One Miner Killed In Slate Fall

PT. PLEASANT, W. Va., April 15. (AP)—One miner was killed instantly and another was critically injured today when a heavy slate fall occurred in the new (No. Six) mine of the West Virginia Coal and Transportation Company at West Columbia near here.

The accident occurred at 4:26 p. m., just four minutes before the end of the shift when the men would have left the mine, Company Secretary R. J. Williamson said.

Daniel Hysell, 45, of Rutland, O., was killed instantly, and O. J. Jenks, 48, of Vinton, O., suffered a fractured leg and other injuries and is reported in a critical condition in a Gallipolis, O., hospital.

Wayne King, 51, of Pomeroy, O., just across the Ohio River, escaped with only minor injuries.

DAR To Get Heat

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—President Truman today signed a bill authorizing the Federal Works Agency to furnish heat for the American Revolution building in Washington.

The DAR will pay for connecting its heating system with the government plant and will pay for the heating service.

'Bombshell' Sets Record In Round-The-World Trip

Reduces Hughes Mark By 12 Hours

NEW YORK, April 16—(Wednesday)—(AP)—The Reynolds globe-circling "Bombshelll" streaked across La Guardia field at 12:06:30 a. m. (EST) today and two minutes later set its nose down on the runway for a new unofficial record of 78 hours and 55 minutes.

Piloted by youthful William Odom, veteran of the Burma hump flying and owned by Milton Reynolds, 54-year old Chicago pen manufacturer, the huge, converted A-26 attack bomber sliced Howard Hughes' previous unofficial record by 12 hours and 29 minutes.

Hughes had set the record in 1938 with a monoplane. His record was 91 hours and 14 minutes.

Left Saturday

When Reynolds left La Guardia field at 5:11 p. m. (EST) last Saturday, he said he hoped to complete the world-circling flight in 55 to 60 hours. But minor mechanical difficulties and extra halts along the route made the goal unattainable.

As Reynolds, Odom, and the third crewman, T. C. Sallee, flight engineer, stepped from the cockpit of the plane onto the right wing, crowds at the field broke through police lines to greet the fliers.

All three were taken up in the crowd and smeared with kisses from the feminine well-wishers before the way could be cleared for a reunion by Reynolds and his wife Edna, Odom and his wife, and Sallee and his bride-to-be, 19-year-old Patricia Houlihan of Cody, Wyo.

Finally free of the mob, the men posed for pictures. Reynolds appeared newly-shaved, but Sallee and Odom, 28, were bearded. They were haggard but happy.

A friend stepped up to Reynolds and asked:

"Here's your wife. Don't you remember her."

Reynolds quickly kissed her, then flung his arms around Odom and told newsmen::

"He is the best pilot in the world. We would not have made it with any one else."

But Odom shook off the praise, interrupting Reynolds to say:

"No, none of that. It was just a routine flight that all airlines will be making in a few years."

Longer Trip

The route followed by the "Bombshell" was about 5,200 miles longer than Hughes' path. Hughes flew over European Russia and Siberia but the Soviet Union declined to permit Reynolds to use a similar route, explaining that its reconstruction problems were so great it did not have the technicians to service the flight.

The record-setting plane made nine stops, three more than originally planned. The extra halts and minor mechanical difficulties made its original goal of 55 hours unattainable.

Stops were made at Gander, Nfld.; Paris; Cairo; Karachi; Calcutta; Shanghai; Tokyo; Adak, Alaska and Edmonton.

Jew Agency Asks Palestine Opening By United Nations

Appeals To Special Session For Action

By MAX HARRELSON

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 15 (AP)—The Jewish Agency, official voice of Palestine Jews, appealed to the United Nations today to open Palestine immediately to Jewish immigration and thus avert "a new catastrophe."

Sets Forth Position

The agency set forth its position in a statement demanding that the forthcoming special session of the General Assembly in New York take an interim decision directing Britain "to reopen Palestine to Jewish immigration on a scale commensurate with present needs."

"Further delay may mean a new catastrophe for a people that suffered as no other in the war," the agency said. "It is imperative that the General Assembly act quickly and firmly."

The statement was approved at a continuing meeting of the American section of the Jewish agency executive which was named in Palestine last month to direct its strategy in New York.

Consideration of the agency's demands would inject into the special session a major question of principle, which was not anticipated either in Britain's request for the extraordinary meeting or in Secretary-General Trygve Lie's formal call to the 55 nations to be here by April 28.

Restriction Planned

It had been planned to restrict the session to the creation of a special committee of inquiry to assemble facts as spadework for action on the problem itself at the regular meeting of the assembly.

The Jewish Agency, in calling for action to lift immigration restrictions, said this would "serve as an immediate test of the significance of the forthcoming session."

Hoess Is Hanged

OSWIECIM, April 15 (AP) — Rudolph Hoess was hanged today on the gallows he used to kill some of the 4,000,000 persons put to death while he was the war-time commandant of the Oswiecim (Auschwitz) Extermination Camp.

Visit Is Apparent Effort To Salvage Big-4 Council

British Hang Jewish Head In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM, Wednesday, April 16 (AP)—An official announced today that Dov Bela Gruner and three other convicted members of the Jewish underground were hanged at Acre Prison at dawn.

They were the first Jewish extremists to be executed in Palestine since the hanging of Shlomo Ben Youssef in August, 1938.

Only a short time before the executions British Military authorities clamped a rigid security ring on most Jewish quarters in Palestine, putting approximately 400,000 Jews under close house arrest.

Gruner, a 33-year-old veteran of the British Army, was sentenced to die by a British Military Court which convicted him Jan. 1 of participating in a Jewish underground raid on the Ramat Gan police station last April 23. Two policemen were killed in the raid and Gruner himself was wounded and captured.

A member of the underground organization, Irgun Zvai Leumi, Gruner claimed he was a prisoner of war and should be treated as one. He refused to make any appeals from his death sentence and pleas carried to other courts and to the privy council in London, Britain's highest court, by others all were rejected.

His sister, Mrs. Helen Friedman of Lancaster, Pa., flew here from the United States several weeks ago in a desperate effort to aid in the legal fight to save her brother's life.

Irgun Zvai Leumi leaders have declared that Gruner would be hon-

Kremlin Meeting Lasts 90 Minutes

MOSCOW, April 15 (AP)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall talked with Prime Minister Stalin for about 90 minutes behind the closed gates of the Kremlin tonight following what appeared to be a climax of failures to reach agreement in the Foreign Ministers Council.

The American Soldier-Secretary made his long-awaited call on the Russian chief of state on the 37th day of his stay in the Soviet Capital and apparently on short notice.

Remains Hour, 45 Minutes

He disappeared behind the gates of the Kremlin at 8 p. m. (noon EST) and an hour and 45 minutes later was back in Spasso House, his residence. American officials would not say how long the conversation lasted or what was discussed, or even when arrangements were made for the meeting.

It was evident, however, that Marshall had gone to the Kremlin in a last effort to salvage something from the Foreign Ministers Conference and seek a solution to the gaping split between Russia and the Western powers.

The call was made just after a meeting of the Foreign Ministers which failed completely to reach agreement on the American-proposed 40-year, four-power pact to keep Germany disarmed.

This failure was described by one high American source as "the most depressing development in international relations since the end of the war."

The effect of the Marshall-Stalin conference may not become apparent before tomorrow's Foreign Ministers Session.

Immediately upon his return from the Kremlin, Marshall was believed to have settled down to write a report for President Truman.

The Secretary, besides seeking in his conference with Stalin to find some way to settle some of the outstanding Soviet-American differences, was believed to have made it clear to the Soviet Prime Minister that the United States does not intend to see Germany dominated by any single state or ideology.

Ambassador Goes Too

Marshall went to the Kremlin accompanied by Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, U. S. Ambassador to the U.S.S.R., and Charles E. Bohlen, his interpreter and an expert on Russian Affairs.

It was not known immediately whether Marshall had asked for the interview with the Prime Minister, but there were indications that the American had asked for the date after being reasonably certain that his proposals on the four-power pact were going to get nowhere in the face of the opposition of Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

If so, the Kremlin apparently had acted with extraordinary speed in arranging the meeting.

Communism Stalks College Campuses, House Group Says

Call For Expose AYD Organization

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP) — The House Committee on UnAmerican activities declared today that "the specter of Communism stalks our college campuses masked under the cloak of the American Youth for Democracy" and called upon state governors and school heads for a thorough expose of the organization.

Attacks AYD

The committee, in a lengthy blast against AYD, said that "gracing various AYD entertainments, meetings and campaigns, or contributing to its magazine, Spotlight, is the usual list of sponsors which are invariably found supporting the Communist Party and its front organizations."

It said the list includes such names as Paul Robeson, Edward G. Robinson, Col. Evans F. Carlson, Zero Mostel, Lt. Comdr. Charles S. Seely, U. S. Navy (retired), and Joseph E. Davies.

The house group also urged a rigid investigation of "the inimical objectives of the Communist Party in America."

Reports To House

In a report to the House, the Committee said American Youth for Democracy has headquarters in New York City—formerly located at 13 Astor Place "in the same building with a number of other Communist-controlled organizations" — and claims 60 chapters in colleges in 14 states and a total membership of 16,194.

It is "enither American nor Democratic in its origin or purposes," the committee said.

"Manipulated by shrewd and specially trained organizers operating in a narrow circle behind the scenes, it endeavors to exploit to the advantage of a foreign power the idealism, the inexperience, and the craving to join, which is so characteristic of our college youth."

Rent Increase Remains Doubtful

WASHINGTON, April 15. (AP)—The House Republican high command failed today to reach a decision whether it will sanction a 10 per cent general increase in rents.

Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich) immediately cancelled a meeting of the House Banking Committee which had been set for tomorrow to reconsider its previous 9 to 4 vote approving a flat boost of rents.

Speaker Martin (R-Mass), who presided over the two-hour, closed-door session of the Republican Steering Committee, told reporters the Republican leadership will hold another meeting probably later this week.

Pending in the Senate is legislation extending rent control beyond the present June 30 expiration date without a general rent increase.

Former Maryland Youth Is Winner Of Legion's Oratorical Contest

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 15 (AP) — Roy Francis Greenaway of Fresno, Calif., son of a retired Coast Guard lieutenant, won first place and a $4,000 college scholarship here today in the national finals of the American Legion's 10th annual oratorical contests.

Second place, and a $2,500 scholarship, went to Kemp Frizzell of Wichita, Kan., while Gerald Hornung of Oklahoma City, Okla., placed third and Edward Francis Smith of Gasport, N. Y., was fourth.

Hornung and Smith received $1,000 and $500 scholarships, respectively.

Each was required to deliver a 10 to 12 minute oration on some phase of the United States Constitution, chosen by lot.

Greenaway is a native of Tacoma Park, Md., but has lived in Fresno for about seven years. He competed against speakers from 10 western states in winning his way to the final round.

The four finalists also received wrist watches as personal gifts from National Legion Commander Paul Griffith and leather brief cases from the business and industrial interests of Charleston.

Be Careful Of New Auto License Plates, Commissioner Elgin Warns

BALTIMORE, April 15 (AP)—Motor Vehicles Commissioner W. Lee Elgin wants you to be careful with those new automobile license plates. He hopes they'll last eight years and save the state $60,000 annually.

The new plates are aluminum and made to last. They cost 31¼ cents to manufacture at Maryland Penitentiary. The old ones cost 15½, but they were replaced each year except during the war.

Under the new plan, motorists will keep their plates and get new date clips each year. These will cost the state three cents apiece.

The Motor Vehicles Commissioner would like to see all the license tags "reflectorized". That, he says, would make them virtually wear-proof.

"Reflectorized" plates give off a soft glow at night when a light is shined on them. The new licenses on the governor's car and those driven by members of the General Assembly already are "reflectorized." It costs the state 30 to 35 cents a pair.

Wear and tear are only incidental factors, Elgin says. Motorists who lose their tags are the big problem.

It costs $2 to get a replacement set.

In the main, the House Bill would ban many kinds of strikes; provide a formula to combat those effecting national welfare; prohibit most cases of industrywide bargaining; outlaw the closed shop in which only union members can be hired, and restrict many union practices.

Germans Toss Grenade At Group Of Soldiers

FRANKFORT, Germany, Wednesday, April 16 (AP)—U. S. Army and German police early today started one of the biggest manhunts in the Frankfort area since the end of the war in search of attackers who tossed a hand grenade among a group of American soldiers just before midnight.

Road blocks were set up in a lonely wooded area near the Rhein-Main airbase as police sought the occupants of what was believed to be a German automobile.

When the grenade landed on the highway where the soldiers apparently were seeking to hitch-hike a ride, the Americans "hit the dust," a military police officer said. They escaped injury.

Naval Fire Reported

Strike Settlement Formula Rejected

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP) — Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach promised a "fight" tonight after both sides had rejected his formula for peace in the nationwide telephone strike.

He gave no inkling of any intention to seize the industry, but scored both sides and called for public pressure on company and union to settle.

Schwellenbach said in a radio (ABC) broadcast that the two parties forgot that they are "in a public utility industry." He criticized them sharply for rejecting "a fair proposal" and called for pressure from the public to persuade them to take it.

Says He Will Fight

"I do not propose to accept this rejection without putting up a fight for my proposal," he said, and appealing directly to the public, he added:

"Whether or not I succeed in that fight is going to depend upon you.

"I made the proposal on behalf of the American people and I am asking you who want telephone service, and who pay the telephone bills, to demand of each side that they accept the proposal which I made."

Schwellenbach said both sides had resorted "to legalistic tactics in the rejection of my proposal."

The striking National Federation of Telephone Workers turned the Secretary's proposal down outright and demanded a general pay raise as a basis for any settlement. The Bell System Companies proposed 13 modifications of his plan including regional instead of national arbitration and protection for the company against retroactive pay raise for which they could not raise rates.

Referring to the public utility nature of the telephone industry Schwellenbach said:

"The health and the safety and the welfare of the people of the United States depends upon the constant maintenance of that industry.

"Overlook Facts"

"The constant argument of the representatives of the company was that they were subject to regulation by state commission. They overlook the fact that the reason they are regulated is that they have a monopoly and that no competition can bring down the prices which they charge. The company has insisted that its position be maintained in order that it might be able to increase the cost of telephone service to the people of the United States.

"The leaders of the labor union, completely overlook the fact that because they are working for a public utility which must be maintained constantly, they unlike the workers in many industries, are not subject to a two-or-three months layoff."

300 New Maryland Laws Are Expected

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 15—(AP)—When Governor Lane finishes work tomorrow, it is expected that Maryland will have approximately 300 new laws.

The Governor will start signing bills passed by the House which have been examined by himself, the Attorney General and his assistants, as well as by the Secretary of State.

Assistant to the Governor Louis J. O'Donnell disclosed today the governor might still want a hearing on some of the measures before signing or vetoing them.

He said about a dozen measures had been withdrawn from the pile of 701 bills remaining to be acted on. These will be the subject of further consultation and possibly of hearings.

The Chief Executive has signed 316 acts and vetoed one, the latter a minor measure prohibiting certain Wicomico County officials from practicing law.

The governor will start putting his signature to the measures at 10 a. m. tomorrow. Whether he will reach the 300 mark is questionable. It is not likely he will get beyond that.

According to custom, the titles of the measures are read and the governor and officials of both Houses and the General Assembly then sign the acts.

Coal Production Up To 90 Per Cent

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—The Coal Mines Administration estimated soft coal production at 90.4 per cent of normal today.

The agency said 4,226 mines east of the Mississippi, employing 327,290 men, will produce 2,142,443 tons of coal during the day.

The estimate of idle mines west of the Mississippi was 316, employing 38,579 men, and resulting in a day's loss of 228,638 tons.

The agency said that an average of six per cent of the mines are idle every day for one cause or another.

Seeks Revision Neutrality Act

WASHINGTON, April 15—(AP)—President Truman asked Congress today for revision of the Neutrality Act to empower the government to ban arms shipments destined for any international "troublemaker."

He said in a special message that the government must be free to act "in accordance with our position in the United Nations" and to adapt the export of American weapons to "changes in the international situation."

Expires June 30

In effect, he was asking continuance of authority the government already has. Power to permit or deny arms exports is contained in the 1940 Export Control Act, which is due to expire June 30.

Mr. Truman proposed that Section 12 of the Neutrality Act, be rewritten to incorporate the expiring authority and also to set up a "more flexible and efficient" administration by the existing National Munitions Control Board.

Unless the neutrality is revised, the President said, the Secretary of State will again as before 1940 be required to "treat aggressor and aggrieved, peacemaker and troublemaker equally" by granting all requests for arms exports except where such shipments would violate a treaty.

This principle of impartiality was written by Congress into the Neutrality Act during the heated pre-Pearl Harbor controversy over means of keeping the United States out of war. The act was rewritten in 1935, 1937 and 1939.

"Not Consistent"

"Such a provision of law is no longer consistent with this country's commitments and requirements," Mr. Truman said.

"We have committed ourselves to international co-operation through the United Nations. If this participation is to be fully effective this government must have control over traffic in weapons which will permit us to act in accordance with our position in the United Nations and will be adaptable to changes in the international situation."

One Miner Killed In Slate Fall

PT. PLEASANT, W. Va., April 15. (AP)—One miner was killed instantly and another was critically injured today when a heavy slate fall occurred in the new (No. Six) mine of the West Virginia Coal and Transportation Company at West Columbia near here.

The accident occurred at 4:26 p. m., just four minutes before the end of the shift when the men would have left the mine, Company Secretary R. J. Williamson said.

Daniel Hysell, 45, of Rutland, O., was killed instantly, and O. J. Jenks, 48, of Vinton, O., suffered a fractured leg and other injuries and is reported in a critical condition in a Gallipolis, O., hospital.

Wayne King, 51, of Pomeroy, O., just across the Ohio River, escaped with only minor injuries.

DAR To Get Heat

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP) — President Truman today signed a bill authorizing the Federal Works Agency to furnish heat for the American Revolution building in Washington.

The DAR will pay for connecting its heating system with the government plant and will pay for the heating service.

Reduces Hughes Mark By 12 Hours

NEW YORK, April 16—(Wednesday)—(AP)—The Reynolds globe-circling "Bombshell!" streaked across La Guardia field at 12:06:30 a. m. (EST) today and two minutes later set its nose down on the runway for a new unofficial record of 78 hours and 55 minutes.

Piloted by youthful William Odom, veteran of the Burma hump flying and owned by Milton Reynolds, 54-year old Chicago pen manufacturer, the huge, converted A-26 attack bomber sliced Howard Hughes' previous unofficial record by 12 hours and 29 minutes.

Hughes had set the record in 1938 with a monoplane. His record was 91 hours and 14 minutes.

Left Saturday

When Reynolds left La Guardia field at 5:11 p. m. (EST) last Saturday, he said he hoped to complete the world-circling flight in 55 to 60 hours. But minor mechanical difficulties and extra halts along the route made the goal unattainable.

As Reynolds, Odom, and the third crewman, T. C. Sallee, flight engineer, stepped from the cockpit of the plane onto the right wing, crowds at the field broke through police lines to greet the fliers.

All three were taken up in the crowd and smeared with kisses from the feminine well-wishers before the way could be cleared for a reunion by Reynolds and his wife Edna, Odom and his wife, and Sallee and his bride-to-be, 19-year-old Patricia Houlihan of Cody, Wyo.

Finally free of the mob, the men posed for pictures. Reynolds appeared newly-shaved, but Sallee and Odom, 28, were bearded. They were haggard but happy.

A friend stepped up to Reynolds and asked:

"Here's your wife. Don't you remember her."

Reynolds quickly kissed her, then flung his arms around Odom and told newsmen::

"He is the best pilot in the world. We would not have made it with any one else."

But Odom shook off the praise, interrupting Reynolds to say:

"No, none of that. It was just a routine flight that all airlines will be making in a few years."

Longer Trip

The route followed by the "Bombshell" was about 5,200 miles longer than Hughes' path. Hughes flew over European Russia and Siberia but the Soviet Union declined to permit Reynolds to use a similar route, explaining that its reconstruction problems were so great it did not have the technicians to service the flight.

The record-setting plane made nine stops, three more than originally planned. The extra halts and minor mechanical difficulties made its original goal of 55 hours unattainable.

Stops were made at Gander, Nfld.; Paris; Cairo; Karachi; Calcutta; Shanghai; Tokyo; Adak, Alaska and Edmonton.

Jew Agency Asks Palestine Opening By United Nations

Appeals To Special Session For Action

By MAX HARRELSON

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 15 (AP)—The Jewish Agency, official voice of Palestine Jews, appealed to the United Nations today to open Palestine immediately to Jewish immigration and thus avert "a new catastrophe."

Sets Forth Position

The agency set forth its position in a statement demanding that the forthcoming special session of the General Assembly in New York take an interim decision directing Britain "to reopen Palestine to Jewish immigration on a scale commensurate with present needs."

"Further delay may mean a new catastrophe for a people that suffered as no other in the war," the agency said. "It is imperative that the General Assembly act quickly and firmly."

The statement was approved at a continuing meeting of the American section of the Jewish agency executive which was named in Palestine last month to direct its strategy in New York.

Consideration of the agency's demands would inject into the special session a major question of principle, which was not anticipated either in Britain's request for the extraordinary meeting or in Secretary-General Trygve Lie's formal call to the 55 nations to be here by April 28.

Restriction Planned

It had been planned to restrict the session to the creation of a special committee of inquiry to assemble facts as spadework for action on the problem itself at the regular meeting of the assembly.

The Jewish Agency, in calling for action to lift immigration restrictions, said this would "serve as an immediate test of the significance of the forthcoming session."

Hoess Is Hanged

OSWIECIM, April 15 (AP) — Rudolph Hoess was hanged today on the gallows he used to kill some of the 4,000,000 persons put to death while he was the war-time commandant of the Oswiecim (Auschwitz) Extermination Camp.

Visit Is Apparent Effort To Salvage Big-4 Council

British Hang Jewish Head In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM, Wednesday, April 16 (AP)—An official announced today that Dov Bela Gruner and three other convicted members of the Jewish underground were hanged at Acre Prison at dawn.

They were the first Jewish extremists to be executed in Palestine since the hanging of Shlomo Ben Youssef in August, 1938.

Only a short time before the executions British Military authorities clamped a rigid security ring on most Jewish quarters in Palestine, putting approximately 400,000 Jews under close house arrest.

Gruner, a 33-year-old veteran of the British Army, was sentenced to die by a British Military Court which convicted him Jan. 1 of participating in a Jewish underground raid on the Ramat Gan police station last April 23. Two policemen were killed in the raid and Gruner himself was wounded and captured.

A member of the underground organization, Irgun Zvai Leumi, Gruner claimed he was a prisoner of war and should be treated as one. He refused to make any appeals from his death sentence and pleas carried to other courts and to the privy council in London, Britain's highest court, by others all were rejected.

His sister, Mrs. Helen Friedman of Lancaster, Pa., flew here from the United States several weeks ago in a desperate effort to aid in the legal fight to save her brother's life.

Irgun Zvai Leumi leaders have declared that Gruner would be hon-

Communism Stalks College Campuses, House Group Says

Call For Expose AYD Organization

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP) — The House Committee on UnAmerican activities declared today that "the specter of Communism stalks our college campuses masked under the cloak of the American Youth for Democracy" and called upon state governors and school heads for a thorough expose of the organization.

Attacks AYD

The committee, in a lengthy blast against AYD, said that "gracing various AYD entertainments, meetings and campaigns, or contributing to its magazine, Spotlight, is the usual list of sponsors which are invariably found supporting the Communist Party and its front organizations."

It said the list includes such names as Paul Robeson, Edward G. Robinson, Col. Evans F. Carlson, Zero Mostel, Lt. Comdr. Charles S. Seely, U. S. Navy (retired), and Joseph E. Davies.

The house group also urged a rigid investigation of "the inimical objectives of the Communist Party in America."

Reports To House

In a report to the House, the Committee said American Youth for Democracy has headquarters in New York City—formerly located at 13 Astor Place "in the same building with a number of other Communist-controlled organizations" — and claims 60 chapters in colleges in 14 states and a total membership of 16,194.

It is "enither American nor Democratic in its origin or purposes," the committee said.

"Manipulated by shrewd and specially trained organizers operating in a narrow circle behind the scenes, it endeavors to exploit to the advantage of a foreign power the idealism, the inexperience, and the craving to join, which is so characteristic of our college youth."

Kremlin Meeting Lasts 90 Minutes

MOSCOW, April 15 (AP)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall talked with Prime Minister Stalin for about 90 minutes behind the closed gates of the Kremlin tonight following what appeared to be a climax of failures to reach agreement in the Foreign Ministers Council.

The American Soldier-Secretary made his long-awaited call on the Russian chief of state on the 37th day of his stay in the Soviet Capital and apparently on short notice.

Remains Hour, 45 Minutes

He disappeared behind the gates of the Kremlin at 8 p. m. (noon EsST) and an hour and 45 minutes later was back in Spasso House, his residence. American officials would not say how long the conversation lasted or what was discussed, or even when arrangements were made for the meeting

It was evident, however, that Marshall had gone to the Kremlin in a last effort to salvage something from the Foreign Ministers Conference and seek a solution to the gaping split between Russia and the Western powers.

The call was made just after a meeting of the Foreign Ministers which failed completely to reach agreement on the American-proposed 40-year, four-power pact to keep Germany disarmed.

This failure was described by one high American source as "the most depressing development in international relations since the end of the war."

The effect of the Marshall-Stalin conference may not become apparent before tomorrow's Foreign Ministers Session.

Immediately upon his return from the Kremlin, Marshall was believed to have settled down to write a report for President Truman.

The Secretary, besides seeking in his conference with Stalin to find some way to settle some of the outstanding Soviet-American differences, was believed to have made it clear to the Soviet Prime Minister that the United States does not intend to see Germany dominated by any single state or ideology.

Ambassador Goes Too

Marshall went to the Kremlin accompanied by Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, U. S. Ambassador to the U.S.S.R., and Charles E. Bohlen, his interpreter and an expert on Russian Affairs.

It was not known immediately whether Marshall had asked for the interview with the Prime Minister, but there were indications that the American had asked for the date after being reasonably certain that his proposals on the four-power pact were going to get nowhere in the face of the opposition of Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

If so, the Kremlin apparently had acted with extraordinary speed in arranging the meeting.

Rent Increase Remains Doubtful

WASHINGTON, April 15. (AP)—The House Republican high command failed today to reach a decision whether it will sanction a 10 per cent general increase in rents.

Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich) immediately cancelled a meeting of the House Banking Committee which had been set for tomorrow to reconsider its previous 9 to 4 vote approving a flat boost of rents.

Speaker Martin (R-Mass), who presided over the two-hour, closed-door session of the Republican Steering Committee, told reporters the Republican leadership will hold another meeting probably later this week.

Pending in the Senate is legislation extending rent control beyond the present June 30 expiration date without a general rent increase.

Former Maryland Youth Is Winner Of Legion's Oratorical Contest

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 15 (AP) — Roy Francis Greenaway of Fresno, Calif., son of a retired Coast Guard lieutenant, won first place and a $4,000 college scholarship here today in the national finals of the American Legion's 10th annual oratorical contests.

Second place, and a $2,500 scholarship, went to Kemp Frizzell of Wichita, Kan., while Gerald Hornung of Oklahoma City, Okla., placed third and Edward Francis Smith of Gasport, N. Y., was fourth.

Hornung and Smith received $1,000 and $500 scholarships, respectively.

Each was required to deliver a 10 to 12 minute oration on some phase of the United States Constitution, chosen by lot.

Greenaway is a native of Tacoma Park, Md., but has lived in Fresno for about seven years. He competed against speakers from 10 western states in winning his way to the final round.

The four finalists also received wrist watches as personal gifts from National Legion Commander Paul Griffith and leather brief cases from the business and industrial interests of Charleston.

Be Careful Of New Auto License Plates, Commissioner Elgin Warns

BALTIMORE, April 15 (AP)—Motor Vehicles Commissioner W. Lee Elgin wants you to be careful with those new automobile license plates. He hopes they'll last eight years and save the state $60,000 annually.

The new plates are aluminum and made to last. They cost 31½ cents to manufacture at Maryland Penitentiary. The old ones cost 15½, but they were replaced each year except during the war.

Under the new plan, motorists will keep their plates and get new date clips each year. These will cost the state three cents apiece.

The Motor Vehicles Commissioner would like to see all the license tags "reflectorized". That, he says, would make them virtually wear-proof.

"Reflectorized" plates give off a soft glow at night when a light is shined on them. The new licenses on the governor's car and those driven by members of the General Assembly already are "reflectorized." It costs the state 30 to 35 cents a pair.

Wear and tear are only incidental factors, Elgin says. Motorists who lose their tags are the big problem.

Accident Victim Is Still Semi Conscious

Mrs. Almeda Garrison, 50, of near Barton, who was seriously injured when hit by a milk truck Saturday night, remained in a semi-conscious condition late last night in Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, W. Va. She suffered fractures of the skull and right arm in the mishap.

State Police identified the driver as Frank Junior Ravenscroft, 16, Westernport. He was released pending the outcome of injuries received by Mrs. Garrison.

regarding the collection of taxes.

At present, Burke said, he is bonded for $20,000 under a surety and collateral bond, tied in with a contract of the Mayor and Council, the collector and the bonding company. He pointed out that the commission method provides an incentive for collection of taxes, in the opinion of financial observers.

Stating that "the method of preparing the city's budget and making expenditures might well be improved upon," Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, said that Dr. Ray's report emphasized many unsatisfactory aspects of the commission form of government which are already recognized by many city employes.

Dr. Ray recommended that the city adopt the method of the "executive budget" to be prepared by the auditor and mayor or city manager and then submitted to the council for approval; that there should be a system of central fiscal control over expenditures, and that a full-fledged department of finance with budgeting, accounting, control and treasury functions be established.

Commissioners William J. Edwards, Clifton E. Fuller and Myers G. Light withheld comment, explaining they have not yet completed their study of the report. Commissioner William V. Keegan and Charles Z. Heskett, city attorney, were out of town and could not be contacted for comments.

Driver Arrested

Mervin E. Uhl, Mt. Savage, was arrested at 4:10 p. m. yesterday on a charge of failing to stop for a white light at Baltimore and George Streets. Officer W. P. Crabtree made the arrest. Uhl was summoned to appear for a hearing at 9 o'clock this morning.

Clark Declares

"The cheap, blundering assault now being made by some upon the bipartisan foreign policy of our nation must not be allowed to provoke action on our part which would be utterly out of keeping with Democratic principles.

"Democracy is not redeemed by reverting to the practice of dictators. The dignified procedure of Democracy demands the immediate passage by Congress of legislation implementing the Truman doctrine and providing protection against expanding totalitarianism.

"Such a vote, like the cannon shot at Concord, 'will be heard around the world.' It will be the answer to those who after returning to private life would attempt to exploit the respect paid to the high office they formerly occupied."

The legislation to which Clark referred is the bill providing $400,000,000 in aid to Greece and Turkey to hold back Communist expansion.

Clark conferred with President Truman yesterday.

Talk of possible Congressional censure of Wallace arose today among Democratic policy makers in the Senate, but there was no immediate action.

DISTRICT LEGION AUXILIARY UNITS MEET IN FROSTBURG

FROSTBURG, April 15 — Mrs. Margaret Poorbaugh, president of the Department of Maryland, American Legion Auxiliary, presented a charter to the recently formed Barton Post No. 189 at a district meeting held Sunday night at Farrady Post No. 24, Frostburg.

She also dedicated the unit colors for Chilcott-Cresap Post of Cresaptown, and presented them to Mrs. Edna Hounshell, president of the unit.

National president's citations were presented to Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, auxiliary, and to Wilson Fidler auxiliary of Kitzmiller at the well attended meeting.

Mrs. Alvenia Cole was presented the Mountain District award for having secured the most members in a two-month period.

Mrs. Martha McNary, district vice-president, presided while unit chairmen gave reports of activities. Reports were given by Mrs. E. Kempe Troupe, past department president; Mrs. Helen Cooper Johnson, Baltimore, department secretary; Mrs. Jessie Smith, Lonaconing, co-chairman of national defense; Mrs. Jennie Peebles, Lonaconing, district rehabilitation chairman, and Mrs. Rhodes, Westernport, child welfare chairman.

Vegetable roots such as asparagus, rhubarb, sea kale, etc., should go into the ground as soon as possible. There's no danger of getting them in too soon.

Salary Increases	15,000.00
Tax Collectors' Fund	26,000.00
Transfer Fees	514.00
Treasurer's Salary	1,500.00

An assessment of $96,500,000 at $1.72 on each $100 of assessable property equals $1,659,800; which, with the tax from bank stock, $14,600; corporation franchise tax, $1,625; the amount due from the state for the maintenance of the insane, $10,000; estimated amount of interest on taxes, $5,000; estimated from liquor licenses, $35,000; from the State Roads Commission for lateral roads, $200,000; from the state comptroller, county's allocation of state income tax, $15,000; anticipated receipts from county jail, $1,500; magistrates, $2,500; Peoples Courts, $3,000; from paid patients in state hospitals, $7,000; from estimate on automobile tax, $47,000; and an aggregate of unexpended balances of $113,826.79 from the previous levy, makes a total of $2,115,851.79.

The levy list, covering 20 typewritten pages, was signed by Commissioners Wilkinson, William H. Lemmert and James Holmes, and Clerk James G. Stevenson, and ordered published in both Cumberland newspapers.

Ray's City

regarding the collection of taxes.

At present, Burke said, he is bonded for $20,000 under a surety and collateral bond, tied in with a contract of the Mayor and Council, the collector and the bonding company. He pointed out that the commission method provides an incentive for collection of taxes, in the opinion of financial observers.

Stating that "the method of preparing the city's budget and making expenditures might well be improved upon," Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, said that Dr. Ray's report emphasized many unsatisfactory aspects of the commission form of government which are already recognized by many city employes.

Dr. Ray recommended that the city adopt the method of the "executive budget" to be prepared by the auditor and mayor or city manager and then submitted to the council for approval; that there should be a system of central fiscal control over expenditures, and that a full-fledged department of finance with budgeting, accounting, control and treasury functions be established.

Commissioners William J. Edwards, Clifton E. Fuller and Myers G. Light withheld comment, explaining they have not yet completed their study of the report. Commissioner William V. Keegan and Charles Z. Heskett, city attorney, were out of town and could not be contacted for comments.

Driver Arrested

Mervin E. Uhl, Mt. Savage, was arrested at 4:10 p. m. yesterday on a charge of failing to stop for a white light at Baltimore and George Streets. Officer W. P. Crabtree made the arrest. Uhl was summoned to appear for a hearing at 9 o'clock this morning.

Clark Declares

"The cheap, blundering assault now being made by some upon the bipartisan foreign policy of our nation must not be allowed to provoke action on our part which would be utterly out of keeping with Democratic principles.

"Democracy is not redeemed by reverting to the practice of dictators. The dignified procedure of Democracy demands the immediate passage by Congress of legislation implementing the Truman doctrine and providing protection against expanding totalitarianism.

"Such a vote, like the cannon shot at Concord, 'will be heard around the world.' It will be the answer to those who after returning to private life would attempt to exploit the respect paid to the high office they formerly occupied."

The legislation to which Clark referred is the bill providing $400,000,000 in aid to Greece and Turkey to hold back Communist expansion.

Clark conferred with President Truman yesterday.

Talk of possible Congressional censure of Wallace arose today among Democratic policy makers in the Senate, but there was no immediate action.

Listen World

By ELSIE ROBINSON

ENTHUSIASM DOESN'T JUST COME NATURALLY

Many people envy me my enthusiasm over this job. They speak as if it were some glamorous trait born in me like the mole on my right cheek. It isn't.

YOU HAVE TO WORK FOR ENTHUSIASM. YOU HAVE TO KEEP IT UP WHETHER YOU LIKE IT OR NOT. IT IS NOT A NATURAL TRAIT. IT IS A DELIBERATELY CHOSEN WAY OF LIFE.

Enthusiastic people get that way because they decide to get that way. They are enthusiastic because they decide to "accentuate the positive and eliminate the negative." They do not always like everybody upon whom they smile. They are not always exhiliarated by every interest which comes their way. They aren't always amiable or encouraging or inspirational. They often feel very sour inside and would dearly love to take it out on the other fellow. But they are enthusiastic because they have decided that in this curious game of life there's a bigger percentage in grinning than there is in griping.

Anyone who wants to can be enthusiastic but I warn you, it's hard work. You can't yield to your moods or to your natural impulses. You can't comfort yourself by picking the beam out of the other fellow's eye and neglecting the mote in your own. You can't cheer yourself up by thinking what stinkers human beings are in general or that we're all going to the dogs. I admit this would be a rare comfort but if you're going to be enthusiastic it's a comfort which you dare not enjoy.

Personally I believe in enthusiasm. I make myself like what I like and overlook what I don't like. I make myself interested in interesting things and close my eyes to the very dull or degrading things which are around me. I don't do it naturally. I wasn't born with a giggle. I have to force myself to overlook or turn away from the deadly tentacles of grief and regret. For anyone who has sense enough to be enthusiastic has sense enough to be a sourpuss and to feel all the depressions which life lavishes upon us.

But taking it by and large I have found that enthusiasm pays, and that I only get a kick in the shin if I'm otherwise. I don't like kicks in the shin. So I beam instead and say, "Let's go!"

This isn't a sermon. It's just a tip. You can take it or leave it, as you want. But personally I think enthusiasm pays off bigger dividends than all the glooms and gripes and whines combined. And I'm going right on being interested and optimistic about this world until they place lilies on my chest.

I never yet met a great person who wasn't enthusiastic about something or all things and who didn't learn to place his personal prejudices in the background.

By ELSIE ROBINSON

ENTHUSIASM DOESN'T JUST COME NATURALLY

Many people envy me my enthusiasm over this job. They speak as if it were some glamorous trait born in me like the mole on my right cheek. It isn't.

YOU HAVE TO WORK FOR ENTHUSIASM. YOU HAVE TO KEEP IT UP WHETHER YOU LIKE IT OR NOT. IT IS NOT A NATURAL TRAIT. IT IS A DELIBERATELY CHOSEN WAY OF LIFE.

Enthusiastic people get that way because they decide to get that way. They are enthusiastic because they decide to "accentuate the positive and eliminate the negative." They do not always like everybody upon whom they smile. They are not always exhiliarated by every interest which comes their way. They aren't always amiable or encouraging or inspirational. They often feel very sour inside and would dearly love to take it out on the other fellow. But they are enthusiastic because they have decided that in this curious game of life there's a bigger percentage in grinning than there is in griping.

Anyone who wants to can be enthusiastic but I warn you, it's hard work. You can't yield to your moods or to your natural impulses. You can't comfort yourself by picking the beam out of the other fellow's eye and neglecting the mote in your own. You can't cheer yourself up by thinking what stinkers human beings are in general or that we're all going to the dogs. I admit this would be a rare comfort but if you're going to be enthusiastic it's a comfort which you dare not enjoy.

Personally I believe in enthusiasm. I make myself like what I like and overlook what I don't like. I make myself interested in interesting things and close my eyes to the very dull or degrading things which are around me. I don't do it naturally. I wasn't born with a giggle. I have to force myself to overlook or turn away from the deadly tentacles of grief and regret. For anyone who has sense enough to be enthusiastic has sense enough to be a sourpuss and to feel all the depressions which life lavishes upon us.

But taking it by and large I have found that enthusiasm pays, and that I only get a kick in the shin if I'm otherwise. I don't like kicks in the shin. So I beam instead and say, "Let's go!"

This isn't a sermon. It's just a tip. You can take it or leave it, as you want. But personally I think enthusiasm pays off bigger dividends than all the glooms and gripes and whines combined. And I'm going right on being interested and optimistic about this world until they place lilies on my chest.

I never yet met a great person who wasn't enthusiastic about something or all things and who didn't learn to place his personal prejudices in the background.

Allegany County Tax Rate Reduced, After All

Glory be!

The Allegany County Commissioners, who went into a huddle ten days ago to mull over appropriations and to do some tall figuring on anticipated income from tax sources other than the old standbys—property owners—came up yesterday with a schedule of spending and a revenue-gathering program which permitted them to snip five cents off the previous tax rate of $1.77.

To be sure, it isn't a whole lot, but it helps, and the Commissioners are to be commended for their efforts which enabled them to lop off the "jitney," bringing the rate down to $1.72 on each $100 of assessed property valuation.

It merely goes to demonstrate what could have been expected had any one of a number of proposed revenue-raising measures, introduced in the recent session of the Maryland General Assembly, received the support the citizens of Allegany County expected for them. Not one, but all of those bills were either killed or met untimely deaths. What a shame!

Treasury will have a surplus of over $3,000,000,000 by June 30, and taxpayers are eagerly waiting for Congress to declare them a little dividend.

Truman Should Not Delay Denunciation Of Wallace

In the wake of reports that Senator Vandenberg has urged President Truman to reply to speeches by Henry Wallace in England, attacking the President's Greek-Turkish policy as "ruthless imperialism," Representative Thomas, New Jersey Republican, declares the United States must prosecute Mr. Wallace for having "intercourse with a foreign government to defeat an American measure."

Rep. Thomas contends the Logan Act which provides three years in jail and $5,000 fine "covers Mr. Wallace just as you'd cover a person with a cloak." Mr. Thomas says Attorney General Clark has no alternative but to take action. Meanwhile, neither Mr. Clark nor President Truman have offered any comment.

Senator Vandenberg's reaction was, "I think it is a shocking thing when an American citizen goes abroad to speak against his own Government."

Mr. Wallace is trying to organize public opinion abroad to defeat American foreign policy. It is, indeed, a shocking performance, and we second Mr. Vandenberg's suggestion. The President should declare plainly that Mr. Wallace in no way represents the United States Government. But this is not enough. It also should be made clear that Mr. Wallace actually does not represent even an important minority faction—that, as Senator Moore of Oklahoma has said, "he does not speak for anyone except the Communist rabble to which he has attached himself."

Mr. Wallace calls himself a Democrat. He formerly held national office as a Democrat. Unless he also is repudiated by the Democratic Party, his speeches in Britain and France can do great harm to the American interest in Europe, where many people apparently have the mistaken impression that he is spokesmen for a substantial American sentiment.

It would not be enough that Democrats in both House and Senate call a caucus and, by formal action declare that Wallace does not speak for them. Pressure should be brought to force the Attorney General to take whatever action is possible toward prosecuting the hybrid corn breeder, and Mr. Truman should be called upon to publicly denounce his former cabinet member.

Whatever Mr. Truman might say, and whatever the Democrats in Congress might do would, we assume, have the effect of reading Mr. Wallace out of the Party. Surely they would not hesitate to do it! Our country would gain by having Mr. Wallace cut down to size in Europe, where his every utterance is being given unreserved weight, especially in the Russian press, which pays no such attention to the statements of President Truman and Secretary Marshall.

His conduct is vicious and dangerous. He is coming to deserve an epithet, compared to which the Civil War label of Copperhead will seem mild. The Democrats, if they want to avoid the opprobrium, should act quickly and denounce him in no uncertain terms.

Judging by results internationally and in management-labor relations, a conference doesn't accomplish much more than a committee.

Moscow Warned America's Patience Running Out

Though it is not on the agenda presently before the Council of Foreign Ministers, the Korean question dominated the news from Moscow the other day. Secretary of State Marshall brought that about when his office at the Russian capital released the text of a letter he sent to Molotov on that issue.

Just why Secretary Marshall chose this particular moment and method of making the letter public is not clear. But it has at least notified Molotov that the Moscow conference cannot prevent this country from dealing with other pressing problems—and dealing with them vigorously.

The letter proposed that Russia and the United States agree to reconvene their joint commission in Korea, "on the basis of respect for the democratic right of freedom of opinion," in order to go ahead with the task of giving that country independence. It also proposed that a date be fixed some time next Summer for Washington and Moscow to review the work of the commission.

There seems to be small chance that Molotov will agree to either suggestion. Secretary Marshall implied as much when he went on to say that in the meantime the United States "sees no alternative to taking, without further delay, such steps in its zone as will advance the purposes" of the joint agreement.

The letter is one more warning that American patience with Soviet tactics and American faith in Soviet intentions are both running out and that this country is prepared to pursue a new policy of resistance to communist expansion in the East as in the West.

If Sinatra plans to whipsaw everyone who has made disparaging remarks about him, he had better hire a few more assistants.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

CORRECT CLUBFOOT EARLY

MOST babies are perfect when they are born but now and then defects are noted which mar an otherwise happy occasion. Nevertheless, many abnormalities can be remedied by modern methods of treatment. Clubfoot (talipes) is one such imperfection. It is a variable affair and may be mild or severe and affect one member or both. In some instances the structures are rotated inwardly or outwardly; others point up or down, or the arch is unusually high and the foot so shortened that it bends back on itself.

There are many reasons why these changes take place. Apparently, prior to birth the infant's feet became tangled or assumed an unnatural position which prevented their growing straight. The uterus may have been too small or an insufficent amount of fluid was present to avoid overcrowding. In others, the cord encircled the structures, interfering with proper growth.

No one can predict unfortunate "happenstances" of this type, but in a small percentage, the condition is hereditary. In these circumstances, none of the above mentioned factors plays a role. The handicap is passed along as a family trait.

It is marvelous what can be done for the disorder, particularly when we consider the extent of distortion. Improvement is possible because the bones in the ankles are just beginning to form and others have not even made their appearance. This means that the area is not firm but malleable, and can be molded like plastic material into the desired shape. Consequently, management must be started early before they become too rigid and contractures involve the surrounding soft tissues.

The condition can often be rectified with little difficulty by strapping the extremities and teaching the mother or nurse to manipulate the parts. The regimen may be instituted a day or two after birth but is sometimes postponed if it interferes with nursing or the handling of more important problems which occasionally occur to newborns. But attention should not be delayed too long as the more that is done during the first year, the better. Much of the responsibility of the project rests with the parents and, unless the job is done right, good results cannot be expected.

In more marked cases the physical adjusts the extremities, frequently while the youngster is under an anesthetic, and applies a cast immediately thereafter. Other patients require surgery, especially if nearby tendons and surrounding fibrous capsules are tight.

Six months or longer will be required, depending upon the degree of the deformity. But even after this time the child must be watched lest the feet return to their old position. Whenever there is the slightest suggestion of recurrence, counter-measures are taken. As the extremities are used more and more in walking, and the development of the bones is completed, less care is necessary and correction becomes more permanent. Thiamin chloride, thyroid, and a diet high in calcium, phosphorus, and vitamins A and D may hasten the growth of the skeletal structure.

AN ALCOHOL CURE

L. W. writes: The parents of a 6 year old allow her to serve cocktails at their parties and then permit her to sip her daddy's drink. This troubles me a great deal. Have you any advice?

REPLY

The practice should not be encouraged as bad habits are acquired soon enough. On the other hand, some parents believe that by allowing a youngster to take a sip, he will decide the taste is so unattractive that he won't want any more. Some fathers have allowed their sons to puff on a cigaret or cigar with the same thought in mind. The memory of the dizziness and nausea will keep the lad from attempting to smoke for a long time.

NO USE GUESSING

J. B. writes: How do you know when you have ulcers?

REPLY

You don't, unless digestive symptoms appear and the diagnosis is confirmed by a physical checkup including X-rays.

MAYBE THE MOUNTAIN WILL HAVE TO COME TO MAHOMET

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Truman Will Stump West This Summer; Prospects In Big Eastern States Are Dim, Leaders Admit; British Reserve Veto On Palestine Issue Before U. N.

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, April 15. — To those who sat backstage in the telephone negotiations, the strike—grim as it was—had interludes on comedy.

Early one morning, while Assistant Secretary of Labor John Gibson was closeted with the management moguls in the Labor Department, the phone jangled in an anteroom, and a voice demanded:

"Is Jack there?"

"Jack who?" asked Gibson, thinking the call might be for himself.

"I want to talk to Jack," persisted the caller. "Tell him the Big Apple is calling."

The assistant labor secretary turned to the negotiators and inquired if anyone named "Jack" was present.

"That's me," responded George S. Dring, assistant vice president of the telephone company. "I mean it's my code name. We have code names for most everybody here. The 'Big Apple' is our boss, C. F. Craig (vice president and leading A. T. and T. negotiator). We even have a name for your Mr. Warren. He's the 'Eager Beaver.'"

Truman On Stump

White House advisers are now convinced that the President should make a series of public appearances west of the Mississippi river this summer. Truman, himself, has agreed to the plan.

Soon after Congress adjourns, therefore, he will hit the trail—probably by train rather than by plane—and touch every state in the northwest before he's through.

This importan political decision is the result of a candid survey of Democratic prospects with Truman's current national popularity, they are not so certain about how many voters are actually pro-Truman. They wonder how many of those who tell the pollsters they like the way Truman is handling himself, will finally vote for him.

Democrat leaders also admit in private that Truman's prospects in the big eastern cities are dim. They see little hope of capturing such potent states as New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan. Without these big five, Truman will have to score a clean sweep west of the Mississippi. That's why plans are being laid for a western trip this summer.

Republicans Work Secretly

Plenty of fireworks exploded inside the House labor committee before it approved the tough labor-control bill last week end. Husky, redheader Ray Madden of Indiana, Democrat, set off most of the fireworks with a protest against being excluded from secret meeings while Republican colleagues whipped the labor bill into shape.

The Indiana congressman charged that he hadn't been shown a copy of the labor bill until "two hours" before Chairman Fred Hartley of New Jersey called the closed-door meeting to vote on it.

"Are we operating under the two-party system or aren't we?" exploded Madden. "This is the first time in my experience that a committee chairman has held meetings on legislation without both sides being present.

"Hearings were completed two weeks ago, but not until now—when he wants to get a vote—has the chairman condescended to call in Democrats. We had no hand in writing this bill. All we knew was what we read in the newspapers. And you expect us to vote—and vote intelligently — before we've hardly had a chance to read the bill"

"I don't know whether the chairman deliberately wanted to be unfair, but I don't like these tactics. Here's a bill that affects the lives of 30 million wage earners and their families, and you want us to vote on it on two hours' notice. Maybe you gentlemen can vote intelligently. I can't."

Hartley flushed during the scolding, but made no reply. Finally GOP Representative Ralph W. Gwinn of New York supported Madden. "The gentleman is right," he said, "in wanting more time to study the bill."

Despite this, the GOP majority decided to push the bill through immediately.

Britain Uses Veto

Those behind the diplomatic scenes sometimes wonder whether Moscow's diplomats are really vicious or just plain stupid. Every time Molotov or Gromyko opens his mouth he puts his foot in it—as far as U. S. public opinion is concerned. Not so the British. They frequently oppose the United States—but so skillfully it gets no attention.

The United Nations General Assembly will soon hold a special session on Palestine. What most people didn't realize is that this special session will cost approximately a million dollars of the U. N.'s meagre purse. The U. N. has a smaller budget than the New York City street cleaning department.

Another point people don't realize is that Britain inserted in its U. N. resolution a tricky five-word clause saying that the British government "reserves the right to reject" the U. N. decision. In other words, the United Nations can spend $1,000,000 debating Palestine, but if the final decision doesn't coincide with British wishes, the British, like the Russians, won't play ball.

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

What do we want most?

Says Sigmund Freud. (1) breathing, (2) eating, 3) sex.

Billy Rose

This column is about another nominee. Freud doesn't give it star billing, but all the same I have a hunch it belongs up there in the big type.

I'm talking about gold.

I read a piece about it last week. It was written by a pretty smart fellow who is right a lot of the time. We've got twenty billion dollars worth of bullion buried in Fort Knox — how come we're buying more, he wants to know. What makes it worth $35 an ounce? Aren't we silly, trading tractors and shredded wheat for little bars of yellow metal which we plant in the ground like potatoes? Isn't Uncle Sam pulling a King Midas, and isn't he apt to wind up trying to swap a ton of gold for a pound of liverwurst?

This article bothered me. Same as you, I'm interested in gold. My interest dates from the day I found that if you had it, you didn't have to steal hot chestnuts from the Italian on the corner. You could walk right up like a toff and make a deal.

And so I took my fears to the wise old gentleman I know. Over the years, a lot of smart fellows have learned that Old Silvertop knows more answers than anybody around these parts. Especially in the economics and finance department.

I found him sunning himself on a bench in Central Park. "Tell me about gold," I said. "Why are we filling that cavity in Kentucky with it? How about the economists who say it's only good to plug up leaks in old rowboats? How come Pizarro crossed the briny and killed a lot of Incas to get some of it? Besides being pretty, why is it worth anything?"

The old boy, for whom presidents holler when their noses are in the nutcracker, gave me a little lecture. I wasn't taking notes, so I'll have to give it to you in my own razzmatazz words.

"The thing that makes an ounce of gold worth $35," he said, "is that it costs almost that much to locate it, dig it out of the ground and refine it. There is an occasional klondike where they get it out for less, but $35 is currently a fair world average.

"For many centuries, people have been willing to trade the labor that goes into goods and services for the labor that goes into digging gold. That's how money started. An agreed-upon object was used to swap labor for labor, woodchopping for shoemaking, fishing for hunting, riveting for rumba lessons. Indians used shells and beads. Eskimos used fox skins. Some African tribes used girls. Most of the civilized world settled on gold. For 2,000 years, the world has stayed with gold because it represented real work—therefore real value. The printing press money of the managed currency countries usually represents only a printing press and paper. And that's why a million Hungarian pengos won't buy an orange these days."

"But why gold?" I persisted. "Why not tin? Why not coal?"

"They're too bulky," said the man on the park bench. "We have twenty billions dollars worth of gold in one cellar in Kentucky. Coal worth that much would darn near blanket the Blue Grass state."

"Why not diamonds?" I asked him.

"There aren't enough to go around in a world with almost two billion humans. Besides, you can mold gold and stamp it. It's rare and attractive. No alchemist or scientist has come up with a process whereby a man-day of work would give you a ton of it. Should that ever happen, we'd have to find another medium of exchange. Until that happens, the gold in Fort Knox has value because it represents the labor necessary to duplicate it.

"Backed up by this gold, our currency has muscles. True, it had bigger muscles when we had a dollar's worth of gold for every dollar's worth of paper issued against it. It bought more roast beef. But even with only twenty billion backing up several times that much in paper, we're not in bad shape. Nobody respects our dollars except maybe the residents of Europe, Asia, South America, Africa and Australia.

"It may shock you to know the English pound can be purchased in New York this afternoon for $3.00, even though it's pegged at $4.02. When the British had gold in their vaults, the pound sold for $4.86.

"Like Aesop's fox who lost his tail, nations without gold are trying to convince the world it's much prettier not to have a tail. Every so often they send us an economist in striped trousers who tells us our gold is only good for charm bracelets. Some of our own self-declared geniuses have fallen for this monetary mumbo-jumbo. Some time back, these geniuses had the ear of a very important gentleman in our setup. They tried to persuade him to stop digging gold—that we didn't need it to back up our dollars. This important gentleman honored me by asking for my opinion.

"I gave him my answer in the form of a little story.

"Once an archeologist unearthed an ancient chest which dated back to the time of Alexander the Great. It contained gold coins and paper fiat money. The folding money was very pretty and could be used to paper a wall or wipe off a razor. But the coins — minted two thousand years back — were, as the saying goes, as good as gold. In any city of the world, you could use them to buy a meal, hire a room, or get your pants pressed."

"That's a good story," I said. "Was the important gentleman impressed?"

"Hard to say," said my friend. "But I do know the United States continued buying gold."

"This important gentleman didn't happen to have a wife with the same first name as my wife?" I inquired.

The old party on the park bench stretched his long legs and smiled.

Questionable Whether Wallace Has Violated Law By Addresses

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Henry Wallace has stirred up the bitterest kind of feeling and resentment by his speech-making abroad but it is questionable whether he has violated any law. He is probably guilty of bad taste and bad judgment in attacking his own country's policies from the speaking platform in another country, but is within his constitutional rights so long as there is no state of war or no giving of military aid and comfort.

The statute which has been brought to the fore as a basis for possible prosecution is called the Logan Act. It was enacted on January 30, 1799, and never has been tested as to constitutionality. It was adopted at a time when means of communication were scant and there was no such thing as radio or cable or telegraph to report instantaneously what a citizen might say in a public speech. The law was probably directed at secret intrigue rather than public discussion. Here is the text of the Logan Act as taken from the Criminal Code:

"Every citizen of the United States, whether actually resident or abiding within the same, or in any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, or in any foreign country, who, without the permission or authority of the Government, directly or indirectly, commences or carries on any verbal or written correspondence of intercourse with any foreign government or any officer or agent thereof, with an intent to influence the measures or conduct of any foreign government or of any officer or agent thereof, in relation to any disputes or controversies with the United States, or to defeat the measures of the Government of the United States; and every person, being a citizen of or resident within the United States or in any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, and not duly authorized, who counsels, advises, or assists in any such correspondence with such intent, shall be fined not more than $5,000 and imprisoned not more than three years; but nothing in this section shall be construed to abridge the right of a citizen to apply, himself or his agent, to any foreign government or the agents thereof for redress of any injury which he may have sustained from such government or any of its agents or subjects."

No Such Dispute Exists

There is no dispute at present between the United States and Great Britain on the Greek-Turkish issue, but there are certain members of the British Labor Party's "left wing" who would like to see Great Britain adopt a policy of opposition to the program of the United States government in Greece and Turkey.

Mr. Wallace, by lambasting the policies of his own government, openly seeks to change those policies and to gain the support of public opinion in other countries for his views. But can it be said that he has entered for that purpose into "verbal or written correspondence" with the government of Great Britain or with the Russian government?

The problem has been complicated to Mr. Wallace's disadvantage somewhat by the use which the former vice president made of the radio facilities of the British Broadcasting Company. This is an official British government instrumentality. When Mr. Wallace availed himself of those radio facilities, he was in a sense using a governmental facility that could be construed as official intercourse. But it is quite possible that the British Broadcasting Company inquired of the American ambassador, Lewis Douglas, if he had any objection to the grant of radio facilities to Mr. Wallace. If it turns out that this did not occur but that the British government invited Mr. Wallace of its own initiative, through the British Broadcasting Company, to make a speech, a jury might consider such acceptance of as invitation as dangerously close to a law violation, since it was not authorized by the American government.

Churchill's Speech Recalled

But actually times have changed a good deal since the Logan Act was passed and it will be recalled that Winston Churchill made a speech at Fulton, Missouri, a year ago and the question of the propriety of such an address was raised by the Russian government. It was assumed that the President, who had asked Mr. Churchill to speak in Missouri, may have had knowledge of the subject matter of the speech but this was specifically denied. Anyway, whatever rights Winston Churchill enjoyed over here might seem to be logical for Mr. Wallace to enjoy abroad.

This, however, applies only to the technical or legal phases of the matter. It is nevertheless bad taste and bad judgment for any American to go abroad and attack the policies of his own government. The punishment for this is more severe in the court of public opinion than in the phrases of the Logan Act.

THESE DAYS By George E. Sokolsky

THE frigid reception accorded Henry Wallace in England is not surprising. Nobody likes a man who kicks his mother in the teeth.

The objection to what Henry Wallace is doing in Europe has nothing to do with his opinions. In this country no citizen is bound to accept the judgment of his President in any matter. In fact, the traditional cracker barrel was the symbol of the inalienable right of a free man to have his say. Forums scattered over the country, platforms for sense and nonsense, are characteristic of a people who do not fear untruth or even the truth, who believes in debate and discussion, who are ready to recognize that there may be another view of every question.

Wallace's opposition to the Truman Doctrine is a natural reaction of a One Worlder to the logic of his own fierce assertion of internationalism. After all, it was Henry Wallace who was ready to put a bottle of milk on every breakfast table, even if the recipient disliked milk. But he has suddenly discovered that his own policy of meddling intervention, interference is leading this country to the brink of war with Soviet Russia—and that was not part of the Wallace plan. He is caught in the necessity of declaring which is his own, his beloved land—and he becomes a neutral.

Not only does he assume neutrality but he turns to his own country's principal ally, Great Britain, and he advises the British people to be neutral. That is too much for them to take as it is too much for the American people to take.

Henry Wallace once wrote:

"My own bias is international. It is an inborn attitude with me. I have very deeply the feeling that nations should be naturally friendly to each other and express that friendship in international trade..."

But Henry Wallace also said:

"The march of freedom of the past 150 years has been a long-drawn-out people's revolution. In this Great Revolution of the people, there were the American Revolution of 1775, the French Revolution of 1792, the Latin-American revolutions of the Bolivarian era, the German Revolution of 1848, and the Russian Revolution of 1918. Each spoke for the common men in terms of blood on the battlefield. Some went to excess. But the significant thing is that the people groped their way to the light. More of them learned to think and work together.

"The people's revolution aims at peace and not at violence, but if the rights of the common man are attacked, it unleashes the ferocity of a she-bear who has lost a cub..."

And to this amazing discussion, he added this peroration:

"...We who live in the United States may think there is nothing very revolutionary about freedom of religion, freedom of expression, and freedom from the fear of secret police. But when we begin to think about the significance of freedom from want for the average man, then we know that the revolution of the past 150 years has not been completed, either here in the United States or in any other nation in the world. We know that this revolution can not stop until freedom from want has actually been attained."

It is all so curious, this man from the American soil who has placed himself at the head of world revolution at a time when man needs rest and peace; who stirs other countries to isolate his own native land, to leave it without friends. This restless yearning to firebrand mankind to revolution is not new with him, even at the cost of his own country's future. He said:

"...No nation will have the God-given right to exploit other nations. Older nations will have the privilege to help younger nations get started on the path to industrialization, but there must be neither military nor economic imperialism..."

Yet, he has not once spoken for the countries of Europe that have become puppets and satellites and the millions who have become little slaves. He wants this country to be neutral about that. He wants England and France to be neutral about that. He is the emissary of the enslaver singing hosannahs to revolution.

Allegany County Tax Rate Reduced, After All

Glory be!

The Allegany County Commissioners, who went into a huddle ten days ago to mull over appropriations and to do some tall figuring on anticipated income from tax sources other than the old standbys—property owners—came up yesterday with a schedule of spending and a revenue-gathering program which permitted them to snip five cents off the previous tax rate of $1.77.

To be sure, it isn't a whole lot, but it helps, and the Commissioners are to be commended for their efforts which enabled them to lop off the "jitney," bringing the rate down to $1.72 on each $100 of assessed property valuation.

It merely goes to demonstrate what could have been expected had any one of a number of proposed revenue-raising measures, introduced in the recent session of the Maryland General Assembly, received the support the citizens of Allegany County expected for them. Not one, but all of those bills were either killed or met untimely deaths. What a shame!

Treasury will have a surplus of over $3,000,000,000 by June 30, and taxpayers are eagerly waiting for Congress to declare them a little dividend.

Truman Should Not Delay Denunciation Of Wallace

In the wake of reports that Senator Vandenberg has urged President Truman to reply to speeches by Henry Wallace in England, attacking the President's Greek-Turkish policy as "ruthless imperialism," Representative Thomas, New Jersey Republican, declares the United States must prosecute Mr. Wallace for having "intercourse with a foreign government to defeat an American measure."

Rep. Thomas contends the Logan Act which provides three years in jail and $5,000 fine "covers Mr. Wallace just as you'd cover a person with a cloak." Mr. Thomas says Attorney General Clark has no alternative but to take action. Meanwhile, neither Mr. Clark nor President Truman have offered any comment.

Senator Vandenberg's reaction was, "I think it is a shocking thing when an American citizen goes abroad to speak against his own Government."

Mr. Wallace is trying to organize public opinion abroad to defeat American foreign policy. It is, indeed, a shocking performance, and we second Mr. Vandenberg's suggestion. The President should declare plainly that Mr. Wallace in no way represents the United States Government. But this is not enough. It also should be made clear that Mr. Wallace actually does not represent even an important minority faction—that, as Senator Moore of Oklahoma has said, "he does not speak for anyone except the Communist rabble to which he has attached himself."

Mr. Wallace calls himself a Democrat. He formerly held national office as a Democrat. Unless he also is repudiated by the Democratic Party, his speeches in Britain and France can do great harm to the American interest in Europe, where many people apparently have the mistaken impression that he is spokesmen for a substantial American sentiment.

It would not be enough that Democrats in both House and Senate call a caucus and, by formal action declare that Wallace does not speak for them. Pressure should be brought to force the Attorney General to take whatever action is possible toward prosecuting the hybrid corn breeder, and Mr. Truman should be called upon to publicly denounce his former cabinet member.

Whatever Mr. Truman might say, and whatever the Democrats in Congress might do would, we assume, have the effect of reading Mr. Wallace out of the Party. Surely they would not hesitate to do it! Our country would gain by having Mr. Wallace cut down to size in Europe, where his every utterance is being given unreserved weight, especially in the Russian press, which pays no such attention to the statements of President Truman and Secretary Marshall.

His conduct is vicious and dangerous. He is coming to deserve an epithet, compared to which the Civil War label of Copperhead will seem mild. The Democrats, if they want to avoid the opprobrium, should act quickly and denounce him in no uncertain terms.

Judging by results internationally and in management-labor relations, a conference doesn't accomplish much more than a committee.

Moscow Warned America's Patience Running Out

Though it is not on the agenda presently before the Council of Foreign Ministers, the Korean question dominated the news from Moscow the other day. Secretary of State Marshall brought that about when his office at the Russian capital released the text of a letter he sent to Molotov on that issue.

Just why Secretary Marshall chose this particular moment and method of making the letter public is not clear. But it has at least notified Molotov that the Moscow conference cannot prevent this country from dealing with other pressing problems—and dealing with them vigorously.

The letter proposed that Russia and the United States agree to reconvene their joint commission in Korea, "on the basis of respect for the democratic right of freedom of opinion," in order to go ahead with the task of giving that country independence. It also proposed that a date be fixed some time next Summer for Washington and Moscow to review the work of the commission.

There seems to be small chance that Molotov will agree to either suggestion. Secretary Marshall implied as much when he went on to say that in the meantime the United States "sees no alternative to taking, without further delay, such steps in its zone as will advance the purposes" of the joint agreement.

The letter is one more warning that American patience with Soviet tactics and American faith in Soviet intentions are both running out and that this country is prepared to pursue a new policy of resistance to communist expansion in the East as in the West.

If Sinatra plans to whipsaw everyone who has made disparaging remarks about him, he had better hire a few more assistants.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

CORRECT CLUBFOOT EARLY

MOST babies are perfect when they are born but now and then defects are noted which mar an otherwise happy occasion. Nevertheless, many abnormalities can be remedied by modern methods of treatment. Clubfoot (talipes) is one such imperfection. It is a variable affair and may be mild or severe and affect one member or both. In some instances the structures are rotated inwardly or outwardly; others point up or down, or the arch is unusually high and the foot so shortened that it bends back on itself.

There are many reasons why these changes take place. Apparently, prior to birth the infant's feet became tangled or assumed an unnatural position which prevented their growing straight. The uterus may have been too small or an insufficent amount of fluid was present to avoid overcrowding. In others, the cord encircled the structures, interfering with proper growth.

No one can predict unfortunate "happenstances" of this type, but in a small percentage, the condition is hereditary. In these circumstances, none of the above mentioned factors plays a role. The handicap is passed along as a family trait.

It is marvelous what can be done for the disorder, particularly when we consider the extent of distortion. Improvement is possible because the bones in the ankles are just beginning to form and others have not even made their appearance. This means that the area is not firm but malleable, and can be molded like plastic material into the desired shape. Consequently, management must be started early before they become too rigid and contractures involve the surrounding soft tissues.

The condition can often be rectified with little difficulty by strapping the extremities and teaching the mother or nurse to manipulate the parts. The regimen may be instituted a day or two after birth but is sometimes postponed if it interferes with nursing or the handling of more important problems which occasionally occur to newborns. But attention should not be delayed too long as the more that is done during the first year, the better. Much of the responsibility of the project rests with the parents and, unless the job is done right, good results cannot be expected.

In more marked cases the physical adjusts the extremities, frequently while the youngster is under an anesthetic, and applies a cast immediately thereafter. Other patients require surgery, especially if nearby tendons and surrounding fibrous capsules are tight.

Six months or longer will be required, depending upon the degree of the deformity. But even after this time the child must be watched lest the feet return to their old position. Whenever there is the slightest suggestion of recurrence, counter-measures are taken. As the extremities are used more and more in walking, and the development of the bones is completed, less care is necessary and correction becomes more permanent. Thiamin chloride, thyroid, and a diet high in calcium, phosphorus, and vitamins A and D may hasten the growth of the skeletal structure.

AN ALCOHOL CURE

L. W. writes: The parents of a 6 year old allow her to serve cocktails at their parties and then permit her to sip her daddy's drink. This troubles me a great deal. Have you any advice?

REPLY

The practice should not be encouraged as bad habits are acquired soon enough. On the other hand, some parents believe that by allowing a youngster to take a sip, he will decide the taste is so unattractive that he won't want any more. Some fathers have allowed their sons to puff on a cigaret or cigar with the same thought in mind. The memory of the dizziness and nausea will keep the lad from attempting to smoke for a long time.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Truman Will Stump West This Summer; Prospects In Big Eastern States Are Dim, Leaders Admit; British Reserve Veto On Palestine Issue Before U. N.

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, April 15. — To those who sat backstage in the telephone negotiations, the strike—grim as it was—had interludes on comedy.

Early one morning, while Assistant Secretary of Labor John Gibson was closeted with the management moguls in the Labor Department, the phone jangled in an anteroom, and a voice demanded:

"Is Jack there?"

"Jack who?" asked Gibson, thinking the call might be for himself.

"I want to talk to Jack," persisted the caller. "Tell him the Big Apple is calling."

The assistant labor secretary turned to the negotiators and inquired if anyone named "Jack" was present.

"That's me," responded George S. Dring, assistant vice president of the telephone company. "I mean it's my code name. We have code names for most everybody here. The 'Big Apple' is our boss, C. F. Craig (vice president and leading A. T. and T. negotiator). We even have a name for your Mr. Warren. He's the 'Eager Beaver.'"

Truman On Stump

White House advisers are now convinced that the President should make a series of public appearances west of the Mississippi river this summer. Truman, himself, has agreed to the plan.

Soon after Congress adjourns, therefore, he will hit the trail—probably by train rather than by plane—and touch every state in the northwest before he's through.

This importan political decision is the result of a candid survey of Democratic prospects with Truman's current national popularity, they are not so certain about how many voters are actually pro-Truman. They wonder how many of those who tell the pollsters they like the way Truman is handling himself, will finally vote for him.

Democrat leaders also admit in private that Truman's prospects in the big eastern cities are dim. They see little hope of capturing such potent states as New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan. Without these big five, Truman will have to score a clean sweep west of the Mississippi. That's why plans are being laid for a western trip this summer.

Republicans Work Secretly

Plenty of fireworks exploded inside the House labor committee before it approved the tough labor-control bill last week end. Husky, redheader Ray Madden of Indiana, Democrat, set off most of the fireworks with a protest against being excluded from secret meeings while Republican colleagues whipped the labor bill into shape.

The Indiana congressman charged that he hadn't been shown a copy of the labor bill until "two hours" before Chairman Fred Hartley of New Jersey called the closed-door meeting to vote on it.

"Are we operating under the two-party system or aren't we?" exploded Madden. "This is the first time in my experience that a committee chairman has held meetings on legislation without both sides being present.

"Hearings were completed two weeks ago, but not until now—when he wants to get a vote—has the chairman condescended to call in Democrats. We had no hand in writing this bill. All we knew was what we read in the newspapers. And you expect us to vote—and vote intelligently — before we've hardly had a chance to read the bill"

"I don't know whether the chairman deliberately wanted to be unfair, but I don't like these tactics. Here's a bill that affects the lives of 30 million wage earners and their families, and you want us to vote on it on two hours' notice. Maybe you gentlemen can vote intelligently. I can't."

Hartley flushed during the scolding, but made no reply. Finally GOP Representative Ralph W. Gwinn of New York supported Madden. "The gentleman is right," he said, "in wanting more time to study the bill."

Despite this, the GOP majority decided to push the bill through immediately.

Billy Rose

This article bothered me. Same as you, I'm interested in gold. My interest dates from the day I found that if you had it, you didn't have to steal hot chestnuts from the Italian on the corner. You could walk right up like a toff and make a deal.

And so I took my fears to the wise old gentleman I know. Over the years, a lot of smart fellows have learned that Old Silvertop knows more answers than anybody around these parts. Especially in the economics and finance department.

I found him sunning himself on a bench in Central Park. "Tell me about gold," I said. "Why are we filling that cavity in Kentucky with it? How about the economists who say it's only good to plug up leaks in old rowboats? How come Pizarro crossed the briny and killed a lot of Incas to get some of it? Besides being pretty, why is it worth anything?"

The old boy, for whom presidents holler when their noses are in the nutcracker, gave me a little lecture. I wasn't taking notes, so I'll have to give it to you in my own razzmatazz words.

"The thing that makes an ounce of gold worth $35," he said, "is that it costs almost that much to locate it, dig it out of the ground and refine it. There is an occasional klondike where they get it out for less, but $35 is currently a fair world average.

"For many centuries, people have been willing to trade the labor that goes into goods and services for the labor that goes into digging gold. That's how money started. An agreed-upon object was used to swap labor for labor, woodchopping for shoemaking, fishing for hunting, riveting for rumba lessons. Indians used shells and beads. Eskimos used fox skins. Some African tribes used girls. Most of the civilized world settled on gold. For 2,000 years, the world has stayed with gold because it represented real work—therefore real value. The printing press money of the managed currency countries usually represents only a printing press and paper. And that's why a million Hungarian pengos won't buy an orange these days."

"But why gold?" I persisted. "Why not tin? Why not coal?"

"They're too bulky," said the man on the park bench. "We have twenty billions dollars worth of gold in one cellar in Kentucky. Coal worth that much would darn near blanket the Blue Grass state."

"Why not diamonds?" I asked him.

"There aren't enough to go around in a world with almost two billion humans. Besides, you can mold gold and stamp it. It's rare and attractive. No alchemist or scientist has come up with a process whereby a man-day of work would give you a ton of it. Should that ever happen, we'd have to find another medium of exchange. Until that happens, the gold in Fort Knox has value because it represents the labor necessary to duplicate it.

"Backed up by this gold, our currency has muscles. True, it had bigger muscles when we had a dollar's worth of gold for every dollar's worth of paper issued against it. It bought more roast beef. But even with only twenty billion backing up several times that much in paper, we're not in bad shape. Nobody respects our dollars except maybe the residents of Europe, Asia, South America, Africa and Australia.

"It may shock you to know the English pound can be purchased in New York this afternoon for $3.00, even though it's pegged at $4.02. When the British had gold in their vaults, the pound sold for $4.86.

"Like Aesop's fox who lost his tail, nations without gold are trying to convince the world it's much prettier not to have a tail. Every so often they send us an economist in striped trousers who tells us our gold is only good for charm bracelets. Some of our own self-declared geniuses have fallen for this monetary mumbo-jumbo. Some time back, these geniuses had the ear of a very important gentleman in our setup. They tried to persuade him to stop digging gold—that we didn't need it to back up our dollars. This important gentleman honored me by asking for my opinion.

"I gave him my answer in the form of a little story.

"Once an archeologist unearthed an ancient chest which dated back to the time of Alexander the Great. It contained gold coins and paper fiat money. The folding money was very pretty and could be used to paper a wall or wipe off a razor. But the coins — minted two thousand years back — were, as the saying goes, as good as gold. In any city of the world, you could use them to buy a meal, hire a room, or get your pants pressed."

"That's a good story," I said. "Was the important gentleman impressed?"

"Hard to say," said my friend. "But I do know the United States continued buying gold."

"This important gentleman didn't happen to have a wife with the same first name as my wife?" I inquired.

The old party on the park bench stretched his long legs and smiled.

Questionable Whether Wallace Has Violated Law By Addresses

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, April 15—Henry Wallace has stirred up the bitterest kind of feeling and resentment by his speech-making abroad but it is questionable whether he has violated any law. He is probably guilty of bad taste and bad judgment in attacking his own country's policies from the speaking platform in another country, but is within his constitutional rights so long as there is no state of war or no giving of military aid and comfort.

The statute which has been brought to the fore as a basis for possible prosecution is called the Logan Act. It was enacted on January 30, 1799, and never has been tested as to constitutionality. It was adopted at a time when means of communication were scant and there was no such thing as radio or cable or telegraph to report instantaneously what a citizen might say in a public speech. The law was probably directed at secret intrigue rather than public discussion. Here is the text of the Logan Act as taken from the Criminal Code:

"Every citizen of the United States, whether actually resident or abiding within the same, or in any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, or in any foreign country, who, without the permission or authority of the Government, directly or indirectly, commences or carries on any verbal or written correspondence of intercourse with any foreign government or any officer or agent thereof, with an intent to influence the measures or conduct of any foreign government or of any officer or agent thereof, in relation to any disputes or controversies with the United States, or to defeat the measures of the Government of the United States; and every person, being a citizen of or resident within the United States or in any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, and not duly authorized, who counsels, advises, or assists in any such correspondence with such intent, shall be fined not more than $5,000 and imprisoned not more than three years; but nothing in this section shall be construed to abridge the right of a citizen to apply, himself or his agent, to any foreign government or the agents thereof for redress of any injury which he may have sustained from such government or any of its agents or subjects."

No Such Dispute Exists

There is no dispute at present between the United States and Great Britain on the Greek-Turkish issue, but there are certain members of the British Labor Party's "left wing" who would like to see Great Britain adopt a policy of opposition to the program of the United States government in Greece and Turkey.

Mr. Wallace, by lambasting the policies of his own government, openly seeks to change those policies and to gain the support of public opinion in other countries for his views. But can it be said that he has entered for that purpose into "verbal or written correspondence" with the government of Great Britain or with the Russian government?

The problem has been complicated to Mr. Wallace's disadvantage somewhat by the use which the former vice president made of the radio facilities of the British Broadcasting Company. This is an official British government instrumentality. When Mr. Wallace availed himself of those radio facilities, he was in a sense using a governmental facility that could be construed as official intercourse. But it is quite possible that the British Broadcasting Company inquired of the American ambassador, Lewis Douglas, if he had any objection to the grant of radio facilities to Mr. Wallace. If it turns out that this did not occur but that the British government invited Mr. Wallace of its own initiative, through the British Broadcasting Company, to make a speech, a jury might consider such acceptance of as invitation as dangerously close to a law violation, since it was not authorized by the American government.

Churchill's Speech Recalled

But actually times have changed a good deal since the Logan Act was passed and it will be recalled that Winston Churchill made a speech at Fulton, Missouri, a year ago and the question of the propriety of such an address was raised by the Russian government. It was assumed that the President, who had asked Mr. Churchill to speak in Missouri, may have had knowledge of the subject matter of the speech but this was specifically denied. Anyway, whatever rights Winston Churchill enjoyed over here might seem to be logical for Mr. Wallace to enjoy abroad.

This, however, applies only to the technical or legal phases of the matter. It is nevertheless bad taste and bad judgment for any American to go abroad and attack the policies of his own government. The punishment for this is more severe in the court of public opinion than in the phrases of the Logan Act.

THESE DAYS By George E. Sokolsky

THE frigid reception accorded Henry Wallace in England is not surprising. Nobody likes a man who kicks his mother in the teeth.

The objection to what Henry Wallace is doing in Europe has nothing to do with his opinions. In this country no citizen is bound to accept the judgment of his President in any matter. In fact, the traditional cracker barrel was the symbol of the inalienable right of a free man to have his say. Forums scattered over the country, platforms for sense and nonsense, are characteristic of a people who do not fear untruth or even the truth, who believes in debate and discussion, who are ready to recognize that there may be another view of every question.

Wallace's opposition to the Truman Doctrine is a natural reaction of a One Worlder to the logic of his own fierce assertion of internationalism. After all, it was Henry Wallace who was ready to put a bottle of milk on every breakfast table, even if the recipient disliked milk. But he has suddenly discovered that his own policy of meddling intervention, interference is leading this country to the brink of war with Soviet Russia—and that was not part of the Wallace plan. He is caught in the necessity of declaring which is his own, his beloved land—and he becomes a neutral.

Not only does he assume neutrality but he turns to his own country's principal ally, Great Britain, and he advises the British people to be neutral. That is too much for them to take as it is too much for the American people to take.

Henry Wallace once wrote:

"My own bias is international. It is an inborn attitude with me. I have very deeply the feeling that nations should be naturally friendly to each other and express that friendship in international trade..."

But Henry Wallace also said:

"The march of freedom of the past 150 years has been a long-drawn-out people's revolution. In this Great Revolution of the people, there were the American Revolution of 1775, the French Revolution of 1792, the Latin-American revolutions of the Bolivarian era, the German Revolution of 1848, and the Russian Revolution of 1918. Each spoke for the common men in terms of blood on the battlefield. Some went to excess. But the significant thing is that the people groped their way to the light. More of them learned to think and work together.

"The people's revolution aims at peace and not at violence, but if the rights of the common man are attacked, it unleashes the ferocity of a she-bear who has lost a cub..."

And to this amazing discussion, he added this peroration:

"...We who live in the United States may think there is nothing very revolutionary about freedom of religion, freedom of expression, and freedom from the fear of secret police. But when we begin to think about the significance of freedom from want for the average man, then we know that the revolution of the past 150 years has not been completed, either here in the United States or in any other nation in the world. We know that this revolution can not stop until freedom from want has actually been attained."

It is all so curious, this man from the American soil who has placed himself at the head of world revolution at a time when man needs rest and peace; who stirs other countries to isolate his own native land, to leave it without friends. This restless yearning to firebrand mankind to revolution is not new with him, even at the cost of his own country's future. He said:

"...No nation will have the God-given right to exploit other nations. Older nations will have the privilege to help younger nations get started on the path to industrialization, but there must be neither military nor economic imperialism..."

Yet, he has not once spoken for the countries of Europe that have become puppets and satellites and the millions who have become little slaves. He wants this country to be neutral about that. He wants England and France to be neutral about that. He is the emissary of the enslaver singing hosannahs to revolution.

Delta Theta Chi To Mark Founder's Day Tonight

Local Chapter To Take Part In Conclave

Founder's day will be celebrated by Maryland Alpha Chapter, Delta Theta Chi sorority, and the 15th anniversary of the chapter be observed at a dinner party tonight. It will be held at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, beginning at 6:30.

Mrs. Helen Burke, assisted by Mrs. Kathryn Miller, will conduct a pledging ceremony for the pledges, Miss Dorothy Ebert, Miss Jane Ebert and Miss Frances Snowberger.

An initiation ceremony will be held for Miss Eudora Jochum, with Miss Jeanette Bonig and Miss Coretta Davis assisting Mrs. Burke.

Alpha Chapter will conduct the initiation ceremony for the provence conclave, which will be held in Washington, D. C., Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Burke, Miss Bonig and Miss Davis will officiate at the ceremony. Members from the local chapter to be initiated are Mrs. Ethel Bruce, Miss Doris See and Miss Rose McMahon. Others to attend from here are Mrs. Leo Miller, Miss Mary Lee Winebrenner, Mrs. Margaret Clancy, Miss Mildred Davis and Miss Mary Appel. The headquarters of the conclave will be the Twenty-four Hundred Club, 16th Street.

The educational program consisted of moving pictures celebrating Pan American week. They were entitled, "Popular Arts of Old Mexico," and showed weaving of dolls, animals and the national emblem, using toule reeds palm baskets; the construction and decoration of hand made furniture; carding and weaving wool, stressing how each locality has its own distinctive design.

There were also pictures of the hand turned pottery decorative tiles; miniature clay toys, hand rolled and painted; another art shown was carving balso wood roots into squares containing miniature villages in minute detail. There was also the highly decorated Tlaca Caque near Guadalagahan, which it was pointed out was most magnificent, with brilliant colored enamels polished by hand for a high permanent finish.

Recital To Be Given

A song recital by Rev. James A. Richards, with Mrs. James A. Richards at the piano, will be given at Davis Memorial Methodist Church at 7:30 Friday night.

Assisting on the program will be members of the Fort Hill Verse Speaking Choir, under the direction of Miss Gerardine Pritchard.

B And P Women Have Speaker; To Send Box To Orphan

The Business and Professional Women's Club had John J. Robinson as the guest speaker at the regular dinner-meeting last night at Central YMCA and formulated plans for sending another box to the Polish orphan the club adopted.

Speaking on "How To Make a Budget Work," Mr. Robinson, vice-president and trust officer of the Liberty Trust Company, first explained how to estimate one's income, set up a scale of expenditures in the order of their importance and allocating a certain amount to each. The same plan, he said, may be applied to clubs. He also touched lightly on the pension fund and commending the habit of saving, formed by purchasing war bonds, he urged his audience to provide for the future through savings.

Members are requested to bring any type of clothing, condensed milk, soaps, books, vitamin tables, toys and dried foods, to be sent to the Polish orphan the club has adopted. The child is one of five in the family.

Miss Anna Nicht, president, welcomed seven new members into the club, bringing the membership to a total of 73, and also introduced the speaker. Miss Dorothy Willison conducted the group singing and Miss Claire Livesay was program chairman.

W. Va. Sorority Has Banquet Here

The Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club was the scene of the West Virginia Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi's Founder's day banquet, recently. This occasion also marked the 16th anniversary of the founding of the sorority.

An "April Showers" motif was carried out in the table decorations, place cards and favors. The address of welcome was given by Georgeanne Eagle. Helen Criner using a fortune teller's crystal ball, gave the history of Beta Sigma Phi, pointing out that from a small group in Aberliene, Kansas, which formed the sorority in 1931, it has grown until now it has an international membership of over 60,000. A toast to the new members was given by Marie Coffman.

Following the dinner the Ritual of Jewels ceremony was read by Altrude Randalls, president, for the new members, Chris Kidner, Gay Kiser, Laura Grayson and Gwen Miller. Yellow rosebuds, the sorority flower, were presented to the new members and their sponsors.

Other members present were Jean Pifer, Daisy Goldsborough, Helen Miller, Anna Lee Plumb, Bertha Stullenbarger, Mary S. Huffman, Vivian Georghgan, Dorotha Sheetz, Clara Cathers, Sara Avers, Grace Huffman, Elberta Bosley, Mary Huffman and Elsie Idleman.

Dairy Workers Hold Annual Banquet-Dance

The annual banquet of the dairy workers was held by Local 924, recently at the LaVale fire hall, followed by a dance, with music by Bobbie Lee's Orchestra.

Besides members of the local and their ladies guests included the management and office personnel of the local dairies. Over 100 guests attended.

Twiggtown Club To Have Mother's Day Program

At the April meeting of the Twiggtown Homemakers Club plans were completed for the anniversary luncheon, which will be held at the home of Mrs. I. C. Drake and Mrs. Richard Thomas on May 10. Members are invited from 11 o'clock. A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon and a program commemorating Mother's day and the third anniversary of the founding of the club will be given in the afternoon.

The April meeting was held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George R. Bottenfield. In opening the group led by Mrs. P. N. Bottenfield, repeated the Lord's prayer and sang two Stephen Foster's songs, "Old Black Joe," and "Oh! Susanna." Roll call was answered with recent news items.

During the business session, the budget was revised and accepted, and the Welfare chairman, Mrs. Edith Bowman announced that collections for the recent Red Cross drive had been completed successfully.

For the monthly parliamentary drill the chairman presented a printed chart outlining the order to be followed in a business meeting. Mrs. J. Nelson Willison, Home Reading chairman, read, "We Are Not Amused," by Barbara Savage, a witty account of a women's club meeting in Connecticut.

The program was concluded with a humorous dialogue "I've Got a Good Man," in which Mrs. Charles Frost and Mrs. Austin Twigg portraying two farm women, Mrs. Barney and Mrs. Simpson, discussed the merits and short comings of their respective husbands. Mrs. Charles Banger, chairman of dramatics was announcer.

Women's CTP To Invite Men To May 27 Dinner

The Women's Co-operative Traffic Program of the Baltimore and Ohio formulated plans for the annual May dinner and for a joint meeting of the men and women, at the meeting last night at the Queen City hotel.

Mrs. Elsie Kilroy presided and it was decided to make an innovation this year and invite the men as guests for the dinner, which will be held May 27, at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. Mrs. Emily Miller was named chairman of arrangements with Mrs. Virginia Brant, co-chairman.

The invocation will be given by Mrs. Elizabeth Nave, who was named chairman of decorations. The Reception committee includes Mrs. G. A. McGinn, Mrs. Ildra Gauntz, Mrs. Jean Lookabaugh; Entertainment, Mrs. Karl Bachman, Mrs. Hallie Tracie, Mrs. Mary Conn; Tickets, Mrs. Brant, rs. Marjory Ziler and Mrs. Joseph Fisher.

C. A. Fullerton, speci representantive of the CTP, Baltimore, will be the guest speaker a the joint meeting, which will be held May 6 in the ball room of the Queen City Hotel. His topic will be the "New Sentinel Freight," which was recently initiated on the B. and O. System. There will also e a musical program.

The club voted to sponsr sending two School Patrol Boys to the meeting in Washington and welcomed Mrs. Virginia McKenzie as a new member. Mrs Marie Arve was named chairman for the May 20 meeting.

A social hour concluded the meeting and games were played under the chairmansh of Mrs. Josephine Fisher.

Delta Theta Chi To Mark Founder's Day Tonight

Local Chapter To Take Part In Conclave

Founder's day will be celebrated by Maryland Alpha Chapter, Delta Theta Chi sorority, and the 15th anniversary of the chapter be observed at a dinner party tonight. It will be held at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, beginning at 6:30.

Mrs. Helen Burke, assisted by Mrs. Kathryn Miller, will conduct a pledging ceremony for the pledges, Miss Dorothy Ebert, Miss Jane Ebert and Miss Frances Snowberger.

An initiation ceremony will be held for Miss Eudora Jochum, with Miss Jeanette Bonig and Miss Coretta Davis assisting Mrs. Burke.

Alpha Chapter will conduct the initiation ceremony for the provence conclave, which will be held in Washington, D. C., Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Burke, Miss Bonig and Miss Davis will officiate at the ceremony. Members from the local chapter to be initiated are Mrs. Ethel Bruce, Miss Doris See and Miss Rose McMahon. Others to attend from here are Mrs. Leo Miller, Miss Mary Lee Winebrenner, Mrs. Margaret Clancy, Miss Mildred Davis and Miss Mary Appel. The headquarters of the conclave will be the Twenty-four Hundred Club, 16th Street.

The educational program consisted of moving pictures celebrating Pan American week. They were entitled, "Popular Arts of Old Mexico," and showed weaving of dolls, animals and the national emblem, using toule reeds palm baskets; the construction and decoration of hand made furniture; carding and weaving wool, stressing how each locality has its own distinctive design.

There were also pictures of the hand turned pottery decorative tiles; miniature clay toys, hand rolled and painted; another art shown was carving balso wood roots into squares containing miniature villages in minute detail. There was also the highly decorated Tlaca Caque near Guadalagahan, which it was pointed out was most magnificent, with brilliant colored enamels polished by hand for a high permanent finish.

Recital To Be Given

A song recital by Rev. James A. Richards, with Mrs. James A. Richards at the piano, will be given at Davis Memorial Methodist Church at 7:30 Friday night.

Assisting on the program will be members of the Fort Hill Verse Speaking Choir, under the direction of Miss Gerardine Pritchard.

B And P Women Have Speaker; To Send Box To Orphan

The Business and Professional Women's Club had John J. Robinson as the guest speaker at the regular dinner-meeting last night at Central YMCA and formulated plans for sending another box to the Polish orphan the club adopted.

Speaking on "How To Make a Budget Work," Mr. Robinson, vice-president and trust officer of the Liberty Trust Company, first explained how to estimate one's income, set up a scale of expenditures in the order of their importance and allocating a certain amount to each. The same plan, he said, may be applied to clubs. He also touched lightly on the pension fund and commending the habit of saving, formed by purchasing war bonds, he urged his audience to provide for the future through savings.

Members are requested to bring any type of clothing, condensed milk, soaps, books, vitamin tables, toys and dried foods, to be sent to the Polish orphan the club has adopted. The child is one of five in the family.

Miss Anna Nicht, president, welcomed seven new members into the club, bringing the membership to a total of 73, and also introduced the speaker. Miss Dorothy Willison conducted the group singing and Miss Claire Livesay was program chairman.

W. Va. Sorority Has Banquet Here

The Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club was the scene of the West Virginia Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi's Founder's day banquet, recently. This occasion also marked the 16th anniversary of the founding of the sorority.

An "April Showers" motif was carried out in the table decorations, place cards and favors. The address of welcome was given by Georgeanne Eagle. Helen Criner using a fortune teller's crystal ball, gave the history of Beta Sigma Phi, pointing out that from a small group in Aberliene, Kansas, which formed the sorority in 1931, it has grown until now it has an international membership of over 60,000. A toast to the new members was given by Marie Coffman.

Following the dinner the Ritual of Jewels ceremony was read by Altrude Randalls, president, for the new members, Chris Kidner, Gay Kiser, Laura Grayson and Gwen Miller. Yellow rosebuds, the sorority flower, were presented to the new members and their sponsors.

Other members present were Jean Pifer, Daisy Goldsborough, Helen Miller, Anna Lee Plumb, Bertha Stullenbarger, Mary S. Huffman, Vivian Georghgan, Dorotha Sheetz, Clara Cathers, Sara Avers, Grace Huffman, Elberta Bosley, Mary Huffman and Elsie Idleman.

By JOHN CROSBY

Yes, Indians Have Beards

Americans have a weird thrist for dizzy information, which may to a certain extent be slaked by listening to The Answer Man every evening, Monday through Saturday over Mutual and Yankee network stations. New Yorkers must be unusually thirsty for odd bits of knowledge for WOR carries the program twice a day, at 1:45 p. m., and 7:15 p. m. My own interest in when American troops first used balloons in battle is limited, but The Answer Man informs me there are hundreds of thousands of persons who can't sleep nights for wondering. (Battle of Bull Run in the Civil War.)

John Crosby

I have always divided people into two broad classifications—the hard fact, or where and when, school and the why, or how come, school. The first class grow up to be newspaper reporters or insurance actuaries or Robert Ripley, the second become philosophers or radio critics. The Answer Man satisfies the curiosity of the first class, but leaves my own class groping in the dark.

A business man in the Bronx, for instance, recently asked The Answer Man where he could buy a camel, preferably a two-hump camel. He would take a dromedary but he really didn't want a dromedary. Well, it's virtually impossible to buy a camel in this country, The Answer Man said. There hasn't been a shipment of camels to New York in ten years. Some are expected in May, but they are all sold ($1,000 a head.) In other words, no soap.

That sort of answer will satisfy a hard-fact man but just arouses the curiosity of a how-come man. Why does the man in the Bronx want a camel? Is he tired of the subway? Is he the sort of father that simply can't say no to Junior? ("Two humps, daddy, and don't try to palm off any old dromedaries on me, either.") Neither of these explanations seems quite satisfactory. My own conclusion is that the Bronx man is a practical joker. He planned to put the camel in bed with his old friend Bill Winship who filled his bathtub with Jello at the last Republican convention.

Why, for instance, does anyone want to know whether burglars had developed the art of safe blowing by 1900? The way I figure it tnis man is just trying to stop his wife from boasting about her relatives. "Great Uncle Filbert was too the first man to blow a safe," I can hear her saying in cold level tones. "It was the old Manhattan Trust Company safe in 1903." "Nonsense," says the husband irritably. "People were blowing safes as early as 1900 and I can prove it." (He did, too. The Answer Man says safe-blowing was perfected as early as 1847.

For hard-fact men, The Answer Man is full of curious information of questionable value. Buffaloes can't do tricks beyond pulling plows. Eskimos at the North Pole don't eat penguins because penguines live at the South Pole. (Admiral Byrd doesn't eat penguins, either, my own researcher informs me. He gives them to zoos). Yes, there was a dog who had his own seeing-eye dog, a collie in Chicago who was led around by a dachsund named Silver, a piece of information which would have driven the late Alexander Woollcott into paroxysms of prose.

Now to answer a few questions myself. The Answer Man is Albert Mitchell, a former bandleader who used to carry a "World Almanac" around in his pocket and settle disputes between the tuba player and the first trumpet on who shot McKinley. Eventually he threw away the baton and went into the answer business. Yes, he's been wrong lots of times, kiddies. His most sustained error, one which persisted for years, was the origin of the word "okay." Mitchell, taking Woodrow Wilson as his source, said it was an old Choctaw Word that found its way into the language. Further research, he says, revealed that Martin Van Buren started it wnen he founded the O. K. Democratic Club after the initials of his old home town Old Kinderhook, N. Y. A man who belonged to the O. K. Club was an O. K. boy or just O. K.

Years ago, Mitchell started an uproar when he announced that Adolf Hitler was a Roman Catholic. That provoked thunderous indignation from Catholic listeners but Mitchell sticks to it. His sources, he says, were respectively the Church itself and Hitler. His researchers phoned the German Information Service (this was prewar) and the service cabled Hitler personally, who said yes.

The question asked most often in the last ten years is—Do Indians have beards? Yes, they do, sparse ones. They used to pick out the hairs with bone tweezers but now they use Gillettes or Schicks just like the rest of us.

Eventually he threw away the baton and went into the answer business. Yes, he's been wrong lots of times, kiddies. His most sustained error, one which persisted for years, was the origin of the word "okay." Mitchell, taking Woodrow Wilson as his source, said it was an old Choctaw Word that found its way into the language. Further research, he says, revealed that Martin Van Buren started it when he founded the O. K. Democratic Club after the initials of his old home town Old Kinderhook, N. Y. A man who belonged to the O. K. Club was an O. K. boy or just O. K.

Years ago, Mitchell started an uproar when he announced that Adolf Hitler was a Roman Catholic. That provoked thunderous indignation from Catholic listeners but Mitchell sticks to it. His sources, he says, were respectively the Church itself and Hitler. His researchers phoned the German Information Service (this was prewar) and the service cabled Hitler personally, who said yes.

The question asked most often in the last ten years is—Do Indians have beards? Yes, they do, sparse ones. They used to pick out the hairs with bone tweezers but now they use Gillettes or Schicks just like the rest of us.

Cresaptown Students Visit Radio Station

Students of Mrs. Madeline T. Michael's room of the Cresaptown school visited Radio Station WTBO last week, watched broadcasts and were taken on a tour of the station, learning many interesting things.

Those in the group included:

Brothers Fined $27.95

Two Christie Road brothers were fined a total of $27.95 by Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., in Trial Magistrates Court yesterday on three state motor law charges.

Howard H. Hill was fined $10.75 for operating a motor vehicle without a license and $6.45 for reckless driving. His brother, John E. Hill, was fined $10.75 on a charge of permitting an unauthorized person to operate a motor vehicle. State Trooper Robert D. Henline arrested the pair Sunday on Route 40 at Narrows Park.

Joseph S. Johnson, 1214 Lafayette Avenue, charged with passing on a curve on Route 40 at Eckhart on April 10, forfeited bond of $6.45. He was arrested by Trooper G. M. Rotruck.

Dancing Lessons In Order

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am a boy 16 years old. A prom is coming up in my school, and I wish to attend it. I have never had much experience dancing, or in dating girls.

I have been thinking of inviting a girl who lives in the next town. I have seen her very frequently and have always stopped to talk to her, but as I have never taken her out, I would like to know if it is all right to invite her to the prom.

"WORRIED"

Dear "Worried";

Certainly it is all right to invite this girl to your prom. Such an invitation would be a very good way to begin dating her.

But if, as you say, you're not very good at dancing, it might be sensible to get a few lessons before the prom, so that you'll feel perfectly at home on the dance floor when the big night comes. You wouldn't want your girl to find you stumbling all over her feet, would you?

You don't have to go somewhere and pay for lessons, either. Haven't you a sister, or some other relative who would be willing to help you brush up on your dancing, with the aid of radio or record player? Or an obliging girl friend? You'll have lots more fun at the prom if you're sure of yourself as a partner, and you'll make a better impression on your guest, too.

Girl Planning Marriage Is Making Mountain Out Of A Molehill

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am getting married in a few months, and the fellow I am marrying is always asking what became of a picture of myself that I had when he first met me. He wanted me to give him the picture when we first met, but instead I gave it to another fellow. He didn't know this, and I am afraid he will find out now.

He says there is no reason for him not to have that picture, since I am going to be his wife, and I don't know what to do. Do you think it would be terrible of me to ask it back from the boy I gave it to?

"JERGENS"

Dear "Jergens":

This is what I would call making a mountain out of a molehill in other words, a very trivial matter for you to be blowing up into such a problem.

There would be nothing out of the way whatever in asking for the return of your picture if you feel your fiance is not going to be satisfied unless he has it. If the other young man is a gentleman, he would accede to your request promply when you explained the situation.

On the other hand, it also seems a small thing for your fiance to make an issue over. Is he such a jealous type that you are afraid he would be angry because a boy who used to be a friend of yours has your picture? Can't you simply tell him that you gave this picture has your picture? Can't you simply tell him that you gave this picture to so-and-so long before there was anything serious between the two of you? Maybe he is just

Canadian Girl Visits Parsons

By VIRGINIA CHASE

PARSONS, April 15—Miss Betty Plum, Alberta, Canada, was a guest in the Junior High School of Parsons. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Plum and a cousin of James and Annabelle Phillips. She discussed with Miss Lipscomb's class the Canadian customs, climate, and types of crops in comparison with those of the United States.

The students asked Miss Plum questions as to preparation in coming from her country to the United States, rate of exchange, and travel. This was Miss Plum's first trip to West Virginia. She spent six weeks here and started her return trip Sunday. She expressed her appreciation for the courtesy shown her while in West Virginia.

Receives Award

Donna Jean Orr, a senior in Parsons high has been awarded the scholastic achievement award. She received honorable mention in the senior division of the business education world's monthly bookkeeping contest. The award is made in recognition of an outstanding solution submitted in a monthly bookkeeping contest in which several thousand students participated.

The letter, accompanying the award to Donna Jean stated—"This award is made in recognition of the exceptionally fine solution submitted by this student in competition with approximately 6,000 students representing 39 states and several Canadian Provinces. Donna Jean is the only one in Parsons High to receive this award."

"IT'S A FINER COLA"

MARINE VETERANS ENLIST IN RESERVE

Four young Marine veterans, two of whom received the Purple Heart decoration after they were wounded during the Iwo Jima campaign, were sworn into the inactive reserve of the Marine Corps Monday night by Maj. Remsen J. Cole, USMCR, who is employed in the advertising department of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

Each was sworn in with the rank of corporal, the same rank held at discharge. The ceremony was held in the local Marine recruiting office, accoring to Tech. Sgt. Vernon B. Debnam, recruiter.

The two Purple Heart veterans are George Lee McKenzie, Flintstone, who served 20 months overseas; and Paul Anthony Divico, 523 Virginia Avenue, who won four battle stars during his 20 months overseas. Both enlisted for two years.

The other new reservists are Calvin Earl Paugh, Oakland, who enlisted for three years and sered 19 months overseas; and Paul Francis Cline, 640 Baker Street, a Celanese empioye, who enlisted for four years. Cline served 28 months in the Marine Corps.

Sgt. Debnam said there are now eight Marine reservists in this area. If 100 men are enlisted, it is planned to activate a resere company, he added.

Nursing Examination Set

A pre-entrance examination for young women who plan to enter the September class of the Memorial Hospital School of Nursing will be held Saturday, May 10, at the nurses' home, according to Miss Frances L. Loftus, R. N., director of nurses.

Dr. Maartin Hamerick, of Frostburg State Teachers' College, will conduct the examination, which is being held early to allow adequate time for applicants to carry out recommendations made at the time of their physical examination.

Although another examination will be held late in the summer, Miss Loftus said it is hoped the majority of interested applicants will take the May 10 examination.

Young women who would like further information regarding the School may confere with Miss Loftus at the hospital any Saturday between 10 a. m. and noon.

Council To Operate Recreation Park At Moorefield

By KATHERINE FISHER

MOOREFIELD, April 15 — The Moorefield Lions Club will organize a community council to operate the Children's Recreation Park at the bulwarks again this summer. All community organizations will be invited to participate in sponsoring the park, securing a life guard and making additional improvements to the recreational facilities. R. J. Bean will be the chairman of the Lions committee. This action was decided at the meeting of the club Friday night at the Airport Inn.

The Lions will give away a home freezer unit for the benefit of the Glasses Fund. A total of 24 pair of glasses were given to needy children during the past year.

A nominating committee composed of the past presidents of the club will bring in the nominations for the club officers for the next year at the meeting to be held May 5. Plans were completed for the Ladies Night and the entertainment of John V. Anderson, District Governor of the Northern District of West Virginia on May 7. The Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Company will serve the banquet.

Clyde Shanholtzer, R. J. Bean and E. B. Thrush were appointed as a committee to erect Lions welcome signs along the highway on two roads leading into town.

Foster E. Arnold and H. Gus Muntzing were presented with special awards for memberships they had secured in a recent membership drive. Attendance awards were presented to W. C. H. Poole, John T. St. Clair, Clyde Shanholtzer, J. E. Matson, Stanley P. Hawse, Irvin Bowman, F. E. Arnold, and Robert Hott.

Senator Ralph J. Bean read a letter from State Road Commissioner E. L. Worthington stating that Main Street from the Bridge to the high school would be paved and curbs installed within the next few months.

Legion Auxiliary Meets

Daniel Wilson and Karl Keller met with the Auxiliary of the American Legion Monday evening and made a final report on the redecoration of the room set aside in the building for their permanent use. The Legion has spent $300 having the floors sanded and varnished, walls and ceilings refinished, venetian blinds put up, light fixtures and outlets installed. This room has been allotted to the Auxiliary for its use.

Mrs. Ted Sager was appointed chairman for the Poppy Sale and 1,000 poppies were ordered.

The secretary read the rules of eligibility for membership which she had received and they were discussed by the members. To become a member of the American Legion Auxiliary a woman must be a wife, mother, daughter or sister of a Legionaire or (2) wife, mother, daughter or sister of a veteran who died in service or died after receiving his honorabe discharge or (3) been in service herself. No one else is eligible for membership.

The president announced that the district meeting would be held in Piedmont Saturday, May 10.

The membership committee, under the leadership of Mrs. J. B. Golliday, reported 72 members. The quota for the local group is 76 and the ladies hope to secure the other four members this week.

Drapery material was purchased for upholstering and window drapes.

After the business meeting, Mrs. L. R. Grover, Mrs. Courtney Pratt and Miss Ruth Kessel entertained at the White House Inn.

Religious Institute

A one day religious Education Institute will be held in the Romney Presbyterian Church, April 23 beginning at 3 p. m. The meeting is for pastors, Sunday school superintendents, teachers, youth work leaders, men-of-the-church and all intrested in the work of the Sunday School and is sponsored by the Committee of Religious Eudcation of Winchester Presbytry.

Rev. Charles Kernan, pastor of the Moorefield Presbyterian Church, will make the Inspirational address at 8 p. m. and Rev. W. Norman Cook, director of the Field program, will address the group at 3:45. There will be group conferences and a fellowship supper at the church.

Attend Confernce

Four representatives of the Hardy County Classroom Teachers Association attended a conference at Jackson's Mill Friday through Monday and heard nationally known education specialists discuss school problems during the four day conference.

Delegates from Hardy county were Miss Mildred Hott, Hardy County chairman of the Classroom Teachers Association, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Moyers delegates from the Mathias section and Miss Jewell Matthews, chairman of Finer Human Relations committee for the C. T. A. Representatives from forty three of the state's fifty-five counties were present at the conference.

Qualifies As Constable

In recess of the court Ted R. Sager qualified as constable for Moorefield District, took oath and posted bond in the amount of $1,500 with O. H. Bean and Tom Hawse as surety.

E. A. Hawse qualified as notary public, took oath and posted bond in the amount of $250 with C. C. Wise as surety.

Secures Fire Escape

The Safety Committee of the Capon Valley Fire Company at Wardensville was successful in securing a fire escape for the graded school, according to the report of Maurice G. Beall, chairman of the committee. Beall and the members of the committee met with the school board requesting the fire escape and the board agreed to erect the escape at once.

A committee consisting of Howard Hawkins, chairman, Harry Dietz and Maurice G. Beall were named by the company to confer with the mayor and members of the town council of Wardensville to formulate plans for eliminating many dangerous fire hazards in the town. Also to discuss methods of improving fire protection in the town.

Class To Give Play

The Sophomore Class of Mathias High School will present a play "Bolts and Nuts" on April 19 with curtain time at 8 o'clock. A matinee will be given at 1:30 on the afternoon of Friday the 18. Members of the cast are Winona Jenkins, Doris Moyers, Joyce Bane, Anna Foltz, Jerry Hepner, Bill Wood, Ralph Fogle, Lawrence See, Betty Branson, Wilma Stultz, Gene Stultz and Orville Souder.

The cast has been rehearsing for the past month.

Burning over the lawn is inadvisable. It is much better to rake it with an iron rake to remove the litter and dead grass. Early reseeding and fertilizing of old lawns will help to restore them to their former beauty.

MOOREFIELD, April 15 — The Moorefield Lions Club will organize a community council to operate the Children's Recreation Park at the bulwarks again this summer. All community organizations will be invited to participate in sponsoring the park, securing a life guard and making additional improvements to the recreational facilities. R. J. Bean will be the chairman of the Lions committee. This action was decided at the meeting of the club Friday night at the Airport Inn.

The Lions will give away a home freezer unit for the benefit of the Glasses Fund. A total of 24 pair of glasses were given to needy children during the past year.

A nominating committee composed of the past presidents of the club will bring in the nominations for the club officers for the next year at the meeting to be held May 5. Plans were completed for the Ladies Night and the entertainment of John V. Anderson, District Governor of the Northern District of West Virginia on May 7. The Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Company will serve the banquet.

Cylde Shanholtzer, R. J. Bean and E. B. Thrush were appointed as a committee to erect Lions welcome signs along the highway on two roads leading into town.

Foster E. Arnold and H. Gus Muntzing were presented with special awards for memberships they had secured in a recent membership drive. Attendance awards were presented to W. C. H. Poole, John T. St. Clair, Clyde Shanholtzer, J. E. Matson, Stanley P. Hawse, Irvin Bowman, F. E. Arnold, and Robert Hott.

Senator Ralph J. Bean read a letter from State Road Commissioner E. L. Worthington stating that Main Street from the Bridge to the high school would be paved and curbs installed within the next few months.

Legion Auxiliary Meets

Daniel Wilson and Karl Keller met with the Auxiliary of the American Legion Monday evening and made a final report on the redecoration of the room set aside in the building for their permanent use. The Legion has spent $300 having the floors sanded and varnished, walls and ceilings refinished, venetian blinds put up, light fixtures and outlets installed. This room has been allotted to the Auxiliary for its use.

Mrs. Ted Sager was appointed chairman for the Poppy Sale and 1,000 poppies were ordered.

The secretary read the rules of eligibility for membership which she had received and they were discussed by the members. To become a member of the American Legion Auxiliary a woman must be a wife, mother, daughter or sister of a Legionaire or (2) wife, mother, daughter or sister of a veteran who died in service or died after receiving his honorabe discharge or (3) been in service herself. No one else is eligible for membership.

The president announced that the district meeting would be held in Piedmont Saturday, May 10.

The membership committee, under the leadership of Mrs. J. B. Golliday, reported 72 members. The quota for the local group is 76 and the ladies hope to secure the other four members this week.

Drapery material was purchased for upholstering and window drapes.

After the business meeting, Mrs. L. R. Grover, Mrs. Courtney Pratt and Miss Ruth Kessel entertained at the White House Inn.

Religious Institute

A one day religious Education Institute will be held in the Romney Presbyterian Church, April 23 beginning at 3 p. m. The meeting is for pastors, Sunday school superintendents, teachers, youth work leaders, men-of-the-church and all intrested in the work of the Sunday School and is sponsored by the Committee of Religious Eudcation of Winchester Presbytry.

Rev. Charles Kernan, pastor of the Moorefield Presbyterian Church, will make the Inspirational address at 8 p. m. and Rev. W. Norman Cook, director of the Field program, will address the group at 3:45. There will be group conferences and a fellowship supper at the church.

Attend Confernce

Four representatives of the Hardy County Classroom Teachers Association attended a conference at Jackson's Mill Friday through Monday and heard nationally known education specialists discuss school problems during the four day conference.

Delegates from Hardy county were Miss Mildred Hott, Hardy County chairman of the Classroom Teachers Association, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Moyers delegates from the Mathias section and Miss Jewell Matthews, chairman of Finer Human Relations committee for the C. T. A. Representatives from forty three of the state's fifty-five counties were present at the conference.

Qualifies As Constable

In recess of the court Ted R. Sager qualified as constable for Moorefield District, took oath and posted bond in the amount of $1,500 with O. H. Bean and Tom Hawse as surety.

E. A. Hawse qualified as notary public, took oath and posted bond in the amount of $250 with C. C. Wise as surety.

Secures Fire Escape

The Safety Committee of the Capon Valley Fire Company at Wardensville was successful in securing a fire escape for the graded school, according to the report of Maurice G. Beall, chairman of the committee. Beall and the members of the committee met with the school board requesting the fire escape and the board agreed to erect the escape at once.

A committee consisting of Howard Hawkins, chairman, Harry Dietz and Maurice G. Beall were named by the company to confer with the mayor and members of the town council of Wardensville to formulate plans for eliminating many dangerous fire hazards in the town. Also to discuss methods of improving fire protection in the town.

Class To Give Play

The Sophomore Class of Mathias High School will present a play "Bolts and Nuts" on April 19 with curtain time at 8 o'clock. A matinee will be given at 1:30 on the afternoon of Friday the 18. Members of the cast are Winona Jenkins, Doris Moyers, Joyce Bane, Anna Foltz, Jerry Hepner, Bill Wood, Ralph Fogle, Lawrence See, Betty Branson, Wilma Stultz, Gene Stultz and Orville Souder.

The cast has been rehearsing for the past month.

Burning over the lawn is inadvisable. It is much better to rake it with an iron rake to remove the litter and dead grass. Early reseeding and fertilizing of old lawns will help to restore them to their former beauty.

Myrtle Temple, Pythian Sisters, To Have Program

Midland Group To Observe Anniversary

By WILLIAM WILSON

MIDLAND, April 15 — Myrtle Temple No. 2, Pythian Sisters of Midland, will celebrate their 45th anniversary Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in firemen's armory.

Special invitations have been issued to:

Rev. Raymond Crowe, pastor of the Methodist Church, in Midland. Supreme Chief Mildred Seney of Baltimore; Supreme Guard Francis Davis, Keyser; Genevieve Wagner, grand chief of Cumberland; Margaret Hixson, district deputy grand chief of Cumberland; Anchor Lodge No. 111 Knights of Pythias, Midland; Morning Star Temple No. 1, Lonaconing; Calanthe Temple No. 3, Frostburg; Manhattan Temple No. 8, Cumberland; and Garrett Temple No. 17, Oakland. Pearl Blair will be mistress of ceremonies.

Myrtle Temple was instituted April 15, 1902 by M. Josie Nelson, with the following 19 women being charter members:

Margaret Eisentrout Taylor, Maggie Long Layman, Mary Muir Kroll, Sarah Jane Wilson, Susana Thrasher, Matilda Pierce, Annie Owens, Minnie Densmore, Marion Kerr, Lottie Whitfield, Elizabeth Straus, Virginia Densmore, Sarah Bowen, Fannie Goodrich, Lucy Marshall, Sarah Welling, Mrs. Thomas Campbell, Annie Owen, Kuningunda Dawson.

Only four of the charter members are living, three of the four are still active members and will be honor guests. They are Margaret Taylor, Maggie Long and Mary Kroll. The temple has 78 sisters, 10 past chiefs, three past grand chiefs of the state of Maryland, Hannah Powell, Jane Russell and Pearl Blair.

Thes taff of 16 women, captained by Rhoda McKenzie, will wear long white dresses for special floor work. The program will open with prayer and song, salute and pledge to the flag, address of welcome, greeting from Anchor Lodge; David Williams and Nellie Miller will sing solos; Bertie Clark, will give a recitation; Carl Donald Jr., and Sonya Robertson, small children, will be dressed in white and will carry the corsage for the honored guest.

Forty, 25 year membership certificates will be presented by Grand Chief Genevieve Wagner. John Laslon will show moving picture of Damon and Pythias and Thomas Taylor will recite the story of the founding of the Knights of Pythias.

Catherine Stevens will be pianist for the programs. The hall will be decorated with a lighted cross, colors of the order and American flags. Refreshments will be served and the meeting will close with singing "God Be With You 'Til We Meet Again".

Homemakers To Meet

The Midland Homemakers will meet Wednesday April 16 at 10 a. m. in the Red Men's hall with classes in sewing and cutting patterns for all who wish to learn. Mary Baker, chairman and Martha Blair co-chairman will be in charge. The afternoon session will be held at 1:30 at which time business will be transacted.

George Clise, 68, Retired Farmer, Dies At Red Hill

Final Rites To Be Conducted Tomorrow

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, April 15—George Clise, 68, of Dan's Mountain, near Midland, a retired farmer, died this morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. Mary Laber, Red Hill. He was unmarried and had been residing with his brother, John Clise, Narrows Park, for the past few months on account of illness.

A son of the late George Clise and Lavina Winters Clise, he leaves no other immediate relatives besides his brother and sister. The body is at the Durst Funeral Home where a funeral service will be held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. Interment will be in Allegany Cemetery.

To Speak At Church

Frank Stone, a student at Frostburg State Teachers' College, will be the guest speaker Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at Welsh Baptist Memorial Church. A rally of the Adult Union of the church, of which Miss Elizabeth Workman is chairman, will be held.

The program, planned as a youth night gathering, will include numbers by Betty Ann Hanna and Frank Diehl and group singing by a girls' chorus. Rev. W. D. Reese, pastor, extends an invitation to all persons who may be interested.

Robb Addresses Rotarians

John Robb, Cumberland, was the guest speaker Monday evening at the weekly dinner of the Frostburg Rotary Club. He described his experiences in India while stationed there during the war. The program was in charge of F. Earl Kreitzburg, a past president of the club, and the speaker was introduced by W. Earle Cobey, Cumberland.

Visitors present were Rotarians T. Warner Lowery, Ralph Martin, Rev. Kenneth Rizer and Stanley Hanna, all of the Piedmont, W. Va., Club; and John Sween, Earl Wilhelm, Paul Martin and Ronald Hess, senior students of Beall High School. The program committee will present the program next Monday evening.

Stewardship Forum Planned

A stewardship forum will be conducted Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in First Methodist Church. The text will be "The Fine Art Of Using," written by Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, pastor of Christ Church, New York City, and radio preacher of the National Broadcasting Company.

The stewardship forum will meet every Wednesday night for six weeks. This is the study book for the Methodist Church for 1947 and each member of the church is expected to be present. The pastor, Rev. Watson E. Holley, will be in charge of the forum this week. The public is cordially invited to be present.

The committee on nominations will meet at the close of the forum. Members of the committee are Rev. Mr. Holley, chairman; J. Taylor Crump, Walter L. Cook and Miss Bessie S. Carson.

Announce Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. George Shurg, 56 Spring Street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Pearl Leona, to Alva Lewis, Thomas, W. Va., in Cumberland on April 5, with Mr. and Mrs. George Pappas as their attendants.

The bride was attired in a light blue suit with navy blue accessories. She wore a corsage of red rosebuds. Mrs. Pappas wore a gray suit with red accessories and a corsage of gardenias and red rosebuds. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The couple is residing at 90 West Main Street.

Frostburg Briefs

John Lewis, Consolidation, former manager of the Frostburg Community swimming pool, is excavating for the erection of a building at the pool in which he plans to engage in business.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Conrad, 108 Ormond Street, announce the birth of a daughter, Saturday in Miners Hospital. Mrs. Conrad is the former Miss Iola Morgan. They are the parents of six children.

The junior choir of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will hold a rehearsal Thursday at 7 p. m. at the church. The senior choir will meet for the same purpose at 8 p. m. in the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shockey, Route 3, Meyersdale, Pa., announce the birth of a daughter Sunday in Miners Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harper, 12 Water Street, announce the birth of a son Monday morning in Miners Hospital.

Sodality devotions will be resumed Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in St. Michael's Catholic Church. Following the service the sodality bowling league will meet in the school auditorium.

The Men's Social Club of Eckhart Methodist Church will hold a supper in the church basement Friday evening, April 18.

The Frostburg City Bowling League held its annual end-of-the-season banquet Monday evening at Workman's restaurant, East Main Street, with 40 members of the various teams present. Speakers were Fred Crowe, former mayor of Frostburg, and A. G. Ramey. The league schedule, played at the Majestic Bowling Alleys during the winter months, was one of the most successful since the league was organized several years ago.

The meeting of the Frostburg Business Association, announced for Thursday evening in the City Hall, has been postponed until Friday evening to enable members to attend the concert of the Maryland Folk Singers at Frostburg State Teachers' College. Reports will be made by committees soliciting funds for the proposed factory of the Michael Berkowitz Company.

The drum and bugle corps of Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion, will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the auditorium of Beall Elementary School for practice. All members are asked to be present.

Owen Jackson, about 32, a former resident of Frostburg, is reported in critical condition in a Beaver Falls, Pa., hospital from injuries said to have been suffered in an automobile accident Friday evening while he was on his way to work in a steel mill. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Jackson, and a brother, Paul, who reside at 97 Broadway, this city, left Sunday to be at his bedside. The latest word received here was that he had not regained consciousness.

A dinner will be served Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. at which a class of candidates will be received into the order.

Frostburg Personals

Mrs. J. C. Pfeiffer, 19 Frost Avenue, has been ill at her home since April 7.

Mrs. George Wilson, West Mechanic Street, is home from Miners Hospital, following an operation.

Miss Bessie Gehauf, Grant Street, a teacher at Hill Street School, is a patient in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland.

Frank Flannagan, East Main Street, is ill at Miners Hospital.

William Blocher, West Main street, who was stricken with illness at his home several weeks ago, has been a patient in Miners Hospital for the past week. His condition is reported improved.

Miss Sophia Fischer, formerly of Midlothian, was admitted to Miners Hospital Saturday with a fractured hip, suffered in a fall at the home of his niece, Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, Mt. Pleasant Street.

Mrs. Lillian Stewart, wife of John Stewart, Water Street, is home after spending a week in Allegany Hospital, Cumberland, for medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. William McGrath, Philadelphia, are visiting the latter's sister, Mrs. James P. Kenney, West Main Street.

Miss Kitty Goldsworthy, student at Trinity College, Washington, D. C., returned after spending the spring vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Goldsworthy, East Main Street.

James Engle returned to Columbia University, New York, after spending several weeks with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James Close, Sand Spring.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank T. Harrat left tonight for New York City, where they were summoned because of the serious illness of the former's mother.

Four Persons Treated In Local Hospitals

Arthur Smith, 12, Route 5, Cresaptown, was treated in Allegany Hospital yesterday afternoon for a possible fracture of the left arm below the elbow. He told attaches he was hurt when he fell while playing at school.

Mrs. Cecilia Price, 33, 203 Knox Street, was treated in Allegany yesterday for several small lacerations after her left hand was caught in a washing macine wringer.

William Whiteman, 3, 27 Lamont Street, was treated in Memorial Hospital yesterday morning for a cut on the forehead. He was hurt in a fall while playing in the yard of his home.

Sharon Barkman, 4-year-old niece of Harry Smith, 521 Hill Top Drive, was treated in Memorial yesterday afternoon after she was struck in the head by a rock.

Medical Care Cost Totals $2,598

Reporting that March expenditures for the county's medical care program totaled $2,598.56, Dr. Joseph P. Franklin, city and county health officer, renewed his appeal yesterday for co-operation of all those participating in the program to reduce unnecessary expenditures of the funds remaining for use until the fiscal year ends June 30.

Making the report at a meeting of the county medical care board, Dr. Franklin said that 37 doctors submitted 389 bills amounting to $2,047.65; 13 druggists sent in 427 bills totaling $475.91, and three dentists submitted four bills totaling $75.

Dr. Franklin said that complete records of each patient's medical care history are on file in the Health Department office, adding that patients who are making an unnecessary number of calls to doctors' offices, thus wasting the program's funds, may be deprived of their certificates for further medical care.

Large Crowd Attends Last Forum Program

The largest crowd of the Forum season witnessed the last in a series of Community Forum programs last night at Allegany High School auditorium, with over 300 persons in the audience.

The program was presented by Emilio and Teresita Osta, noted Spanish singer and dancer. Miss Osta presented a series of interpretations of American and Latin American dances, accompanied by her brother, Emilio Osta, internationally known pianist.

This was the final offering of the Junior Association of Commerce and was a departure from the usual program presented annually by the lecture on some pretinent topic. The Ostas paid their second visit to Cumberland last night. They were here for their regularly scheduled appearance in February, but requested that it be postponed due to the heavy snow storm which blocked streets and highways.

Three Divorce Decrees Signed By Judge Huster

Divorce decrees were signed yesterday in three cases by Chief Judge William A. Huster, and one new bill of complaint was docketed.

Katherine S. Vanetta was granted a divorce from John C. Vanetta and given custody of their two minor children. Vanetta was ordered to pay Mrs. Vanetta $15 per week for support of the children.

Lucy C. Cook was divorced from Charles C. Cook and given the right to resume her maiden name, Lucy C. Buttler.

Alverna M. Leasure was granted a divorce from Paul L. Leasure and given the custody of their one child.

Passes State Exams

Robert L. Stein, 314 Piedmont Avenue, was notified yesterday that he had passed the Maryland State Board examinations and is eligible for licensing as an embalmer and funeral director. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Stein, 817 Windsor Road, and has been affiliated with Louis Stein, Inc., Funeral Home since his recent graduation from the California College of Mortuary Science.

Dorothy Shockey, William Bell Are Married In Coney

By MARIE MERRBACH

LONACONING, April 15 — Miss Dorothy Shockey, daughter of John Shockey, Charlestown Street, Lonaconing, and William Bell, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Muir, High Street, were married Saturday, April 12, in the parsonage of First Methodist Church by Rev. John E. Stacks.

Mr. and Mrs. George Beeman, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, were the attendants. A reception was held following the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Beeman, Railroad Street.

Mr. Bell, a veteran of World War II, is employed at Waynesburg Mine No. 4, the Georges Creek Coal Company. Mrs. Bell has been employed at the General Textile mill, Lonaconing.

The couple plan to live in Lonaconing.

To Play In Festival

Jo Ann Steele, Jimmy Gephart, Richard Brooks, Dale Lyden, Lowell Sowers, Charles Duckworth, Tommy Schlereth, Jack Dickinson, Robert Richardson, Alma Henry and Joan Merrbach will represent Central High School in the orchestra and band performance at the county spring music festival on Tuesday, April 22, at Fort Hill High School, Cumberland.

In the band Jo Ann Steele will play first cornet, Jimmy Gephart, third cornet; Richard, Brooks, baritone; Dale Lyden, third trombone; Lowell Sowers, solo clarinet; Charles Duckworth, second clarinet; Tommy Schlereth, fourth clarinet; Jack Dickinson, fourth clarinet; Robert Richardson, first violin; Alma Henry, first violin, and Joan Merrbach, first violin.

Brief Items

The Past Chiefs Association of Morning Star Temple No. 1 will not hold their meeting this Thursday as announced previously but instead will postpone their meeting until the regular meeting night in May.

Daly Whitefield and Jean Ralston were chosen by the senior class to represent Central High School at Potomac State School, Keyser, W. Va., on May 11 in the May Day pageant. The two seniors were chosen at a class meeting today to be a princess and escort in the Queen's court in the pageant. They will attend a dinner at 6 o'clock at Davis Hall and then attend the Queen's ball from 8:30 to midnight.

Thirty members of Goodwill Volunteer Fire Company No. 1, Lonaconing, attended the smoker in Barton Tuesday night held by the Allegany-Garrett Volunteer Firemen's Association with Barton Hose Company as host. A dinner was held in the Barton Presbyterian Church basement and a program of entertainment was presented in the firemen's hall.

The trophy won by Paul Green, junior student at Central High School, for second place in the Allegany County bowling tournament, is on display in the office of Central High School. Last year William S. Smith, a senior of Central, placed second in the tournament.

"The Choristers", a children's choir of First Presbyterian Church, directed by Miss Dorothy Brown with Miss Jean Milford as accompanist, will sing at the Sunday evening service at 7:30 o'clock at the church. Among the songs they have arranged to sing is "I Know a Beautiful Theme".

Mrs. Edna M. Green, Detmold street, is a patient in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland.

Ridgeley Lions Plan Benefit Party

Two new members were admitted into the Ridgeley Lions Club and plans formulated for assisting the playground project at the regular dinner-meeting, Monday night at the Golden Gate Restaurant. Clarence Hartman and Lloyd Coffman were received into the membership.

A check for $50 was sent to the Ridgeley Playground Association to further the work of establishing two supervised playgrounds in Ridgeley. Leon Hammond was appointed chairman of a committee to arrange a benefit party for the playground, to be held sometime early in May.

Edgar Spiker, president, expressed the hope that every member would contribute both time and money to help in this community project.

Married Men Wanted For National Guard

Married men as well as single men are now eligible for enlistment in the National Guard, Major Howard C. Dickey, battalion commander said last night.

Men interested in enlisting in either of the two local National Guard units may apply at the regular weekly drill period tonight after 7 o'clock at the State Armory, Major Dickey said. Dr Arthur F. Jones, National Guard contract surgeon will be at the Armory from 7 to 10 p. m. to examine applicants.

All men, 18 years of age or over, who are physically fit and residents of Maryland, married or single are eligible. It is not necessary to have prior military training or experience, Dickey said.

George Clise, 68, Retired Farmer, Dies At Red Hill

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, April 15—George Clise, 68, of Dan's Mountain, near Midland, a retired farmer, died this morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. Mary Laber, Red Hill. He was unmarried and had been residing with his brother, John Clise, Narrows Park, for the past few months on account of illness.

A son of the late George Clise and Lavina Winters Clise, he leaves no other immediate relatives besides his brother and sister. The body is at the Durst Funeral Home where a funeral service will be held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. Interment will be in Allegany Cemetery.

To Speak At Church

Frank Stone, a student at Frostburg State Teachers' College, will be the guest speaker Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at Welsh Baptist Memorial Church. A rally of the Adult Union of the church, of which Miss Elizabeth Workman is chairman, will be held.

The program, planned as a youth night gathering, will include numbers by Betty Ann Hanna and Frank Diehl and group singing by a girls' chorus. Rev. W. D. Reese, pastor, extends an invitation to all persons who may be interested.

Robb Addresses Rotarians

John Robb, Cumberland, was the guest speaker Monday evening at the weekly dinner of the Frostburg Rotary Club. He described his experiences in India while stationed there during the war. The program was in charge of F. Earl Kreitzburg, a past president of the club, and the speaker was introduced by W. Earle Cobey, Cumberland.

Visitors present were Rotarians T. Warner Lowery, Ralph Martin, Rev. Kenneth Rizer and Stanley Hanna, all of the Piedmont, W. Va., Club; and John Sween, Earl Wilhelm, Paul Martin and Ronald Hess, senior students of Beall High School. The program committee will present the program next Monday evening.

Stewardship Forum Planned

A stewardship forum will be conducted Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in First Methodist Church. The text will be "The Fine Art Of Using," written by Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, pastor of Christ Church, New York City, and radio preacher of the National Broadcasting Company.

The stewardship forum will meet every Wednesday night for six weeks. This is the study book for the Methodist Church for 1947 and each member of the church is expected to be present. The pastor, Rev. Watson E. Holley, will be in charge of the forum this week. The public is cordially invited to be present.

The committee on nominations will meet at the close of the forum. Members of the committee are Rev. Mr. Holley, chairman; J. Taylor Crump, Walter L. Cook and Miss Bessie S. Carson.

Announce Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. George Shurg, 56 Spring Street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Pearl Leona, to Alva Lewis, Thomas, W. Va., in Cumberland on April 5, with Mr. and Mrs. George Pappas as their attendants.

The bride was attired in a light blue suit with navy blue accessories. She wore a corsage of red rosebuds. Mrs. Pappas wore a gray suit with red accessories and a corsage of gardenias and red rosebuds. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The couple is residing at 90 West Main Street.

Frostburg Briefs

John Lewis, Consolidation, former manager of the Frostburg Community swimming pool, is excavating for the erection of a building at the pool in which he plans to engage in business.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Conrad, 108 Ormond Street, announce the birth of a daughter, Saturday in Miners Hospital. Mrs. Conrad is the former Miss Iola Morgan. They are the parents of six children.

The junior choir of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will hold a rehearsal Thursday at 7 p. m. at the church. The senior choir will meet for the same purpose at 8 p. m. in the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shockey, Route 3, Meyersdale, Pa., announce the birth of a daughter Sunday in Miners Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harper, 12 Water Street, announce the birth of a son Monday morning in Miners Hospital.

Sodality devotions will be resumed Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in St. Michael's Catholic Church. Following the service the sodality bowling league will meet in the school auditorium.

The Men's Social Club of Eckhart Methodist Church will hold a supper in the church basement Friday evening, April 18.

The Frostburg City Bowling League held its annual end-of-the-season banquet Monday evening at Workman's restaurant, East Main Street, with 40 members of the various teams present. Speakers were Fred Crowe, former mayor of Frostburg, and A. G. Ramey. The league schedule, played at the Majestic Bowling Alleys during the winter months, was one of the most successful since the league was organized several years ago.

The meeting of the Frostburg Business Association, announced for Thursday evening in the City Hall, has been postponed until Friday evening to enable members to attend the concert of the Maryland Folk Singers at Frostburg State Teachers' College. Reports will be made by committees soliciting funds for the proposed factory of the Michael Berkowitz Company.

The drum and bugle corps of Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion, will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the auditorium of Beall Elementary School for practice. All members are asked to be present.

Owen Jackson, about 32, a former resident of Frostburg, is reported in critical condition in a Beaver Falls, Pa., hospital from injuries said to have been suffered in an automobile accident Friday evening while he was on his way to work in a steel mill. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Jackson, and a brother, Paul, who reside at 97 Broadway, this city, left Sunday to be at his bedside. The latest word received here was that he had not regained consciousness.

A dinner will be served Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. at which a class of candidates will be received into the order.

Frostburg Personals

Mrs. J. C. Pfeiffer, 19 Frost Avenue, has been ill at her home since April 7.

Mrs. George Wilson, West Mechanic Street, is home from Miners Hospital, following an operation.

Miss Bessie Gehauf, Grant Street, a teacher at Hill Street School, is a patient in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland.

William J. Spates, 56 Beall Street, president of the Palace Theatre Company, who was stricken with illness several weeks ago, is reported improving at his home.

Mrs. Walter C. Mellor is confined to her home, East Main Street, with injuries suffered in a fall.

Frank Flannagan, East Main Street, is ill at Miners Hospital.

William Blocher, West Main street, who was stricken with illness at his home several weeks ago, has been a patient in Miners Hospital for the past week. His condition is reported improved.

Miss Sophia Fischer, formerly of Midlothian, was admitted to Miners Hospital Saturday with a fractured hip, suffered in a fall at the home of his niece, Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, Mt. Pleasant Street.

Mrs. Lillian Stewart, wife of John Stewart, Water Street, is home after spending a week in Allegany Hospital, Cumberland, for medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. William McGrath, Philadelphia, are visiting the latter's sister, Mrs. James P. Kenney, West Main Street.

Miss Kitty Goldsworthy, student at Trinity College, Washington, D. C., returned after spending the spring vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Goldsworthy, East Main Street.

James Engle returned to Columbia University, New York, after spending several weeks with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James Close, Sand Spring.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank T. Harrat left tonight for New York City, where they were summoned because of the serious illness of the former's mother.

Four Persons Treated In Local Hospitals

Arthur Smith, 12, Route 5, Cresaptown, was treated in Allegany Hospital yesterday afternoon for a possible fracture of the left arm below the elbow. He told attaches he was hurt when he fell while playing at school.

Mrs. Cecilia Price, 33, 203 Knox Street, was treated in Allegany yesterday for several small lacerations after her left hand was caught in a washing macine wringer.

William Whiteman, 3, 27 Lamont Street, was treated in Memorial Hospital yesterday morning for a cut on the forehead. He was hurt in a fall while playing in the yard of his home.

Sharon Barkman, 4-year-old niece of Harry Smith, 521 Hill Top Drive, was treated in Memorial yesterday afternoon after she was struck in the head by a rock.

Medical Care Cost Totals $2,598

Reporting that March expenditures for the county's medical care program totaled $2,598.56, Dr. Joseph P. Franklin, city and county health officer, renewed his appeal yesterday for co-operation of all those participating in the program to reduce unnecessary expenditures of the funds remaining for use until the fiscal year ends June 30.

Making the report at a meeting of the county medical care board, Dr. Franklin said that 37 doctors submitted 389 bills amounting to $2,047.65; 13 druggists sent in 427 bills totaling $475.91, and three dentists submitted four bills totaling $75.

Dr. Franklin said that complete records of each patient's medical care history are on file in the Health Department office, adding that patients who are making an unnecessary number of calls to doctors' offices, thus wasting the program's funds, may be deprived of their certificates for further medical care.

Large Crowd Attends Last Forum Program

The largest crowd of the Forum season witnessed the last in a series of Community Forum programs last night at Allegany High School auditorium, with over 300 persons in the audience.

The program was presented by Emilio and Teresita Osta, noted Spanish singer and dancer. Miss Osta presented a series of interpretations of American and Latin American dances, accompanied by her brother, Emilio Osta, internationally known pianist.

This was the final offering of the Junior Association of Commerce and was a departure from the usual program presented annually by the lecture on some pretinent topic. The Ostas paid their second visit to Cumberland last night. They were here for their regularly scheduled appearance in February, but requested that it be postponed due to the heavy snow storm which blocked streets and highways.

Three Divorce Decrees Signed By Judge Huster

Divorce decrees were signed yesterday in three cases by Chief Judge William A. Huster, and one new bill of complaint was docketed.

Katherine S. Vanetta was granted a divorce from John C. Vanetta and given custody of their two minor children. Vanetta was ordered to pay Mrs. Vanetta $15 per week for support of the children.

Lucy C. Cook was divorced from Charles C. Cook and given the right to resume her maiden name, Lucy C. Buttler.

Alverna M. Leasure was granted a divorce from Paul L. Leasure and given the custody of their one child.

Passes State Exams

Robert L. Stein, 314 Piedmont Avenue, was notified yesterday that he had passed the Maryland State Board examinations and is eligible for licensing as an embalmer and funeral director. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Stein, 817 Windsor Road, and has been affiliated with Louis Stein, Inc., Funeral Home since his recent graduation from the California College of Mortuary Science.

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job—it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

BALTIMORE, April 15 — Gary Cooper's back and Leo McCarey gets him for "Good Sam", one of his Rainbow Productions. When I first heard Gary was going to Leo I thought it might be for "Adam and Eve". But on second thought, if Jimmy Stewart was too skinny to play Adam—so is Coop!

Jennifer Jones

"Adam and Eve" has been postponed until after McCarey finishes "Good Sam" for the good reason, I think, Leo still hopes to get Ingrid Bergman for Eve.

"Good Sam" is a wistful comedy about a good Joe (or Sam) who goes around trying to do good turns for everybody and always gets himself in a jam for his trouble.

Jeanne Crain, who is recuperating slowly from the birth of her baby Easter Sunday, remains in the hospital two or three more weeks.

Out at 20th, they'll be very glad to have back the girl whose picture "Margie" was one of the most charming and popular of 1946—the Harvard Lampoon to the contrary. I'm beginning to suspect those boys. They make a point of choosing some surprising hits on the annual list of "worsts" from Hollywood.

Now they couldn't have an eye out for sensational publicity, could they?

Anyway, one of the first films lined up for Jeanne is Faith Baldwin's Cosmopolitan Magazine story, "An Apartment For Jenny." It's about a young couple hunting for a place to live and William Perlberg will produce.

You cannot visit Baltimore without wanting to know something of the history of this beautiful old city, so filled with stories of Revolutionary heroes and the men who were the founders of our great country.

I thought you might like to know that Maryland boasts of having as many, if not more, firsts than any state in the union. The first law for religious freedom in the world was passed here in 1634, and the first Roman Catholic bishop in the United States, the Rev. John Carroll of Baltimore, was consecrated in 1790.

The first Swedishborgian Church and the First Methodist Episcopal were established in Maryland. "The Star-Spangled Banner," written by a Maryland lawyer, Francis Scott Key, was sung first in Baltimore. The first steam railroad, the Baltimore and Ohio, was built here as well as the first electric street car.

The first monument to George Washington and Christopher Columbus were erected in this state. The U. S Frigate Constellation was built in Baltimore; the first demand for woman suffrage in the world originated here.

The Belvedere, or the Shearton Belvedere, as it is now called, has housed many famous guests in its 43 years of existence. Among them Diamond Jim Brady, Queen Marie of Rumania, Clark Gable, Carole Lombard, all the Metropolitan Opera stars and many others. Francis, the head waiter, has been here 42 years. He is a famous person and deservedly so, for the attention he gives the guests is something pleasant to remember.

Gene Tierney went stepping with George Sanders his first night in town, and their conversation was not about how much they admired each other, but about how much they admired someone else.

George poured out his unhappiness over his estrangement from his wife, while Gene admitted she cared more for Oleg Cassini than anyone else.

I had supper with the James Masons at the Stork Club. When I suggested that we all go to the party that was being given for Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Chaplin, they said they would enjoy it.

I introduced Mason to Chaplin, and it was really a meeting. For years Mason had seen Charlie on the screen and admired him. And Charlie, on the other hand, was equally enthusiastic over Mason's dramatic talent.

Charlie said as I introduced him, "you must meet Mrs. Chaplin. You are her favorite, and she will be so excited that you have come to the party."

Ethel Merman sang one song after another and it was wonderful. All her own song hits. Eddie Duchin helped out at the piano.

Charlie himself put on some of the acts he used to do years ago. The New York critics were not so pleased with his latest movie, "Monsieur Verdoux." In fact, all of our New York writers have been raking Chaplin over the coals.

Gene Tierney, Mary Pickford and many others were there and when I left, the party was still going strong.

Ever since I've been in New York there have been rumors that all was not well with Jennifer Jones and "Portrait Of Jennie", the picture she's shooting here.

First there was talk she was feuding with Director William Dieterle. Then it was that she didn't think her role was big enough. All this was vehemently denied. Whatever it was, the picture has discontinued shooting for two weeks while the script is re-written.

Meanwhile, Jennifer took the opportunity to fly back to Hollywood to be with her children, whom she was homesick for. Jennifer is really a sweet girl and maybe these two weeks rest for all concerned will straighten everything out. I hope so.

Snopshots of Hollywood and New York collected at random: Dr. John Duzick, who was sooooo in love with June Haver, has been taking Joan Caulfield to Hollywood's new Tally-Ho.

The Dane Clark reconciliation is official after see-ing-and-saw-ing for weeks.

The William Saroyans wandered into the Cub Room at a late hour. I hadn't seen Carol Saroyan since she was Gloria Vanderbilt's bridesmaid when Gloria married Pat Di Cicco. Carol says she is very happy and spends her time on the farm while the three Saroyan children while pappy writes books and plays.

Deems Taylor and his pretty wife were at a table for two—same place.

Quentin Raynolds introduced me to his brother Frank, "a very nice member of the family"—said Quentin. "But no nicer than you," beamed the ever-lovin' Mrs. Quent.

Mike Todd was with Herbert Bayard Swope. Mike was heading for his Baltimore opening of "Up In Central Park". He didn't mention Joan Blondell—but then neither did I.

J. Carroll Naish, who hasn't sung since his early stage days with Gaby Deslys, will warble in "The Kissing Bandit" with Frank Sinatra.

Clark Gable has been lunching in the MGM commissary with pretty Pat Marshall.

The hottest west coast romance is between Tony Martin and Elizabeth Brown, the ex-Mrs. Joe Brown.

Enterprise has the inside on the two volume life story of Harry Hopkins for a movie. The reason is simple—David Hopkins, Harry's son, is one of Charlie Einfield's aides.

That's all today.

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Losing Side Of Stocks Brings Stocks To New Low For 5 Months

NEW YORK, April 15 — (AP) — Stocks tried for recovery today, with assorted leaders achieving a fair amount of success, but the losing side was sufficiently in the majority to put the overall average at another new bottom for nearly five months.

Active flurries of purchasing and selling kept the market relatively busy from the start. While the plus column was well filled, declines of fractions to as much as five points predominated at the close. Transfers of 1,450,000 shares compared with Monday's 2,200,000 which were a top since December 9.

Eastman Kodak dropped five points at 229, Norfolk and Western 4 at 226, Liggett and Myers 3¾ at 80, Woolworth 1½ at 44¾ and Dow Chemical 1 at 155. Lesser stumbles were shown for Bethlehem, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, American Telephone, Anaconda, Kennecott, American Tobacco "B", Great Northern Railway, Union Pacific and Baltimore and Ohio.

Goodyear was up 1¼ at 49¾, Schenley 1⅛ at 30⅞, American Woolen 1⅛ at 31½, Du Pont 1½ at 176½, International Harvester 1¼ at 79½ and Union Carbide 1 at 95½.

Holding advances were United States Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, United States Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Consolidated Edison, North American, Electric Power and Light, Phelps Dodge, General Electric, Westinghouse, Standard Oil (N. J.), National Distillers, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Northern Pacific and Southern Railway.

Improved in the curb were Aluminum of America, Textron, Argus Inc., Cuban Atlantic Sugar and Electric Bond and Share. Leggards were Air Associates Middle West Corp., National Fuel Gas and Aereon. Turnover here was 380,000 shares versus 610,000 yesterday.

Railroad bonds dropped to a new low for a year or longer for the second consecutive session in the market as renewed selling cropped out in late dealings after a fairly uneventful forenoon.

Sales totaled $5,180,000 compared with $5,990,000 for the previous day.

United States government bonds were down 1-32 to 5-32 in fairly active trading in outside markets. Maximum losses were posted by the longer term issues.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

B. Leroy Grabenstein, and Alma Lee Grabenstein, his wife, Vs. Ex Parte, No. 19978, Equity, in the Circuit Court, for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this Petition is to change the name of Grabenstein to Grayson. The Petition states that the couple were married on September 30, 1944, are United States Citizens, and residents of the state of Maryland, and have been such residents for more than two years next before the bringing of this Petition, and that they have no children; that they both are going to teach in the primary grades of the public schools, and that because of the difficulty already experienced with the pronunciation of their last name, and because of the confusion and annoyance already experienced by the Petitioners, and because the euphony of the name of Grayson compared to that of Grabenstein, it is thereupon this 7th. day of April, in the year, 1947,

ORDERED by the Circuit Court, for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in Equity, that a copy of this summary be inserted in one of the daily newspapers once each week for three successive weeks before the 30th. day of April, giving notification of the object and substance of this Petition, to whom it may concern to show cause on or before the 30th. day of April, why a decree ought not be passed as prayed.

Losing Side Of Stocks Brings Stocks To New Low For 5 Months

NEW YORK, April 15 — (AP) — Stocks tried for recovery today, with assorted leaders achieving a fair amount of success, but the losing side was sufficiently in the majority to put the overall average at another new bottom for nearly five months.

Active flurries of purchasing and selling kept the market relatively busy from the start. While the plus column was well filled, declines of fractions to as much as five points predominated at the close. Transfers of 1,450,000 shares compared with Monday's 2,200,000 which were a top since December 9.

Eastman Kodak dropped five points at 229, Norfolk and Western 4 at 226, Liggett and Myers 3¾ at 80, Woolworth 1½ at 44¾ and Dow Chemical 1 at 155. Lesser stumbles were shown for Bethlehem, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, American Telephone, Anaconda, Kennecott, American Tobacco "B", Great Northern Railway, Union Pacific and Baltimore and Ohio.

Goodyear was up 1¼ at 49¾, Schenley 1⅛ at 30⅝, American Woolen 1⅛ at 31½, Du Pont 1½ at 176½, International Harvester 1¼ at 79½ and Union Carbide 1 at 95½.

Holding advances were United States Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, United States Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Consolidated Edison, North American, Electric Power and Light, Phelps Dodge, General Electric, Westinghouse, Standard Oil (N. J.), National Distillers, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Northern Pacific and Southern Railway.

Improved in the curb were Aluminum of America, Textron, Argus Inc., Cuban Atlantic Sugar and Electric Bond and Share. Leggards were Air Associates Middle West Corp., National Fuel Gas and Aereon. Turnover here was 380,000 shares versus 610,000 yesterday.

Railroad bonds dropped to a new low for a year or longer for the second consecutive session .n the market as renewed selling cropped out in late dealings after a fairly uneventful forenoon.

Sales totaled $5,180,000 compared with $5,990,000 for the previous day.

United States government bonds were down 1-32 to 5-32 in fairly active trading in outside markets. Maximum losses were posted by the longer term issues.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

B. Leroy Grabenstein, and Alma Lee Grabenstein, his wife, Vs. Ex Parte, No. 19978, Equity, in the Circuit Court, for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this Petition is to change the name of Grabenstein to Grayson. The Petition states that the couple were married on September 30, 1944, are United States Citizens, and residents of the state of Maryland, and have been such residents for more than two years next before the bringing of this Petition, and that they have no children; that they both are going to teach in the primary grades of the public schools, and that because of the difficulty already experienced with the pronunciation of their last name, and because of the confusion and annoyance already experienced by the Petitioners, and because the euphony of the name of Grayson compared to that of Grabenstein, it is thereupon this 7th. day of April, in the year, 1947,

ORDERED by the Circuit Court, for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in Equity, that a copy of this summary be inserted in one of the daily newspapers once each week for three successive weeks before the 30th. day of April, giving notification of the object and substance of this Petition, to whom it may concern to show cause on or before the 30th. day of April, why a decree ought not be passed as prayed.

Pirates Win Opener On Greenberg's Hit

Blackwell Of Reds Downs Cards, 3-1

CHICAGO, April 15 — (AP) — Big Hank Greenberg belted only one hit in his National league debut, but it was a screaming double that enabled the Pittsburgh Pirates to nip the Chicago Cubs, 1-0, and settled a stirring season opener mound duel between Truett (Rip) Sewell and Hank Borowy before 29,427 thoroughly chilled fans at Wrigley Field today.

While both pitchers allowed only five hits, Greenberg's two-bagger off Borowy in the sixth inning, a clothes-line poke to deep left centerbank chased Billy Cox home from second base with the game's only run.

BLACKWELL TOSSES THREE-HIT CONTEST

CINCINNATI, April 15 (AP) — The three-hit pitching of Ewell Blackwell and the hitting of Eddie Miller, Bert Haas, rookie Frankie Baumholtz and Bobby Adams were too much for the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals today and they went down to defeat before the Cincinnati Reds in the season opener, 3 to 1.

Until the ninth inning the Cards, who played listlessly most of the way, got only one hit, that in the sixth, when losing pitcher Howie Pollet punched a bounder over second base.

The world champs threatened to put on one of their famous last-inning finishes but a fast double play snuffed out the rally. Box:

PETE REISER IS HERO

BROOKLYN, April 15 (AP) — Pete Reiser, key to Brooklyn's flag chances, blazed a seventh-inning double off the screen a foot inside the right-field foul line at Ebbets Field today to drive across the tying and winning runs as the pilotless Dodgers opened their 1947 campaign with a 5 to 3 victory over the Boston Braves.

Although he did not get a hit in three official times at bat, Jackie Robinson, first Negro to play in modern big league ball, signalized his official debut as a Dodger by sprinting home with the deciding run on Reiser's smash and playing perfect ball at first base. Box:

PHILS EDGE GIANTS

PHILADELPHIA, April 15 (AP) — Pinch-hitter Don Padgett's single drove in the winning run today as the Philadelphia Phillies rallied for three runs in the eighth inning to nose out the New York Giants, 4-3, before 27,203 fans—largest opening day crowd in Shibe Park history.

Big Bill Voiselle, Giants' right-hander, had stifled the Phils with four hits up until the blow-up.

Singles by Del Ennis, Ron Northey, Frank McCormick and an error by Sid Gordon preceded Padgett's game-winning blow to center. Box:

600 Seek Trout On Evitts Creek

James H. Mease Gets Limit On First Day

Approximately 600 anglers lined Evitts Creek yesterday to participate in the first day's sport as Maryland's three months' trout season got under way.

Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, estimated that several hundred brown trout were caught during the hours of 5:30 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Minke stated that among the fishermen who got the daily limit of ten trout was James H. Mease, of Bowling Green. He said a number of anglers he contacted had caught seven and eight of the finny tribe.

The trout stocking program in Allegany and Garrett counties bogged down this year due to the severe winter weather in March, Minke explained. It was impossible to carry on the program, especially in Garrett county, due to sub-zero weather and deep snows the latter part of March. As a result 6,000 trout still remain at the Bear Creek Hatchery in Garrett county and will likely be distributed next week in the two Western Maryland counties, Minke declared. All of the trout are legal size—seven inches or longer.

"WIBBY" ROBINETTE WINS NOVICE LIVE BIRD SWEEPSTAKES

MIDLAND, April 15—The Ground Hog Rod and Gun Club of Midland held its first live bird annual sweepstakes for the novice class on Saturday and top honors went to "Wibby" Robinette of Frostburg, who came through with a perfect score of six straight birds. This entitled him to high prize and a trophy which will be awarded by the club.

Junior Yates, Charles Hitchins, Fred Clise, Aaron Winners and Joe McGowan were tied for second prizes. Their scores were 5 out of 6.

The third prize was shared by Cyril Burns and "Butch" Andrews, who got 4 out of 6.

The next sweepstakes will be held by the club, Saturday, April 19 at 1 p. m. at the Midland baseball park. This event will be for those who have been in a $250 match or less. The deadline to enter in this class will be Thursday night, and entrants are asked to bring their own birds. In this class each contestant will shoot at 15 birds. A trophy will be awarded the winner and prizes will be divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent.

On Saturday, April 26 another sweepstakes will be held for any shooter who desires to enter. This will be a Class A Sweepstakes. Prizes will be divided 65 and 35 per cent with the winner receiving a trophy.

Moorefield High To Face LaSalle In Opener Today

School Nines Clash Here At 3:30 P. M.

LaSalle High School's baseball team will launch its 1947 campaign when it plays Moorefield (W. Va.) High School today at 3:30 o'clock at Community Park.

The Explorers swing into action with a veteran team and a new coach—Brother Declan at the helm.

Pat "Lefty" Creegan, who pitched a nice article of ball for the North Centre Street school last season, is slated to start on the firing line for LaSalle in the lid-lifter. Bob Deffenbaugh, who played centerfield in 1946, will work behind the plate this season. The infield will comprise Charley Genevie, first base; Richard Leo second base; Jimmie Close, third base and Johnny Esposito, shortstop. Bernard Beck, Joe Reissig and Jimmie Collins will perform in the outer garden.

Pitchers held in reserve are Norman Sell, Jim Delaney, Bob Wood and Hugh Miller with Tom Collins as second string catcher.

Kessel May Pitch

Dwight Kessel, grid, basketball and baseball star, is expected to work on the mound for Moorefield, which won West Virginia district honors last season and competed in the state scholastic tourney at Charleston.

LaSalle and Moorefield were originally slated to pry off the lid on Monday but rain prevented the staging of the game on the West Virginians' field.

Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh yesterday announced that Fort Hill's Sentinels will play a practice game with the Ridgeley American Legion team of the Interstate League Thursday at 4:15 p. m. on Fort Hill field. Gerald Tichnell is manager of the Ridgeley aggregation.

Official opening of Fort Hill's 18-game schedule is set for Friday when the Sentinels will play the Alumni at 4:15 on Fort Hill field. Larry Hansrote will twirl for the varsity nine.

Fort Hill Adds Keyser

Fort Hill added home-and-home games with Keyser to its schedule yesterday. The Cavanaugh-coached team will play Keyser here May 19 while the return tilt is set for Keyser May 22. Other games on the Fort Hill program are:

May 29—Hagerstown, away, pending.

AHS Opens Saturday

Coach Hubert Radcliffe's Allegany High School tossers will play their opening game with a team from Ellerslie Saturday at 2 p. m. at Campobello.

Other games on the Campers' schedule include:

April 22—Ridgeley American Legion, home, pending. April 25—Hyndman, away. April 29—Paw Paw, home. May 2—Mercersburg, away. May 3—Beall, away. May 6—LaSalle, home. May 9—Fort Hill, home. May 13—Hyndman, home. May 16—Paw Paw, away. May 20—Beall, home. May 23—LaSalle, away. May 27—Fort Hill, away.

Hughes Beats Hersick In Live Bird Shoot

FROSTBURG, April 15—Francis Hughes won the live bird shooting match held Saturday at Midland baseball park. He shot 15 out of 16 birds while his opponent, John Hersick, shot 9 out of 16.

This match, which had a $1,000 purse, was sponsored by the Groundhog Rod and Gun club.

Fighting Five Wins

Paced by Ronnie Cage and Wageley, who chalked up 26 and 18 points, the Fighting Five defeated the Fort Hill Freshmen basketball team last night on SS. Peter and Paul court by the score of 74 to 62.

Cage's total included 12 field goals while Wageley collected eight double-deckers. Ambrose and Priddy scored 15 points each for the losers.

CHICAGO PURCHASES FREY FROM REDLEGS

CHICAGO, April 15 (AP) — The Chicago Cubs today purchased Linus Frey, 34-year-old infielder, from the Cincinnati Reds. Frey has been in the major leagues for 12 years and played one season in 1937 with the Cubs, batting .279. Last year he batted .246 with the Reds, after serving two years in the army. He probably will be used as a shortstop.

A'S SUBDUE YANKS

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP) — Phil Marchildon spoiled Bucky Harris' debut as manager of the New York Yankees today when he threw a six-hit, 6-1 victory for the Philadelphia Athletics before 39,344 fans including members of the U. N. Security Council and former president Herbert Hoover.

Connie Mack's A's, almost a unanimous choice to finish in the American League cellar, belted Spud Chandler, the Yankee ace off the hill in a three run seventh inning splurge to take a 6-0 lead. Box:

Jet Pilot Makes His First Start Of Season Today

15-1 Shot For Derby To Run At Jamaica

NEW YORK, April 15—(AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Graham's Jet Pilot, a 15 to 1 winter book shot for the Kentucky Derby, makes his first start of the season tomorrow in the six-furlong $15,000-added Jamaica Handicap, against a field that includes eight other candidates for the run for the roses.

Jet Pilot was a $41,000 yearling who piled up winnings of $87,830 last year, thus becoming the first over-$40,000 buy in turf history to "win out" his purchase price in his first season of racing. He wound up his two-year old stepping by whipping the high-powered pair of Fervent and Faultless in the mile-and-a-sixteenth Pimlico Futurity.

After he stopped badly in his lone winter outing—at Santa Anita—he was taken away from the race track so that Trainer Tom Smith could point him entirely for the Derby.

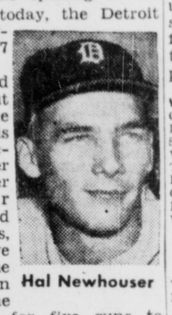
His chief opposition tomorrow figures to come from I Will, the badlegged but rapid-running colt from the Caclyn Stable of California radio man Jay Paley, who is a 20-1 winter book choice but probably will not be shipped to Churchill Downs for the big heat, and Sonny Whitney's Bastogne, winner of the six-furlong Experimental Handicap here last week. Bastogne, hooked up with Khyber Pass as an entry in tomorrow's dash, is another 20-1 Derby chance.

I Will totes top weight of 124 pounds tomorrow, compared to 121 for Jet Pilot and 119 for Bastogne, in the sprint for the $12,650 winner's end.

Newhouser Notches 7-0 Triumph Over Browns

Chisox Beat Feller; A's Trounce Yanks

ST. LOUIS, April 15 (AP) — Hal Newhouser and Jupiter Pluvius conspired to spoil the opening of the baseball season today, the Detroit Tigers overpowering the Browns, 7 to 0.



Hal Newhouser

A scant crowd of 4,242 turned out to see Hurricane Hal hang up his thirteenth consecutive victory over the Browns over a three-year stretch. He held them to four hits, struck out five and the home team was never in the game after the Tigers exploded for five runs to drive Denny Galehouse from the mound in the second. Box:

CHISOX BEAT FELLER

CLEVELAND, April 15 (AP)—Fireball Bob Feller's pitching wizardry failed him today and the Chicago White Sox defeated Cleveland 2 to 0 before 55,014 fans, behind the masterful hurling of southpaw Ed Lopat, a long-time jinx of the Indians.

The throng, below expectations but still the greatest attendance ever to witness an inaugural contest here, saw the compact left-hander limit the Tribe to six blows for his tenth win in 11 starts against Cleveland. Box:

BOSOX TOP SENATORS

BOSTON, April 15 (AP)—Just as a year ago, the Boston Red Sox launched their American League pennant drive today by offsetting Tex Hughson's wobbly opening day performance to gain a 7-6 victory over the Washington Senators before a packed 30,822 crowd.

That 20-game righthander got under way in sensational fashion by setting down the first 15 batters to face him, only to lose his control in the sixth while working on an apparently safe 3-0 lead. Box:

Pirates Win Opener On Greenberg's Hit

Blackwell Of Reds Downs Cards, 3-1

CHICAGO, April 15 — (AP) — Big Hank Greenberg belted only one hit in his National league debut, but it was a screaming double that enabled the Pittsburgh Pirates to nip the Chicago Cubs, 1-0 and settled a stirring season opener mound duel between Truett (Rip) Sewell and Hank Borowy before 29,427 thoroughly chilled fans at Wrigley Field today.

While both pitchers allowed only five hits, Greenberg's two-bagger off Borowy in the sixth inning, a clothes-line poke to deep left centerbank chased Billy Cox home from second base with the game's only run.

BLACKWELL TOSSES THREE-HIT CONTEST

CINCINNATI, April 15 (AP) — The three-hit pitching of Ewell Blackwell and the hitting of Eddie Miller, Bert Haas, rookie Frankie Baumholtz and Bobby Adams were too much for the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals today and they went down to defeat before the Cincinnati Reds in the season opener, 3 to 1.

Until the ninth inning the Cards, who played listlessly most of the way, got only one hit, that in the sixth, when losing pitcher Howie Pollet punched a bounder over second base.

The world champs threatened to put on one of their famous last-inning finishes but a fast double play snuffed out the rally. Box:

PETE REISER IS HERO

BROOKLYN, April 15 (AP) — Pete Reiser, key to Brooklyn's flag chances, blazed a seventh-inning double off the screen a foot inside the right-field foul line at Ebbets Field today to drive across the tying and winning runs as the pilotless Dodgers opened their 1947 campaign with a 5 to 3 victory over the Boston Braves.

Although he did not get a hit in three official times at bat, Jackie Robinson, first Negro to play in modern big league ball, signalized his official debut as a Dodger by sprinting home with the deciding run on Reiser's smash and playing perfect ball at first base. Box:

PHILS EDGE GIANTS

PHILADELPHIA, April 15 (AP) — Pinch-hitter Don Padgett's single drove in the winning run today as the Philadelphia Phillies rallied for three runs in the eighth inning to nose out the New York Giants, 4-3, before 27,203 fans—largest opening day crowd in Shibe Park history.

Big Bill Voiselle, Giants' right-hander, had stifled the Phils with four hits up until the blow-up.

Singles by Del Ennis, Ron Northey, Frank McCormick and an error by Sid Gordon preceded Padgett's game-winning blow to center. Box:

James H. Mease Gets Limit On First Day

Approximately 600 anglers lined Evitts Creek yesterday to participate in the first day's sport as Maryland's three months' trout season got under way.

Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, estimated that several hundred brown trout were caught during the hours of 5:30 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Minke stated that among the fishermen who got the daily limit of ten trout was James H. Mease, of Bowling Green. He said a number of anglers he contacted had caught seven and eight of the finny tribe.

The trout stocking program in Allegany and Garrett counties bogged down this year due to the severe winter weather in March, Minke explained. It was impossible to carry on the program, especially in Garrett county, due to sub-zero weather and deep snows the latter part of March. As a result 6,000 trout still remain at the Bear Creek Hatchery in Garrett county and will likely be distributed next week in the two Western Maryland counties, Minke declared. All of the trout are legal size—seven inches or longer.

"WIBBY" ROBINETTE WINS NOVICE LIVE BIRD SWEEPSTAKES

MIDLAND, April 15—The Ground Hog Rod and Gun Club of Midland held its first live bird annual sweepstakes for the novice class on Saturday and top honors went to "Wibby" Robinette of Frostburg, who came through with a perfect score of six straight birds. This entitled him to high prize and a trophy which will be awarded by the club.

Junior Yates, Charles Hitchins, Fred Clise, Aaron Winners and Joe McGowan were tied for second prizes. Their scores were 5 out of 6.

The third prize was shared by Cyril Burns and "Butch" Andrews, who got 4 out of 6.

The next sweepstakes will be held by the club, Saturday, April 19 at 1 p. m. at the Midland basebell park. This event will be for those who have been in a $250 match or less. The deadline to enter in this class will be Thursday night, and entrants are asked to bring their own birds. In this class each contestant will shoot at 15 birds. A trophy will be awarded the winner and prizes will be divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent.

On Saturday, April 26 another sweepstakes will be held for any shooter who desires to enter. This will be a Class A Sweepstakes. Prizes will be divided 65 and 35 per cent with the winner receiving a trophy.

Moorefield High To Face LaSalle In Opener Today

School Nines Clash Here At 3:30 P. M.

LaSalle High School's baseball team will launch its 1947 campaign when it plays Moorefield (W. Va.) High School today at 3:30 o'clock at Community Park.

The Explorers swing into action with a veteran team and a new coach—Brother Declan at the helm.

Pat "Lefty" Creegan, who pitched a nice article of ball for the North Centre Street school last season, is slated to start on the firing line for LaSalle in the lid-lifter. Bob Deftenbaugh, who played centerfield in 1946, will work behind the plate this season. The infield will comprise Charley Genevie, first base; Richard Leo second base; Jimmie Close, third base and Johnny Esposito, shortstop. Bernard Beck, Joe Reissig and Jimmie Collins will perform in the outer garden.

Pitchers held in reserve are Norman Sell, Jim Delaney, Bob Wood and Hugh Miller with Tom Collins as second string catcher.

Kessel May Pitch

Dwight Kessel, grid, basketball and baseball star, is expected to work on the mound for Moorefield, which won West Virginia district honors last season and competed in the state scholastic tourney at Charleston.

LaSalle and Moorefield were originally slated to pry off the lid on Monday but rain prevented the staging of the game on the West Virginians' field.

Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh yesterday announced that Fort Hill's Sentinels will play a practice game with the Ridgeley American Legion team of the Interstate League Thursday at 4:15 p. m. on Fort Hill field. Gerald Tichnell is manager of the Ridgeley aggregation.

Official opening of Fort Hill's 18-game schedule is set for Friday when the Sentinels will play the Alumni at 4:15 on Fort Hill field. Larry Hansrote will twirl for the varsity nine.

Fort Hill Adds Keyser

Fort Hill added home-and-home games with Keyser to its schedule yesterday. The Cavanaugh-coached team will play Keyser here May 19 while the return tilt is set for Keyser May 22. Other games on the Fort Hill program are:

April 22—Hagerstown, home, pending. April 23—Romney, home. April 25—Paw Paw, away. April 28—Fort Hill war veterans, home. April 29—Beall, away. May 2—LaSalle, home. May 6—Hyndman, home. May 7—Romney, away. May 9—Allegany, away. May 13—Paw Paw, home. May 20—LaSalle, away. May 23—Hyndman, away. May 24—Massanutten at Woodstock, Va. May 27—Allegany, home. May 29—Hagerstown, away, pending.

AHS Opens Saturday

Coach Hubert Radcliffe's Allegany High School tossers will play their opening game with a team from Ellerslie Saturday at 2 p. m. at Campobello.

Other games on the Campers' schedule include:

April 22—Ridgeley American Legion, home, pending. April 25—Hyndman, away. April 29—Paw Paw, home. May 2—Mercersburg, away. May 3—Beall, away. May 6—LaSalle, home. May 9—Fort Hill, home. May 13—Hyndman, home. May 16—Paw Paw, away. May 20—Beall, home. May 23—LaSalle, away. May 27—Fort Hill, away.

Hughes Beats Hersick In Live Bird Shoot

FROSTBURG, April 15—Francis Hughes won the live bird shooting match held Saturday at Midland baseball park. He shot 15 out of 16 birds while his opponent, John Hersick, shot 9 out of 16.

This match, which had a $1,000 purse, was sponsored by the Groundhog Rod and Gun club.

Fighting Five Wins

Paced by Ronnie Cage and Wageley, who chalked up 26 and 18 points, the Fighting Five defeated the Fort Hill Freshmen basketball team last night on SS. Peter and Paul court by the score of 74 to 62.

Cage's total included 12 field goals while Wageley collected eight double-deckers. Ambrose and Priddy scored 15 points each for the losers.

CHICAGO PURCHASES FREY FROM REDLEGS

CHICAGO, April 15 (AP) — The Chicago Cubs today purchased Linus Frey, 34-year-old infielder, from the Cincinnati Reds. Frey has been in the major leagues for 12 years and played one season in 1937 with the Cubs, batting .279. Last year he batted .246 with the Reds, after serving two years in the army. He probably will be used as a shortstop.

A'S SUBDUE YANKS

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP) — Phil Marchildon spoiled Bucky Harris' debut as manager of the New York Yankees today when he threw a six-hit, 6-1 victory for the Philadelphia Athletics before 39,344 fans including members of the U. N. Security Council and former president Herbert Hoover.

Connie Mack's A's, almost a unanimous choice to finish in the American League cellar, belted Spud Chandler, the Yankee ace off the hill in a three run seventh inning splurge to take a 6-0 lead. Box:

Jet Pilot Makes His First Start Of Season Today

15-1 Shot For Derby To Run At Jamaica

NEW YORK, April 15—(AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Graham's Jet Pilot, a 15 to 1 winter book shot for the Kentucky Derby, makes his first start of the season tomorrow in the six-furlong $15,000-added Jamaica Handicap, against a field that includes eight other candidates for the run for the roses.

Jet Pilot was a $41,000 yearling who piled up winnings of $87,830 last year, thus becoming the first over-$40,000 buy in turf history to "win out" his purchase price in his first season of racing. He wound up his two-year old stepping by whipping the high-powered pair of Fervent and Faultless in the mile-and-a-sixteenth Pimlico Futurity.

After he stopped badly in his lone winter outing—at Santa Anita—he was taken away from the race track so that Trainer Tom Smith could point him entirely for the Derby.

His chief opposition tomorrow figures to come from I Will, the badlegged but rapid-running colt from the Caclyn Stable of California radio man Jay Paley, who is a 20-1 winter book choice but probably will not be shipped to Churchill Downs for the big heat, and Sonny Whitney's Bastogne, winner of the six-furlong Experimental Handicap here last week. Bastogne, hooked up with Khyber Pass as an entry in tomorrow's dash, is another 20-1 Derby chance.

I Will totes top weight of 124 pounds tomorrow, compared to 121 for Jet Pilot and 119 for Bastogne, in the sprint for the $12,650 winner's end.

Newhouser Notches 7-0 Triumph Over Browns

Chisox Beat Feller; A's Trounce Yanks

ST. LOUIS, April 15 (AP) — Hal Newhouser and Jupiter Pluvius conspired to spoil the opening of the baseball season today, the Detroit Tigers overpowering the Browns, 7 to 0.

Hal Newhouser

A scant crowd of 4,242 turned out to see Hurricane Hal hang up his thirteenth consecutive victory over the Browns over a three-year stretch. He held them to four hits, struck out five and the home team was never in the game after the Tigers exploded for five runs to drive Denny Galehouse from the mound in the second. Box:

CHISOX BEAT FELLER

CLEVELAND, April 15 (AP)—Fireball Bob Feller's pitching wizardry failed him today and the Chicago White Sox defeated Cleveland 2 to 0 before 55,014 fans, behind the masterful hurling of southpaw Ed Lopat, a long-time jinx of the Indians.

The throng, below expectations but still the greatest attendance ever to witness an inaugural contest here, saw the compact left-hander limit the Tribe to six blows for his tenth win in 11 starts against Cleveland. Box:

BOSOX TOP SENATORS

BOSTON, April 15 (AP)—Just as a year ago, the Boston Red Sox launched their American League pennant drive today by offsetting Tex Hughson's wobbly opening day performance to gain a 7-6 victory over the Washington Senators before a packed 30,822 crowd.

That 20-game righthander got under way in sensational fashion by setting down the first 15 batters to face him, only to lose his control in the sixth while working on an apparently safe 3-0 lead. Box:

Baksi Stops Woodcock In Seventh Round

Pennsy Clouter Floors Britisher Five Times

10,700 See Referee Halt London Match

By BILL MACKLIN

LONDON, April 15—(AP)—Joe Baksi, the Pennsylvania beer-hall bouncer, belted British Heavyweight Champion Bruce Woodcock all around Harringay Stadium tonight and stopped him in seven rounds—and thus became the leading candidate to be served up to Joe Louis this summer.

The blonde clouter from the coal mines floored Bruce five times in the first two rounds, won all six of the completed sessions and had Woodcock's face cut up like a portion of chopped liver when the referee mercifully halted the proceeding at 1:12 of the seventh, with no objection from the crowd of 10,700 customers, who paid as high as $84 for ringside seats.

Thus Baksi, who had to go to England to be taken seriously as a contender for the Brown Bomber's heavyweight championship, now is close to a sure-thing to win that doubtful pleasure the next time Louis fights, on June 26, in New York's Yankee Stadium.

Jersey Joe Walcott who once whipped Baksi, and Southpaw Mello Bettina are clamoring for the shot, themselves, back in the United States. But Louis, himself has tabbed the winner of tonight's scramble here as his next victim.

And by way of heating up the stew even more, one of the ringsiders was Nat Rogers, matchmaker of Promoter Mike Jacobs' 20th Century Sporting Club in New York, who came over for the fight completely equipped with a fresh shoeshine and a contract calling for tonight's victor to have a mid-summer night's dream with the Bomber.

Nat promptly inserted Baksi's name on the paper and headed for the dressing room as soon as Joe and Trainer Ray Arcel could work their way through the crowds. Baksi's manager, Nate Wolfson, put him off with a "we'll talk business tomorrow." But to fight writers Nate said he didn't think he or his Kulpmont (Pa.) gladiator would want the fight as early as the scheduled June 26 date.

Baksi Stops Woodcock In Seventh Round

Pennsy Clouter Floors Britisher Five Times

10,700 See Referee Halt London Match

By BILL MACKLIN

LONDON, April 15—(AP)—Joe Baksi, the Pennsylvania beer-hall bouncer, belted British Heavyweight Champion Bruce Woodcock all around Harringay Stadium tonight and stopped him in seven rounds—and thus became the leading candidate to be served up to Joe Louis this summer.

The blonde clouter from the coal mines floored Bruce five times in the first two rounds, won all six of the completed sessions and had Woodcock's face cut up like a portion of chopped liver when the referee mercifully halted the proceeding at 1:12 of the seventh, with no objection from the crowd of 10,700 customers, who paid as high as $84 for ringside seats.

Thus Baksi, who had to go to England to be taken seriously as a contender for the Brown Bomber's heavyweight championship, now is close to a sure-thing to win that doubtful pleasure the next time Louis fights, on June 26, in New York's Yankee Stadium.

Jersey Joe Walcott who once whipped Baksi, and Southpaw Mello Bettina are clamoring for the shot, themselves, back in the United States. But Louis, himself has tabbed the winner of tonight's scramble here as his next victim.

And by way of heating up the stew even more, one of the ringsiders was Nat Rogers, matchmaker of Promoter Mike Jacobs' 20th Century Sporting Club in New York, who came over for the fight completely equipped with a fresh shoeshine and a contract calling for tonight's victor to have a mid-summer night's dream with the Bomber.

Nat promptly inserted Baksi's name on the paper and headed for the dressing room as soon as Joe and Trainer Ray Arcel could work their way through the crowds. Baksi's manager, Nate Wolfson, put him off with a "we'll talk business tomorrow." But to fight writers Nate said he didn't think he or his Kulpmont (Pa.) gladiator would want the fight as early as the scheduled June 26 date.

Today Is Deadline For Entries In TWUA Bowling Tournament

The Textile Workers' handicap bowling tourney will open on Monday at 4 p. m. at the Roxy Bowling Centre. The "C" shift Celanese Spinning League is scheduled to open the tourney.

In the men's division all averages will be based on that of Everett Clem who carried 161. Handicaps will be to the pin of the 161 average. Elizabeth Rhoe who an average of 128 is the highest girl at this writing.

The deadline for entries is midnight today.

Most leagues have entered the tourney in a body and are scheduled to roll in that manner.

Any member of Celanese Local 1874 is eligible to enter the tourney provided he or she has bowled in any league and participated in 12 or more games and produces a slip containing their average certified by the league president or secretary.

The tourney is sponsored by Local 1874 union for the benefit of its members and there is no entry fee. The only cost is for the games bowled by each individual.

Minke Explains Fishing Law On Evitts Creek

On the copies of fishing laws and regulations being handed to anglers who buy licenses at the Court House, there is a misprint which has aroused some confusion, State Game Warden Joseph Minke said last night.

Minke was referring to the inclusion of Evitts Creek as a special fly casting stream. Minke said the stream is open to fly fishing and all other kinds of legal fishing during trout season, but is closed to all fishing during the rest of the year.

Over 2,500 fishing licenses have been issued thus far at the Court House, and Minke said several hundred anglers were out yesterday, the opening day.

Durocher Is Far Away As Dodgers Open Season

HOLLYWOOD, April 15—(AP)—It would be difficult for Leo Durocher to pick a more isolated spot for the opening of the 1947 major league baseball season.

The exiled manager of the Brooklyn Club spent today, according to RKO studio, in remote mountain country 25 miles north of Lone Pine, Calif., watching his movie star wife, Laraine Day, perform before the camera in a picture called "Tycoon."

Lone Pine is about 260 miles north of Hollywood—and nearly 3,000 miles west of Brooklyn.

Today Is Deadline For Entries In TWUA Bowling Tournament

The Textile Workers' handicap bowling tourney will open on Monday at 4 p. m. at the Roxy Bowling Centre. The "C" shift Celanese Spinning League is scheduled to open the tourney.

In the men's division all averages will be based on that of Everett Clem who carried 161. Handicaps will be to the pin of the 161 average. Elizabeth Rhoe who an average of 128 is the highest girl at this writing.

The deadline for entries is midnight today.

Most leagues have entered the tourney in a body and are scheduled to roll in that manner.

Any member of Celanese Local 1874 is eligible to enter the tourney provided he or she has bowled in any league and participated in 12 or more games and produces a slip containing their average certified by the league president or secretary.

The tourney is sponsored by Local 1974 union for the benefit of its members and there is no entry fee. The only cost is for the games bowled by each individual.

Minke Explains Fishing Law On Evitts Creek

On the copies of fishing laws and regulations being handed to anglers who buy licenses at the Court House, there is a misprint which has aroused some confusion, State Game Warden Joseph Minke said last night.

Minke was referring to the inclusion of Evitts Creek as a special fly casting stream. Minke said the stream is open to fly fishing and all other kinds of legal fishing during trout season, but is closed to all fishing during the rest of the year.

Over 2,500 fishing licenses have been issued thus far at the Court House, and Minke said several hundred anglers were out yesterday, the opening day.

Durocher Is Far Away As Dodgers Open Season

HOLLYWOOD, April 15—(AP)—It would be difficult for Leo Durocher to pick a more isolated spot for the opening of the 1947 major league baseball season.

The exiled manager of the Brooklyn Club spent today, according to RKO studio, in remote mountain country 25 miles north of Lone Pine, Calif., watching his movie star wife, Laraine Day, perform before the camera in a picture called "Tycoon."

Lone Pine is about 260 miles north of Hollywood—and nearly 3,000 miles west of Brooklyn.

Ray's City Government Report Meets Approval

Well-Known Residents Express Their Views

Queried as to their opinions of the 13-point program prepared by Dr Joseph M. Ray to improve Cumberland's city government, six well known Cumberland residents, including two former mayors, declared yesterday that they were favorably impressed by the report.

While some said they had not yet had time to analyze the report compiled by Dr. Ray, head of the Department of Government and Politics, College of Business and Public Administration, University of Maryland, they stated that as a whole they believe his recommendations are sound.

This question was asked:

"What is your reaction or viewpoint concerning the recommendations of Dr. Ray to improve Cumberland's city government?"

Here are the answers:

George G. Young, president of the Crystal Laundry and one-time mayor of Cumberland, said he had read the report of Dr. Ray, and was very favorably impressed. "Dr. Ray is an expert on the subject of municipal government and his report shows a thorough study of the local situation," Mr. Young said. "I believe there is considerable merit in his numerous recommendations, and I particularly like the part where he stated that Cumberland is not too badly managed. There is always room for improvement and changing conditions bring need for changes. I didn't study the report with any idea of commenting upon it or completely analyzing it, but on the whole, I was very favorably impressed."

Hirsch Praises Report

Judge George Henderson, former mayor, said he had scanned through it but would not care to make any public statement until he read it more thoroughly.

George W. Legge, 841 Braddock Road, former mayor, said he read the report but had not analyzed it. "My impression of the report was very good. I know that Dr. Ray gave the local government and its over-all structure a very complete study, and feel there is merit in most of his recommendations. But to give a detailed statement of the report, I should prefer to study it step by step. In my opinion there is room for improvement in the local government and its duties and activities. It seems to me, as times change, conditions change and all government must keep pace with changing times and changed conditions."

Isaac Hirsch, father of Cumberland's commissioner form of government, stated, "I'm heartily in favor of it. Dr. Ray consulted with me several times and he has the same views as I. I would like to see the city adopt those views."

Harold W. Smith, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, declared, "The people I have talked with who have studied it feel that the report as a whole is sound and should be adopted. Incidentally, some of the provisions it suggests have been recommended in the past. It will take a lot of determined effort on the part of interested persons to put the provisions of the report into effect."

Charles F. Burke, Jr., city tax collector, said that Dr. Ray's recommendation for a general reconstitution of his department would be working toward the same end as the bill to place the tax collector under the merit system, introduced during the recent legislative session by Senator Robert B. Kimble.

Under that measure, which was defeated, the city tax collector would have become a salaried employe, replacing the present method of collecting taxes and liens whereby the collector is paid a commission for the work and employs part of the office staff.

Dr. Ray recommended that the city's taxes be collected as a regular municipal operation "at a considerable saving on the one per cent commission."

Burke pointed out, however, that this would call for a change in bond requirements of the post. He said legal opinion is that if the tax collector is placed on a salary basis, he would be bonded only for the amount of money handled as taxes were paid, and that the collector would not be made responsible for the collection of taxes.

Councilmen Studying Program

He said revision of the present system would be satisfactory if a salary were fixed in proportion to the responsibilities entailed, and if stringent provisions were included

County To Stay On Standard Time

Two of the three county commissioners indicated yesterday that they favor Daylight Savings Time for the entire county, to keep in step with the adoption of fast time by the city of Cumberland, but were unable to pass an order adopting it, due to lack of necessary legal authority.

Attorney to the board, Lewis M. Wilson advised the commissioners that there is no legislation which will permit the commissioners to adopt fast time, and that a bill which would have provided the necessary authority was killed in the recent session of state legislature.

Commissioners Charles N. Wilkinson, Jr., and William H. Lemmert indicated they believe the county should be on fast time if the city is, but Commissioner James Holmes declared that he would favor it only if it was state-wide.

County Engineer Albert S. Paye was authorized to investigate the possibility of purchasing a new crusher from the War Assets Administration, at a cost of $1,835.

James House asked that the Wilson Road, off the Breakneck Road, to Route 40, be repaired. The engineer was instructed to investigate.

A. D. Wolford requested that a road be opened into Homewood Addition.

The board renewed a lease under which the Veterans' Administration will continue to rent quarters in the County Office Building, Union Street.

Rubber Workers And Kelly Agree On Wage Increase

Union Committee Will Urge Acceptance

Officials of Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America, CIO, and the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company announced late yesterday afternoon that an agreement on the wage issue between the company and the union had been reached on the basis of an 11½ cents per hour general wage increase.

A. E. Johnson, union president, said the settlement is subject to ratification at a membership meeting to be held in the union hall Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The negotiating committee, he added, will recommend the acceptance of the offer.

Johnson urged all members of the Kelly local to attend the regular meeting Sunday when the wage negotiating committee will present for membership approval the agreement reached at yesterday's meeting.

Johnson said the agreement calls for an 11½ cent per hour general wage increase, retroactive to the pay period beginning nearest to Feb. 2.

The wage boost will be added to the earnings of the 2,500 odd hourly rated employes of the tire plant beginning April 21, he added.

The agreement will extend for four months, Johnson said, explaining that the union can then open negotiations on a general wage increase and intra-plant inequalities.

A company spokesman confirmed the terms of yesterday's agreement which he said closes all wage issues for four months from the date of ratification by the union and company. After four months, the wage issues may be opened upon 15 days notice.

The only issue at stake during the wage talks Monday and yesterday was the retroactive date.

Four Coal Miners Will Be Honored

To Get Awards For Saving Boy's Life

Four Allegany County coal miners will be honored at a special ceremony at Firemen's Hall, Midland, Thursday at 8 p. m., for their combined efforts in saving the life of a Midland youth four years ago.

The four miners, all of Midland, Edward Eisentrout, Nathaniel Dunn, Frank Robertson and Harry Robertson, are to be presented Joseph A. Holmes Association certificates of honor, by Dr. J. J. Rutledge of Baltimore, chief of the Maryland Bureau of Mines.

The certificates are being awarded for "skill in assisting the successful application of first aid and artificial respiration to a 14-year-old boy knocked unconscious by a 4,000-volt electric line at Midland on June 9, 1943."

The youth, now 17, is Edward Allan, Midland, who will be present at the ceremony. It was recalled last night that the boy had climbed a tree and contacted the high tension line which passed through its branches and was knocked out. The four miners, all of whom had been active in first aid and mine rescue study at Consolidation Coal Company Mine No. 1, at Ocean, gave first aid and artificial respiration until he was revived.

The certificates were sent to the Bureau of Mines under date of April 16, 1946, and are to be presented Thursday at a special public ceremony. The delay in making the awards was due primarily to the war and the fact that the Joseph A. Holmes Association, which sponsors awards of this nature was inactive during the war years.

News Briefs

Calvin Mahaney and Donald Tharp, seniors at Fort Hill High School, will speak on "Juvenile Delinquency—Its Cause and Cure", at the Optimist Club meeting tonight at 6:15 at Central YMCA. Mahaney won first prize for his talk on the same subject in a recent contest sponsored by the Knights of Pythias here and Tharp won third prize.

A meeting of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce convention committee will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the organization's office in the Liberty Trust building.

Central and West Side Fire Companies answered a false alarm at the Kenneweg grocery building on Baltimore Street yesterday at 9:25 a. m. Firemen said an inspector checking Box 46 forgot to notify firemen he was checking the alarm.

West Side Fire Company was called to the Western Maryland Railway right of way near Luteman Drive yesterday at 1:45 p. m. Firemen said the railway was burning off the area and that someone saw the smoke and turned in an alarm.

The annual meeting of the congregation of First Presbyterian Church will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight, at which time annual reports will be distributed and other business acted upon. The meeting will be held in the Lecture Hall.

The monthly meeting of directors of the Chamber of Commerce will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

Carl T. Carns, 318 Dorn Avenue, secured a permit yesterday in the city engineer's office to build a four-room one-story house on Lot No. 25 and part of Lot No. 26 on Dorn Avenue. The building, which will measure 24 by 24 feet, will have a concrete block foundation and walls and a built-up roof. Work will be done by the owner, at an estimated cost of $1,500.

TO APPEAR IN PLAY—Seniors of Ursuline Academy, under the direction of Leo H. Ley, Sr., will present "Dear Daffodil", in SS. Peter and Paul Hall Friday evening. The play, a three-act comedy, is a happy combination of sparkling dialogue, amusing situations and familiar homey laughs. The title role will be played by Margaret Cosgrove. Playing opposite her will be Theodore Rowan as a selectee who decides to visit the girl who has written him such gay, clever letters, but picks the wrong sister when he arrives. Leo Stakem, as the adolescent son will contribute largely to the laughs as will also Miss Helen Hughes, as the daughter who after 25 years discards her "shrinking violet" characteristics and finds it pays dividends. Tickets may be purchased from Ursuline Academy girls. Those shown in the picture are (left to right seated) Hannah Drubeck, Margaret Cosgrove and Leo Stakem. (Standing left to right) Helen Hughes, Phillip Gellner, Ted Rowan, Dorothy Frame, Mary Luhrman, Richard Strong, Margaret Hott, Francis Ford and Bernard Beck.

County Tax Rate Drops Five Cents For New Year

Although expenses of the county will be greater in the new fiscal year which began April 1, county commissioners signed a levy list yesterday which reduces the tax rate five cents on each $100, over the previous rate. The new rate is $1.72. This rate, plus the state rate of 10 cents, makes the total state and county rate on real and personal property, $1.82 for each $100 of assessable valuation.

Based upon a total assessment of $96,500,000 as compared to $95,000,000 last year, the tax rate is expected to raise a total of $2,115,851.79, as compared to $1,945,863.86 last year.

The increased valuation was made possible, officials said, by the fact that there has been some new construction in the county, and also by the fact that in districts where the perpetual reassessment plan has been in operation, valuations were increased on practically every existing property.

Rate Lower—Taxes Higher

While these properties benefit by the five cent decrease in rate, tax bills received by the property owners, will be larger than last year, as a result of the increased valuation by assessors.

Increased cost of operation in every department made the levy of more than two million dollars necessary, Charles N. Wilkinson, Jr., president of the board stated. This is the first time in the history of the county that the operation of the county government in any single year has cost more than two million dollars, it was noted, but increased salaries and other costs, much of which is beyond the actual control of the commissioners, made the larger levy necessary.

The commissioners and their assistants worked at night for the past several weeks, and devoted almost full time plus overtime to the task of preparing the levy, so that the rate could be kept as low as possible.

Little Help From New Laws

Wilkinson said a study of new legislation designed to help the county financially was made, but it was found that much of these new funds would not be available until 1948, or the end of the county's present fiscal year. Therefore, he explained they could not be considered in the budget as receipts, because there is nothing definite to go by.

Provision is made in the new budget and levy for salary increases for practically all county employes for which the county commissioners are directly responsible.

A 20 percent increase was provided for employes now being paid $110 per month. Employees earning more than $110 and less than $150 per month are to receive a 15 percent increase. Those earning more than $150 per month are to be increased 10 percent, Wilkinson said.

Hourly Wages Raised

Hourly employees, all of whom are employed in the county roads department are granted 10 cents more per hour in addition to the 15 cents increase they were given about six months ago. This makes a total increase of $2 per day in six months for these workers.

In preparing the budget and levy, the commissioners had to consider increased costs of public schools, public welfare, roads, health department and practically all other departments. Wilkinson said, an idea of the advancing cost of government can be obtained when it is considered that 19 departments exceeded their budgets in the fiscal year just past, and these increased expenditures in every case were due to advancing prices generally.

Must Watch Budgets

Each department is being notified that they must keep within this year's appropriation, and are to be provided with periodic statements throughout the year, Wilkinson said.

The commissioners are bound by law to spend only up to the amount of the total appropriations and cannot, without legal action, spend more than this amount. Any balance at the end of the year, serves as a credit on the new year. There should be a balance at the end of this new fiscal year, commissioners believe, as there will be some new revenue not included in this levy. Some of this will come from clubs and other organizations not now on the tax books, but to be placed there, and some increased funds from licenses and state sources are anticipated, but not assured.

Balance From 1946

Carried over from the 1946 was an aggregate of unexpended balances amounting to $113,826.79. It was also estimated that the county will receive $47,000 from automobile taxes under the recently approved flat fee system, with vehicle owners paying for their tags and taxes at the same time.

Largest item in the levy is $891,473 for county public schools, as compared with $807,313 last year. For roads and bridges the sum of $244,141 was appropriated, an increase

War Vet, Back 10 Months, Submits 46 Acceptable Ideas To Celanese

Wins $200 First Prize In Awards

A war veteran, back on the job 10 months at the Celanese Corporation of America Amcelle plant, submitted 46 acceptable ideas during 1946 under the plant's suggestion system and thereby won the $200 first prize in special annual awards. This was revealed yesterday in an analysis of the operations of the system during the past year.

The special annual awards, paid in the form of United States Savings Bonds, are given to those employes who have had 12 or more suggestions adopted during the preceding year. Last year 13 employees qualified for awards under the system, and savings bonds totalling $700 were distributed recently to the winners by Fred T. Small, Celanese Corporation vice-president and local plant manager.

The returned veteran who captured first prize had previously received cash awards of $230 for the 46 acceptable ideas submitted. Consequently, the Suggestion System yielded him an average return of $43 a month for the entire period of his post-military service.

The runner-up for 1946, who was successful in having 32 suggestions adopted during the year, received $75 in bonds in addition to the $160 in cash awards paid him previously. Another employee, who had been a winner in the annual contests for the past five years, submitted 20 acceptable suggestions last year for which he received a $50 Savings Bond, plus $100 in cash previously awarded.

A review of the suggestion system in 1946 disclosed increase all along the line. During the year the total number of suggestions submitted by employees rose from 3,859 to 5,696, a net gain of 1,837, or 47 per cent. The number of adopted ideas increased from 712 to 913 during the same period. The company in 1946 paid out $5,465 under the System, a gain of $639 over the preceding year.

The highest single cash award paid out last year was $150, which was given to an employee for his suggestion resulting in an improved method of unloading bales of cotton linters and wood pulp.

In accordance with the established procedure of reviewing adopted suggestions at periodic intervals to determine whether additional awards are merited, two perviously adopted ideas were found to have earned additional payments of $125 each. Numerous other suggestions were found to deserve additional awards ranging from $25 to $100.

Since the suggestion system was inaugurated in 1941 a total of 60,473 suggestions have been received for consideration. Of that total 7,756 ideas were adopted and $46,916.50 paid out in awards.

Joseph W. Footer, Former Dye Works Official, Dies

Joseph W. Footer, 78, retired official of the old Footer Dye Works of Cumberland, died yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at his home, 120 Greene Street, after an illness of several months.

He was born in Leeds, England, October 29, 1868, a son of the late Thomas and Elizabeth Booth Footer.

Mr. Footer came to the United States with his parents when he was two years old and later became affiliated with him in the Dye works, one of the largest establishments of its kind in the world.

His father, who was a native of Yorkshire, England, worked in textile mills in that country for several years before coming here with his wife and two children, and was employed in textile mills in Philadelphia, Oswego Falls and Harpers Ferry before coming here where he first established a cleaning and dyeing business on North Liberty Street.

The business grew to include the Cumberland Dye Works plant which employed some 500 workers at its peak. Affiliated with him in the firm were his three sons, Harry Footer, secretary of the firm and president of the Peoples Bank of Cumberland, who died October 1, 1945; Joseph W. Footer, vice president and superintendent of the plant which halted operations about 12 years ago, and Edmund B. Footer, manager.

Mr. Footer was a member of Potomac Lodge No. 100, A. F. and A. M., and Scottish Rite bodies including the 32nd degree of the order.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Daisy U. Wolfe; two daughters, Mrs. Allan B. Spier and Mrs. John Brenneman, both of this city; a sister, Mrs. Clarence Spitznas, Washington, D. C., and a grandson, Dr. Andrew Allan Spier, Baltimore.

BIRTHS

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lee, 17 Fifth Street, Tuesday morning in Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Selders, Kitzmiller, announce the birth of a daughter Tuesday morning in Memorial Hospital.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Sampson Sions, Long, Tuesday morning in Memorial Hospital.

Church Leadership Training School Classes Will Begin Here April 21

The second annual Standard Leadership Training School of the Protestant churches of Cumberland and Allegany County, sponsored by the Cumberland Ministerial Association, will begin April 21 and continue each night through April 25. Sessions will be held from 7:30 to 9:40 p. m. in Kingsley Methodist Church.

Classes for all age groups and specialized classes for certain teachers of the church schools are planned. Six courses will be offered. They are: the Work of the Nursery Department, The Child's Approach to Religion (for Primary and Junior teachers), Understanding Youth (for teachers of Intermediates, Seniors and Young People), Christian Stewardship, How the Bible Came To Be, and Jesus and His Teachings.

The class for Nursery workers will be taught by Mrs. E. P. Fellenbaum, Frederick, who taught nursery and kindergarten children in Park School, Baltimore, for 12 years. She is accredited to teach a number of children's courses and has had special training in music at Peabody Institute and John Hopkins.

Arthur Of Book

Miss Mary Grace Martin, Baltimore, who has had past teaching experience, will teach the class for Primary and Junior workers. She holds degrees from Goucher College, Boston University and the Hartford School of Religious Education and has done further graduate study at Johns Hopkins University.

Miss Martin has written for papers and periodicals of several denominations, and is the author of a book, "Teaching Primary Children," and several pamphlets and units of study for children. She also has edited children's publications for half a dozen denominations and has been in great demand as a children's worker.

Miss Mabel Dawson, who will teach the course for youth workers, is the director of Christian Education of the Council of Churches of Maryland and Delaware. She has degrees from the School of Religious Education of Boston University and Hartford Seminary Foundation and has worked as director of religious education in churches in Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania and Michigan.

Ministers To Each

The course on Christian Stewardship will be taught by Rev. Arthur L. Hunter, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, this city. Rev. Ray L. Henthorne, pastor of First Christian Church, will teach the course on the Bible, and Rev. Carl H. Clapp, pastor of St. Mark's Evangelical and Reformed Church, will be the instructor of the course on Jesus and His Teachings.

Dean of the school will be Rev. W. Randolph Keefe, Jr., pastor of Grace Baptist Church, who last year was chairman of the general committee of the school. Rev. Arthur Scrogum, pastor of the Living Stone Church of the Brethren, heads the committee this year.

The school is set up to train teachers and workers in the local church and to provide general courses of help in Christian living. Specialized courses are for persons now working in those fields or who plan to work in a particular field. General courses aref or persons interested in a better knowledge of the subjects offered as well as for teachers in the youth and adult departments of the Bible School.

There is a slight registration fee for the school. Registration may be made through the minister or Bible School superintendent of individual's churches or on the opening night of the school.

Last year 142 persons registered for the school.

19 Civil Cases Are Set For Jury Trials Next Week

A record number of civil jury trials has been set for the April term of Circuit Court, now in session, but court attaches and attorneys believe some of the cases will be settled before coming to trial.

Beginning Monday morning, according to Robert Jackson clerk of court, the following cases are scheduled.

Monday — Civil Appeals, No. 20, Mrs. Delia Cook, vs. John Ravenscroft, No. 21, Ethel Bear, et al, vs. Arch Thompson.

Civil Trials, No. 39, Globe Indemnity Company vs. Queen City Neon Company. No. 41, Arthur Bond vs. James H. Miller. No. 47, I. Marguerite Twigg, vs. Glenn Morris, et al. No. 48, Richard B. Twigg, vs. Glenn Morris, et al. No. 51, William A. Miller, vs. Cumberland Motor Express Corporation. No. 63, Susie Yeider, vs. Charles Shryock.

Tuesday — Civil Trials, No. 64, Powell E. Robinson, vs. Charles L. Barnes. No. 67, Ruth House, vs. Richard W. Hunt, et al. No. 98, Camille V. Mayer, vs. Rosenbaum Bros. Inc. No. 102 Louis Shaffer, vs. The Queen City Candy Company. No. 113, Universal Machine Company, vs. Livingston Machine Company.

Wednesday—Civil Trials, No. 117, John Del Signore, (claimant), vs. Union Mining Company. No. 118, John Del Signore, (claimant), vs. Union Mining Company.

Thursday — Civil Trials, No. 135, Paul Wharton, vs. Marshall Beachy. No. 136, Paul Wharton, vs. Marshall Beachy. No. 137, Paul Wharton, vs. Marshall Beachy.

Friday—Civil trials, No. 46, Alfred C. Keller, vs. Walter B. Dennison.

The Grand Jury was still in session yesterday and will resume deliberations today. It appeared to court attaches that the Grand Jury may not complete its work until tomorrow and may even run into Friday, although a number of indictments have already been returned.

Local Tax Sale Suit In Court Of Appeals

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 15 (AP)—Patrick J. Pendergast asked the Court of Appeals today to overrule an Allegany County Court decision validating the tax sale of a property at 310 Grand Avenue Cumberland.

Attorneys Edward J. Ryan and William L. Wilson, Jr., arguing the appeal, said the Allegany County Commissioners had not fully complied with the law in that no guardian had been appointed for Pendergast at the time of the sale in 1937 when he was seven years old.

The property was sold by Tax Collector George G. Young for $180 to the county commissioners. Five months later it was sold to John M. Mchugh. Today the property is worth $2,250, attorneys for Pendergast contended.

After an attempt to redeem the property, the county commissioners intervened and won their case in the county court.

The commissioners said their case rested upon the legal sufficiency of the tax collector's action in delivering a copy of the tax bills to Pendergast's mother.

Horace P. Whitworth represented the county.

All Mines Except Two Reported Working

Only two mines in this area were reported not operating yesterday, as coal production reached a normal basis, with nearly all miners at work for the first time this month.

Following the mine union's week of "memorial holiday" three mines in this county were closed by federal order as "unsafe" and as a result miners at other pits also remained away until inspections had been completed.

The three officially closed mines include two not yet opened, Mine No. 10 at Eckhart and Mine No. 3 at Hoffman, both operations of the Consolidated Fuel Company of Frostburg; and the Waynesburg Mine of the Georges Creek Coal Company, situated at Lonaconing, which reopened Monday after federal inspectors declared it safe. Three other operations of the Consolidated Fuel Company have resumed operations, it was stated yesterday.

St. Patrick's Men To Meet Tonight

All the men of St. Patrick's Catholic Church Parish are invited to attend a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in the Social Center of the Parochial school. It will be the first meeting for men of the parish since the new pastor, Rev. Father J. Lawrence Kilkenny, assumed his duties here. The program is being sponsored by the Holy Name Society.

Vaccination Policy Not Yet Set Up

The Cumberland Health Department has received no instructions regarding advice to all Maryland residents to be vaccinated against smallpox, following an outbreak of the disease in New York City, according to Dr. Joseph P. Franklin, city and county health officer.

Dr. Robert H. Riley, director of the State Health Department, issued the advice yesterday, warning there is danger of the disease at any time of the year. Dr. Riley advised repetition of the vaccination when it does not first show a positive reaction.

Stating that he will contact Dr. Riley today for instructions as to what policy should be followed here, Dr. Franklin said the local Health Department is prepared to furnish free vaccine to Cumberland physicians on request.

Clarysville Man Gets 85 Days In Default Of Fines

Accused Of Assault, Property Destruction

A 28-year-old Clarysville man was committed to the county jail for 85 days by Magistrate Frank A. Perdew in Trial Magistrate's Court yesterday when he was unable to pay fines totaling $125 and costs of $6 on two charges of assault and one of malicious destruction of property.

The man, William Henry Booth, gave himself up at State Police headquarters in LaVale yesterday morning after officers had sought in vain to locate him following a disturbance at a Clarysville garage and store, owned by William Brown, between 8 and 8:30 p. m. Monday, according to State Trooper George E. Coddington who, with Cpl. C. A. Disney, made the arrest.

Booth entered pleas of guilty to assaulting Mrs. Rose Gaskill, and her husband, John Gaskill, Clarysville, and also pleaded guilty to malicious destruction of Brown's property.

Shot Off Lock

Magistrate Perdew fined Booth $50 and costs for assaulting Gaskill, $50 and costs on the destruction of property charge and $25 for assaulting Mrs. Gaskill. Booth was committed to jail for 30 days in default of each of the $50 fines and 25 days in default of the $25 fine.

State Police said Booth was put out of the store after assaulting Mr. and Mrs. Gaskill and the door was locked, but he went to his apartment over the store, obtained a shotgun and shot off the lock of the door. Inside again, Booth fired a shot through the ceiling, officers added.

Booth and a Mr. Smith were playing a pinball machine in the store when the latter's wife asked her husband to quit, saying she was leaving and taking their child, court attaches said, whereupon Booth allegedly made a remark about Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Gaskill, a relative of Mrs. Smith, intervened and Booth struck her, police reported, adding that Mrs. Gaskill said he struck her in the stomach.

Put Out By Bartender

When Gaskill stepped in to protect his wife, Booth struck him, according to officers. Booth said he hit Gaskill once, but Gaskill, who appeared in court with a badly bruised eye, said Booth struck him several times.

A bartender, Wilfred Tighe, put Booth out of the establishment and the door was locked. It was then that Booth obtained the shotgun and returned, officers said.

State Police were summoned, but Booth had departed when they arrived and they said they were unable to locate him Monday night.

In court yesterday, Booth testified that he drank only three bottles of beer and was not drunk, court attaches said, adding that Assistant State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher, who prosecuted, pointed out that evidence showed Booth had more beer to drink than that amount.

RECREATION GROUP TO MEET APPLICANT

Charles L. Taylor, Clarksburg, W. Va., will come here today to confer with a committee of the Cumberland Recreation Board regarding the position of recreation director, according to Clifton Van Roby, a board member.

Roby pointed out that Taylor, who assigns recreation directors for the National Recreation Association, may be able to furnish the local group with the names of possible applicants if he himself is not interested in the post.

At a board meeting Monday night, it was voted to begin work immediately on baseball and softball fields in need of repair. Mayor Thomas S. Post, after conferring with Street Commissioner Myers G. Light, said yesterday that scraping and rolling work on Taylor Field in the South End will begin this morning, with the hope of finishing the job this week.

Other fields to be put in condition by the city are Community Park, Stitcher Field (North End), Penn Avenue, Locust Grove and East Side.

John J. Long, board chairman, was named to attend a meeting of over 300 Maryland recreation officials May 2 in Baltimore, when a panel discussion will be held on "Problems in Expansion."

Oratorical Contest Scheduled Friday

Four students of local Catholic schools will compete in the Catholic Students Missionary Crusade oratorical contest Friday at 7:30 p. m. at Carroll Hall on the topic, "Missionary Priest, Brother and Sister, Promoters of World Peace."

The winner will receive a trip to Washington in May to speak at the diocesan finals. Contestants will be Theodore Rowan, LaSalle High School; Lois O'Donnell, St. Mary's High School; Colleen Dundon, Ursuline Academy; and Rosemary Savage, Girls Central Catholic High School.

Phone Strike Is Workers' Fight, Bixler States

Union States Views On Wage Increase

The current telephone strike "is not just a case of telephone employes against a large corporation but all people who have to work for a living against those who monopolize our way of life," Paul S. Bixler, strike lieutenant, said yesterday in a reply expressing thanks to Allegany County Teachers' Local 708, AFL, for their support.

Strike leaders at the Fort Cumberland Hotel yesterday received a wire signed by Louise Shaffer, secretary of the teachers local, stating that the teachers have gone on record as supporting the National Federation of Telephone Workers in their strike against telephone interests.

Bixler, expressing his appreciation for the action, told the teachers, "We believe the successful conclusion of this dispute will have an effect on all labor."

Issue Statement

Bixler and George Williams, strike captain for Western Maryland, released a statement last night in which they replied to company statements concerning wage increases.

"The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City contends that the employes do not need an increase in wages at this time," the statement said, "yet the employes have had no increase in wages since the first quarter of 1946.

"We can assume from this statement by the company that the cost of living has not increased to any appreciable extent in the past year, but every available source has proved beyond a doubt that the cost of living has gone up, not by 10 or 15 per cent, but by 55 per cent, according to the Dun and Bradstreet Food Price Index.

"The company just asked for and received a temporary rate increase and is now attempting to have this made permanent in order to offset the rapid growth of the cost of materials, building supplies, etc.

"But now the company claims there is no need for a wage increase for their employes at this time. It is true the employes do not have to buy telephone poles or build telephone exchanges, yet they do have to buy food, clothing and build homes to live in.

"The company realizes that telephone employes are skilled craftsmen and cannot be replaced easily, yet it requires eight years for telephone workers to reach the peak salary for their respective crafts. In practically every other business, employes reach the peak rate in from three to five years.

Heavy Operators' Vote

"In a great majority of businesses the skill and study required in the communications industry is not necessary, yet the telephone company frequently compares salaries of telephone workers with salaries of employes in other industries where skill is not required."

Meanwhile, Mrs. Margaret C. Weiss, head of the Maryland Telephone Traffic Union, advised Miss Wreatha Tichnell, MTTU vice chairman and state organizer, that operators voted 3,043 to 141 Monday to continue their policy of respecting picket lines which was adopted at the start of the telephone walkout. The operators have not been on strike but have refused to cross picket lines.

Burke Is Honored By YMCA Directors

The resolution is as follows:

"WHEREAS Edmund S. Burke has well served the Young Men's Christian Association of Cumberland as its president for the past year (1946), and has given unsparingly of his time, wisdom and energies in the management and conduct of the Association, and in the guidance and counselling of its staff, its members and this board, and

"WHEREAS through his efforts he has made a lasting contribution to the welfare of this Association and of this community, and has been of immeasurable assistance in broadening and developing the activities of this Association, and in building this Association toward its proper stature in the community,

"NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED . . . that the heartfelt appreciation of this Board for the splendid service he has rendered be expressed to the said Edmund S. Burke, and

"BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this meeting and that a copy of these presents be suitably embossed and presented to the said Edmund S. Burke in token of our gratitude and respect for his accomplishments, and of our esteem and affection for him."

In his activities report for the "Y" during March, Robert L. Sisson, general secretary, reported a total of 422 meetings attended by 12,490 persons, adding that 19,539 persons used the building's facilities during the month, including those attending meetings.

Temperance Meeting Scheduled Tonight

Rev. Robert R. Potter, Hollidaysburg, Pa., field representative of the Anti-Saloon League of America, will be the principal speaker at a union temperance meeting, sponsored by the South Cumberland Ministerial Association, which will be held at Bethany United Brethren Church, Race and Fourth Streets, at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Rev. Mr. Roberts, former mayor of Hollidaysburg, was engaged in Y. M. C. A. work for several years and later spent five years in newspaper work. As a field representative of the Anti-Saloon League, he has traveled extensively and has spoken to over 2,500 audiences.

The meeting is open to the public.

Well-Known Residents Express Their Views

Queried as to their opinions of the 13-point program prepared by Dr Joseph M. Ray to improve Cumberland's city government, six well known Cumberland residents, including two former mayors, declared yesterday that they were favorably impressed by the report.

While some said they had not yet had time to analyze the report compiled by Dr. Ray, head of the Department of Government and Politics, College of Business and Public Administration, University of Maryland, they stated that as a whole they believe his recommendations are sound.

This question was asked:

"What is your reaction or viewpoint concerning the recommendations of Dr. Ray to improve Cumberland's city government?"

Here are the answers:

George G. Young, president of the Crystal Laundry and one-time mayor of Cumberland, said he had read the report of Dr. Ray, and was very favorably impressed. "Dr. Ray is an expert on the subject of municipal government and his report shows a thorough study of the local situation," Mr. Young said. "I believe there is considerable merit in his numerous recommendations, and I particularly like the part where he stated that Cumberland is not too badly managed. There is always room for improvement and changing conditions bring need for changes. I didn't study the report with any idea of commenting upon it or completely analyzing it, but on the whole, I was very favorably impressed."

Hirsch Praises Report

Judge George Henderson, former mayor, said he had scanned through it but would not care to make any public statement until he read it more thoroughly.

George W. Legge, 841 Braddock Road, former mayor, said he read the report but had not analyzed it. "My impression of the report was very good. I know that Dr. Ray gave the local government and its over-all structure a very complete study, and feel there is merit in most of his recommendations. But to give a detailed statement of the report, I should prefer to study it step by step. In my opinion there is room for improvement in the local government and its duties and activities. It seems to me, as times change, conditions change and all government must keep pace with changing times and changed conditions."

Isaac Hirsch, father of Cumberland's commissioner form of government, stated, "I'm heartily in favor of it. Dr. Ray consulted with me several times and he has the same views as I. I would like to see the city adopt those views."

Harold W. Smith, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, declared, "The people I have talked with who have studied it feel that the report as a whole is sound and should be adopted. Incidentally, some of the provisions it suggests have been recommended in the past. It will take a lot of determined effort on the part of interested persons to put the provisions of the report into effect."

Charles F. Burke, Jr., city tax collector, said that Dr. Ray's recommendation for a general reconstitution of his department would be working toward the same end as the bill to place the tax collector under the merit system, introduced during the recent legislative session by Senator Robert B. Kimble.

Under that measure, which was defeated, the city tax collector would have become a salaried employe, replacing the present method of collecting taxes and liens whereby the collector is paid a commission for the work and employs part of the office staff.

Dr. Ray recommended that the city's taxes be collected as a regular municipal operation "at a considerable saving on the one per cent commission."

Burke pointed out, however, that this would call for a change in bond requirements of the post. He said legal opinion is that if the tax collector is placed on a salary basis, he would be bonded only for the amount of money handled as taxes were paid, and that the collector would not be made responsible for the collection of taxes.

Councilmen Studying Program

He said revision of the present system would be satisfactory if a salary were fixed in proportion to the responsibilities entailed, and if stringent provisions were included

County To Stay On Standard Time

Two of the three county commissioners indicated yesterday that they favor Daylight Savings Time for the entire county, to keep in step with the adoption of fast time by the city of Cumberland, but were unable to pass an order adopting it, due to lack of necessary legal authority.

Attorney to the board, Lewis M. Wilson advised the commissioners that there is no legislation which will permit the commissioners to adopt fast time, and that a bill which would have provided the necessary authority was killed in the recent session of state legislature.

Commissioners Charles N. Wilkinson, Jr., and William H. Lemmert indicated they believe the county should be on fast time if the city is, but Commissioner James Holmes declared that he would favor it only if it was state-wide.

County Engineer Albert S. Paye was authorized to investigate the possibility of purchasing a new crusher from the War Assets Administration, at a cost of $1,835.

James House asked that the Wilson Road, off the Breakneck Road, to Route 40, be repaired. The engineer was instructed to investigate.

A. D. Wolford requested that a road be opened into Homewood Addition.

The board renewed a lease under which the Veterans' Administration will continue to rent quarters in the County Office Building, Union Street.

Rubber Workers And Kelly Agree On Wage Increase

Union Committee Will Urge Acceptance

Officials of Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America, CIO, and the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company announced late yesterday afternoon that an agreement on the wage issue between the company and the union had been reached on the basis of an 11½ cents per hour general wage increase.

A. E. Johnson, union president, said the settlement is subject to ratification at a membership meeting to be held in the union hall Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The negotiating committee, he added, will recommend the acceptance of the offer.

Johnson urged all members of the Kelly local to attend the regular meeting Sunday when the wage negotiating committee will present for membership approval the agreement reached at yesterday's meeting.

Johnson said the agreement calls for an 11½ cent per hour general wage increase, retroactive to the pay period beginning nearest to Feb. 2.

The wage boost will be added to the earnings of the 2,500 odd hourly rated employes of the tire plant beginning April 21, he added.

The agreement will extend for four months, Johnson said, explaining that the union can then open negotiations on a general wage increase and intra-plant inequalities.

A company spokesman confirmed the terms of yesterday's agreement which he said closes all wage issues for four months from the date of ratification by the union and company. After four months, the wage issues may be opened upon 15 days notice.

The only issue at stake during the wage talks Monday and yesterday was the retroactive date.

Four Coal Miners Will Be Honored

To Get Awards For Saving Boy's Life

Four Allegany County coal miners will be honored at a special ceremony at Firemen's Hall, Midland, Thursday at 8 p. m., for their combined efforts in saving the life of a Midland youth four years ago.

The four miners, all of Midland, Edward Eisentrout, Nathaniel Dunn, Frank Robertson and Harry Robertson, are to be presented Joseph A. Holmes Association certificates of honor, by Dr. J. J. Rutledge of Baltimore, chief of the Maryland Bureau of Mines.

The certificates are being awarded for "skill in assisting the successful application of first aid and artificial respiration to a 14-year-old boy knocked unconscious by a 4,000-volt electric line at Midland on June 9, 1943."

The youth, now 17, is Edward Allan, Midland, who will be present at the ceremony. It was recalled last night that the boy had climbed a tree and contacted the high tension line which passed through its branches and was knocked out. The four miners, all of whom had been active in first aid and mine rescue study at Consolidation Coal Company Mine No. 1, at Ocean, gave first aid and artificial respiration until he was revived.

The certificates were sent to the Bureau of Mines under date of April 16, 1946, and are to be presented Thursday at a special public ceremony. The delay in making the awards was due primarily to the war and the fact that the Joseph A. Holmes Association, which sponsors awards of this nature was inactive during the war years.

News Briefs

Calvin Mahaney and Donald Tharp, seniors at Fort Hill High School, will speak on "Juvenile Delinquency—Its Cause and Cure", at the Optimist Club meeting tonight at 6:15 at Central YMCA. Mahaney won first prize for his talk on the same subject in a recent contest sponsored by the Knights of Pythias here and Tharp won third prize.

A meeting of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce convention committee will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the organization's office in the Liberty Trust building.

Central and West Side Fire Companies answered a false alarm at the Kenneweg grocery building on Baltimore Street yesterday at 9:25 a. m. Firemen said an inspector checking Box 46 forgot to notify firemen he was checking the alarm.

West Side Fire Company was called to the Western Maryland Railway right of way near Luteman Drive yesterday at 1:45 p. m. Firemen said the railway was burning off the area and that someone saw the smoke and turned in an alarm.

The annual meeting of the congregation of First Presbyterian Church will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight, at which time annual reports will be distributed and other business acted upon. The meeting will be held in the Lecture Hall.

The monthly meeting of directors of the Chamber of Commerce will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

Carl T. Carns, 318 Dorn Avenue, secured a permit yesterday in the city engineer's office to build a four-room one-story house on Lot No. 25 and part of Lot No. 26 on Dorn Avenue. The building, which will measure 24 by 24 feet, will have a concrete block foundation and walls and a built-up roof. Work will be done by the owner, at an estimated cost of $1,500.

TO APPEAR IN PLAY—Seniors of Ursuline Academy, under the direction of Leo H. Ley, Sr., will present "Dear Daffodil", in SS. Peter and Paul Hall Friday evening. The play, a three-act comedy, is a happy combination of sparkling dialogue, amusing situations and familiar homey laughs. The title role will be played by Margaret Cosgrove. Playing opposite her will be Theodore Rowan as a selectee who decides to visit the girl who has written him such gay, clever letters, but picks the wrong sister when he arrives. Leo Stakem, as the adolescent son will contribute largely to the laughs as will also Miss Helen Hughes, as the daughter who after 25 years discards her "shrinking violet" characteristics and finds it pays dividends. Tickets may be purchased from Ursuline Academy girls. Those shown in the picture are (left to right seated) Hannah Drubeck, Margaret Cosgrove and Leo Stakem. (Standing left to right) Helen Hughes, Phillip Gellner, Ted Rowan, Dorothy Frame, Mary Luhrman, Richard Strong, Margaret Hott, Francis Ford and Bernard Beck.

County Tax Rate Drops Five Cents For New Year

Although expenses of the county will be greater in the new fiscal year which began April 1, county commissioners signed a levy list yesterday which reduces the tax rate five cents on each $100, over the previous rate. The new rate is $1.72. This rate, plus the state rate of 10 cents, makes the total state and county rate on real and personal property, $1.82 for each $100 of assessable valuation.

Based upon a total assessment of $96,500,000 as compared to $95,000,000 last year, the tax rate is expected to raise a total of $2,115,851.79, as compared to $1,945,863.86 last year.

The increased valuation was made possible, officials said, by the fact that there has been some new construction in the county, and also by the fact that in districts where the perpetual reassessment plan has been in operation, valuations were increased on practically every existing property.

Rate Lower—Taxes Higher

While these properties benefit by the five cent decrease in rate, tax bills received by the property owners, will be larger than last year, as a result of the increased valuation by assessors.

Increased cost of operation in every department made the levy of more than two million dollars necessary, Charles N. Wilkinson, Jr., president of the board stated. This is the first time in the history of the county that the operation of the county government in any single year has cost more than two million dollars, it was noted, but increased salaries and other costs, much of which is beyond the actual control of the commissioners, made the larger levy necessary.

The commissioners and their assistants worked at night for the past several weeks, and devoted almost full time plus overtime to the task of preparing the levy, so that the rate could be kept as low as possible.

Little Help From New Laws

Wilkinson said a study of new legislation designed to help the county financially was made, but it was found that much of these new funds would not be available until 1948, or the end of the county's present fiscal year. Therefore, he explained they could not be considered in the budget as receipts, because there is nothing definite to go by.

Provision is made in the new budget and levy for salary increases for practically all county employes for which the county commissioners are directly responsible.

A 20 percent increase was provided for employes now being paid $110 per month. Employees earning more than $110 and less than $150 per month are to receive a 15 percent increase. Those earning more than $150 per month are to be increased 10 percent, Wilkinson said.

Hourly Wages Raised

Hourly employees, all of whom are employed in the county roads department are granted 10 cents more per hour in addition to the 15 cents increase they were given about six months ago. This makes a total increase of $2 per day in six months for these workers.

In preparing the budget and levy, the commissioners had to consider increased costs of public schools, public welfare, roads, health department and practically all other departments. Wilkinson said, an idea of the advancing cost of government can be obtained when it is considered that 19 departments exceeded their budgets in the fiscal year just past, and these increased expenditures in every case were due to advancing prices generally.

Must Watch Budgets

Each department is being notified that they must keep within this year's appropriation, and are to be provided with periodic statements throughout the year, Wilkinson said.

The commissioners are bound by law to spend only up to the amount of the total appropriations and cannot, without legal action, spend more than this amount. Any balance at the end of the year, serves as a credit on the new year. There should be a balance at the end of this new fiscal year, commissioners believe, as there will be some new revenue not included in this levy. Some of this will come from clubs and other organizations not now on the tax books, but to be placed there, and some increased funds from licenses and state sources are anticipated, but not assured.

Balance From 1946

Carried over from the 1946 was an aggregate of unexpended balances amounting to $113,826.79. It was also estimated that the county will receive $47,000 from automobile taxes under the recently approved flat fee system, with vehicle owners paying for their tags and taxes at the same time.

Largest item in the levy is $891,473 for county public schools, as compared with $807,313 last year. For roads and bridges the sum of $244,141 was appropriated, an increase

War Vet, Back 10 Months, Submits 46 Acceptable Ideas To Celanese

Wins $200 First Prize In Awards

A war veteran, back on the job 10 months at the Celanese Corporation of America Amcelle plant, submitted 46 acceptable ideas during 1946 under the plant's suggestion system and thereby won the $200 first prize in special annual awards. This was revealed yesterday in an analysis of the operations of the system during the past year.

The special annual awards, paid in the form of United States Savings Bonds, are given to those employes who have had 12 or more suggestions adopted during the preceding year. Last year 13 employees qualified for awards under the system, and savings bonds totalling $700 were distributed recently to the winners by Fred T. Small, Celanese Corporation vice-president and local plant manager.

The returned veteran who captured first prize had previously received cash awards of $230 for the 46 acceptable ideas submitted. Consequently, the Suggestion System yielded him an average return of $43 a month for the entire period of his post-military service.

The runner-up for 1946, who was successful in having 32 suggestions adopted during the year, received $75 in bonds in addition to the $160 in cash awards paid him previously. Another employee, who had been a winner in the annual contests for the past five years, submitted 20 acceptable suggestions last year for which he received a $50 Savings Bond, plus $100 in cash previously awarded.

A review of the suggestion system in 1946 disclosed increase all along the line. During the year the total number of suggestions submitted by employees rose from 3,859 to 5,696, a net gain of 1,837, or 47 per cent. The number of adopted ideas increased from 712 to 913 during the same period. The company in 1946 paid out $5,465 under the System, a gain of $639 over the preceding year.

The highest single cash award paid out last year was $150, which was given to an employee for his suggestion resulting in an improved method of unloading bales of cotton linters and wood pulp.

In accordance with the established procedure of reviewing adopted suggestions at periodic intervals to determine whether additional awards are merited, two perviously adopted ideas were found to have earned additional payments of $125 each. Numerous other suggestions were found to deserve additional awards ranging from $25 to $100.

Since the suggestion system was inaugurated in 1941 a total of 60,473 suggestions have been received for consideration. Of that total 7,756 ideas were adopted and $46,916.50 paid out in awards.

Joseph W. Footer, Former Dye Works Official, Dies

Joseph W. Footer, 78, retired official of the old Footer Dye Works of Cumberland, died yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at his home, 120 Greene Street, after an illness of several months.

He was born in Leeds, England, October 29, 1868, a son of the late Thomas and Elizabeth Booth Footer.

Mr. Footer came to the United States with his parents when he was two years old and later became affiliated with him in the Dye works, one of the largest establishments of its kind in the world.

His father, who was a native of Yorkshire, England, worked in textile mills in that country for several years before coming here with his wife and two children, and was employed in textile mills in Philadelphia, Oswego Falls and Harpers Ferry before coming here where he first established a cleaning and dyeing business on North Liberty Street.

The business grew to include the Cumberland Dye Works plant which employed some 500 workers at its peak. Affiliated with him in the firm were his three sons, Harry Footer, secretary of the firm and president of the Peoples Bank of Cumberland, who died October 1, 1945; Joseph W. Footer, vice president and superintendent of the plant which halted operations about 12 years ago, and Edmund B. Footer, manager.

Mr. Footer was a member of Potomac Lodge No. 100, A. F. and A. M., and Scottish Rite bodies including the 32nd degree of the order.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Daisy U. Wolfe; two daughters, Mrs. Allan B. Spier and Mrs. John Brenneman, both of this city; a sister, Mrs. Clarence Spitznas, Washington, D. C., and a grandson, Dr. Andrew Allan Spier, Baltimore.

BIRTHS

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lee, 17 Fifth Street, Tuesday morning in Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Selders, Kitzmiller, announce the birth of a daughter Tuesday morning in Memorial Hospital.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Sampson Sions, Long, Tuesday morning in Memorial Hospital.

Church Leadership Training School Classes Will Begin Here April 21

The second annual Standard Leadership Training School of the Protestant churches of Cumberland and Allegany County, sponsored by the Cumberland Ministerial Association, will begin April 21 and continue each night through April 25. Sessions will be held from 7:30 to 9:40 p. m. in Kingsley Methodist Church.

Classes for all age groups and specialized classes for certain teachers of the church schools are planned. Six courses will be offered. They are: the Work of the Nursery Department, The Child's Approach to Religion (for Primary and Junior teachers), Understanding Youth (for teachers of Intermediates, Seniors and Young People), Christian Stewardship, How the Bible Came To Be, and Jesus and His Teachings.

The class for Nursery workers will be taught by Mrs. E. P. Fellenbaum, Frederick, who taught nursery and kindergarten children in Park School, Baltimore, for 12 years. She is accredited to teach a number of children's courses and has had special training in music at Peabody Institute and John Hopkins.

Arthur Of Book

Miss Mary Grace Martin, Baltimore, who has had past teaching experience, will teach the class for Primary and Junior workers. She holds degrees from Goucher College, Boston University and the Hartford School of Religious Education and has done further graduate study at Johns Hopkins University.

Miss Martin has written for papers and periodicals of several denominations, and is the author of a book, "Teaching Primary Children," and several pamphlets and units of study for children. She also has edited children's publications for half a dozen denominations and has been in great demand as a children's worker.

Miss Mabel Dawson, who will teach the course for youth workers, is the director of Christian Education of the Council of Churches of Maryland and Delaware. She has degrees from the School of Religious Education of Boston University and Hartford Seminary Foundation and has worked as director of religious education in churches in Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania and Michigan.

Ministers To Each

The course on Christian Stewardship will be taught by Rev. Arthur L. Hunter, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, this city. Rev. Ray L. Henthorne, pastor of First Christian Church, will teach the course on the Bible, and Rev. Carl H. Clapp, pastor of St. Mark's Evangelical and Reformed Church, will be the instructor of the course on Jesus and His Teachings.

Dean of the school will be Rev. W. Randolph Keefe, Jr., pastor of Grace Baptist Church, who last year was chairman of the general committee of the school. Rev. Arthur Scrogum, pastor of the Living Stone Church of the Brethren, heads the committee this year.

The school is set up to train teachers and workers in the local church and to provide general courses of help in Christian living. Specialized courses are for persons now working in those fields or who plan to work in a particular field. General courses aref or persons interested in a better knowledge of the subjects offered as well as for teachers in the youth and adult departments of the Bible School.

There is a slight registration fee for the school. Registration may be made through the minister or Bible School superintendent of individual's churches or on the opening night of the school.

Last year 142 persons registered for the school.

19 Civil Cases Are Set For Jury Trials Next Week

A record number of civil jury trials has been set for the April term of Circuit Court, now in session, but court attaches and attorneys believe some of the cases will be settled before coming to trial.

Beginning Monday morning, according to Robert Jackson clerk of court, the following cases are scheduled.

Monday — Civil Appeals, No. 20, Mrs. Delia Cook, vs. John Ravenscroft. No. 21, Ethel Bear, et al, vs. Arch Thompson.

Civil Trials, No. 39, Globe Indemnity Company vs. Queen City Neon Company. No. 41, Arthur Bond vs. James H. Miller. No. 47, I. Marguerite Twigg, vs. Glenn Morris, et al. No. 48, Richard B. Twigg, vs. Glenn Morris, et al. No. 51, William A. Miller, vs. Cumberland Motor Express Corporation. No. 63, Susie Yeider, vs. Charles Shryock.

Tuesday — Civil Trials, No. 64, Powell E. Robinson, vs. Charles L. Barnes. No. 67, Ruth House, vs. Richard W. Hunt, et al. No. 98, Camille V. Mayer, vs. Rosenbaum Bros. Inc. No. 102 Louis Shaffer, vs. The Queen City Candy Company. No. 113, Universal Machine Company, vs. Livingston Machine Company.

Wednesday—Civil Trials, No. 117, John Del Signore, (claimant), vs. Union Mining Company. No. 118, John Del Signore, (claimant), vs. Union Mining Company.

Thursday — Civil Trials, No. 135, Paul Wharton, vs. Marshall Beachy. No. 136, Paul Wharton, vs. Marshall Beachy. No. 137, Paul Wharton, vs. Marshall Beachy.

Friday—Civil trials, No. 46, Alfred C. Keller, vs. Walter B. Dennison.

The Grand Jury was still in session yesterday and will resume deliberations today. It appeared to court attaches that the Grand Jury may not complete its work until tomorrow and may even run into Friday, although a number of indictments have already been returned.

Local Tax Sale Suit In Court Of Appeals

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 15 (AP)—Patrick J. Pendergast asked the Court of Appeals today to overrule an Allegany County Court decision validating the tax sale of a property at 310 Grand Avenue Cumberland.

Attorneys Edward J. Ryan and William L. Wilson, Jr., arguing the appeal, said the Allegany County Commissioners had not fully complied with the law in that no guardian had been appointed for Pendergast at the time of the sale in 1937 when he was seven years old.

The property was sold by Tax Collector George G. Young for $180 to the county commissioners. Five months later it was sold to John M. Mchugh. Today the property is worth $2,250, attorneys for Pendergast contended.

After an attempt to redeem the property, the county commissioners intervened and won their case in the county court.

The commissioners said their case rested upon the legal sufficiency of the tax collector's action in delivering a copy of the tax bills to Pendergast's mother.

Horace P. Whitworth represented the county.

All Mines Except Two Reported Working

Only two mines in this area were reported not operating yesterday, as coal production reached a normal basis, with nearly all miners at work for the first time this month.

Following the mine union's week of "memorial holiday" three mines in this county were closed by federal order as "unsafe" and as a result miners at other pits also remained away until inspections had been completed.

The three officially closed mines include two not yet opened, Mine No. 10 at Eckhart and Mine No. 3 at Hoffman, both operations of the Consolidated Fuel Company of Frostburg; and the Waynesburg Mine of the Georges Creek Coal Company, situated at Lonaconing, which reopened Monday after federal inspectors declared it safe. Three other operations of the Consolidated Fuel Company have resumed operations, it was stated yesterday.

St. Patrick's Men To Meet Tonight

All the men of St. Patrick's Catholic Church Parish are invited to attend a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in the Social Center of the Parochial school. It will be the first meeting for men of the parish since the new pastor, Rev. Father J. Lawrence Kilkenny, assumed his duties here. The program is being sponsored by the Holy Name Society.

Vaccination Policy Not Yet Set Up

The Cumberland Health Department has received no instructions regarding advice to all Maryland residents to be vaccinated against smallpox, following an outbreak of the disease in New York City, according to Dr. Joseph P. Franklin, city and county health officer.

Dr. Robert H. Riley, director of the State Health Department, issued the advice yesterday, warning there is danger of the disease at any time of the year. Dr. Riley advised repetition of the vaccination when it does not first show a positive reaction.

Stating that he will contact Dr. Riley today for instructions as to what policy should be followed here, Dr. Franklin said the local Health Department is prepared to furnish free vaccine to Cumberland physicians on request.

Clarysville Man Gets 85 Days In Default Of Fines

Accused Of Assault, Property Destruction

A 28-year-old Clarysville man was committed to the county jail for 85 days by Magistrate Frank A. Perdew in Trial Magistrate's Court yesterday when he was unable to pay fines totaling $125 and costs of $6 on two charges of assault and one of malicious destruction of property.

The man, William Henry Booth, gave himself up at State Police headquarters in LaVale yesterday morning after officers had sought in vain to locate him following a disturbance at a Clarysville garage and store, owned by William Brown, between 8 and 8:30 p. m. Monday, according to State Trooper George E. Coddington who, with Cpl. C. A. Disney, made the arrest.

Booth entered pleas of guilty to assaulting Mrs. Rose Gaskill, and her husband, John Gaskill, Clarysville, and also pleaded guilty to malicious destruction of Brown's property.

Shot Off Lock

Magistrate Perdew fined Booth $50 and costs for assaulting Gaskill, $50 and costs on the destruction of property charge and $25 for assaulting Mrs. Gaskill. Booth was committed to jail for 30 days in default of each of the $50 fines and 25 days in default of the $25 fine.

State Police said Booth was put out of the store after assaulting Mr. and Mrs. Gaskill and the door was locked, but he went to his apartment over the store, obtained a shotgun and shot off the lock of the door. Inside again, Booth fired a shot through the ceiling, officers added.

Booth and a Mr. Smith were playing a pinball machine in the store when the latter's wife asked her husband to quit, saying she was leaving and taking their child, court attaches said, whereupon Booth allegedly made a remark about Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Gaskill, a relative of Mrs. Smith, intervened and Booth struck her, police reported, adding that Mrs. Gaskill said he struck her in the stomach.

Put Out By Bartender

When Gaskill stepped in to protect his wife, Booth struck him, according to officers. Booth said he hit Gaskill once, but Gaskill, who appeared in court with a badly bruised eye, said Booth struck him several times.

A bartender, Wilfred Tighe, put Booth out of the establishment and the door was locked. It was then that Booth obtained the shotgun and returned, officers said.

State Police were summoned, but Booth had departed when they arrived and they said they were unable to locate him Monday night.

In court yesterday, Booth testified that he drank only three bottles of beer and was not drunk, court attaches said, adding that Assistant State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher, who prosecuted, pointed out that evidence showed Booth had more beer to drink than that amount.

RECREATION GROUP TO MEET APPLICANT

Charles L. Taylor, Clarksburg, W. Va., will come here today to confer with a committee of the Cumberland Recreation Board regarding the position of recreation director, according to Clifton Van Roby, a board member.

Roby pointed out that Taylor, who assigns recreation directors for the National Recreation Association, may be able to furnish the local group with the names of possible applicants if he himself is not interested in the post.

At a board meeting Monday night, it was voted to begin work immediately on baseball and softball fields in need of repair. Mayor Thomas S. Post, after conferring with Street Commissioner Myers G. Light, said yesterday that scraping and rolling work on Taylor Field in the South End will begin this morning, with the hope of finishing the job this week.

Other fields to be put in condition by the city are Community Park, Stitcher Field (North End), Penn Avenue, Locust Grove and East Side.

John J. Long, board chairman, was named to attend a meeting of over 300 Maryland recreation officials May 2 in Baltimore, when a panel discussion will be held on "Problems in Expansion."

Oratorical Contest Scheduled Friday

Four students of local Catholic schools will compete in the Catholic Students Missionary Crusade oratorical contest Friday at 7:30 p. m. at Carroll Hall on the topic, "Missionary Priest, Brother and Sister, Promoters of World Peace."

The winner will receive a trip to Washington in May to speak at the diocesan finals. Contestants will be Theodore Rowan, LaSalle High School; Lois O'Donnell, St. Mary's High School; Colleen Dundon, Ursuline Academy; and Rosemary Savage, Girls Central Catholic High School.

Phone Strike Is Workers' Fight, Bixler States

Union States Views On Wage Increase

The current telephone strike "is not just a case of telephone employes against a large corporation but all people who have to work for a living against those who monopolize our way of life," Paul S. Bixler, strike lieutenant, said yesterday in a reply expressing thanks to Allegany County Teachers' Local 708, AFL, for their support.

Strike leaders at the Fort Cumberland Hotel yesterday received a wire signed by Louise Shaffer, secretary of the teachers local, stating that the teachers have gone on record as supporting the National Federation of Telephone Workers in their strike against telephone interests.

Bixler, expressing his appreciation for the action, told the teachers, "We believe the successful conclusion of this dispute will have an effect on all labor."

Issue Statement

Bixler and George Williams, strike captain for Western Maryland, released a statement last night in which they replied to company statements concerning wage increases.

"The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City contends that the employes do not need an increase in wages at this time," the statement said, "yet the employes have had no increase in wages since the first quarter of 1946.

"We can assume from this statement by the company that the cost of living has not increased to any appreciable extent in the past year, but every available source has proved beyond a doubt that the cost of living has gone up, not by 10 or 15 per cent, but by 55 per cent, according to the Dun and Bradstreet Food Price Index.

"The company just asked for and received a temporary rate increase and is now attempting to have this made permanent in order to offset the rapid growth of the cost of materials, building supplies, etc.

"But now the company claims there is no need for a wage increase for their employes at this time. It is true the employes do not have to buy telephone poles or build telephone exchanges, yet they do have to buy food, clothing and build homes to live in.

"The company realizes that telephone employes are skilled craftsmen and cannot be replaced easily, yet it requires eight years for telephone workers to reach the peak salary for their respective crafts. In practically every other business, employes reach the peak rate in from three to five years.

Heavy Operators' Vote

"In a great majority of businesses the skill and study required in the communications industry is not necessary, yet the telephone company frequently compares salaries of telephone workers with salaries of employes in other industries where skill is not required."

Meanwhile, Mrs. Margaret C. Weiss, head of the Maryland Telephone Traffic Union, advised Miss Wreatha Tichnell, MTTU vice chairman and state organizer, that operators voted 3,043 to 141 Monday to continue their policy of respecting picket lines which was adopted at the start of the telephone walkout. The operators have not been on strike but have refused to cross picket lines.

Burke Is Honored By YMCA Directors

Edmund S. Burke, past president of the Central YMCA board of directors, was presented with a framed, embossed resolution of gratitude for his services at a meeting of the board last night. Adolph Blunk, president, made the presentation.

The resolution is as follows:

"WHEREAS Edmund S. Burke has well served the Young Men's Christian Association of Cumberland as its president for the past year (1946), and has given unsparingly of his time, wisdom and energies in the management and conduct of the Association, and in the guidance and counselling of its staff, its members and this board, and

"WHEREAS through his efforts he has made a lasting contribution to the welfare of this Association and of this community, and has been of immeasurable assistance in broadening and developing the activities of this Association, and in building this Association toward its proper stature in the community,

"NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED . . . that the heartfelt appreciation of this Board for the splendid service he has rendered be expressed to the said Edmund S. Burke, and

"BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this meeting and that a copy of these presents be suitably embossed and presented to the said Edmund S. Burke in token of our gratitude and respect for his accomplishments, and of our esteem and affection for him."

In his activities report for the "Y" during March, Robert L. Sisson, general secretary, reported a total of 422 meetings attended by 12,490 persons, adding that 19,539 persons used the building's facilities during the month, including those attending meetings.

Temperance Meeting Scheduled Tonight

Rev. Robert R. Potter, Hollidaysburg, Pa., field representative of the Anti-Saloon League of America, will be the principal speaker at a union temperance meeting, sponsored by the South Cumberland Ministerial Association, which will be held at Bethany United Brethren Church, Race and Fourth Streets, at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Rev. Mr. Roberts, former mayor of Hollidaysburg, was engaged in Y. M. C. A. work for several years and later spent five years in newspaper work. As a field representative of the Anti-Saloon League, he has traveled extensively and has spoken to over 2,500 audiences.

The meeting is open to the public.
